REFERENDUM SATURDAY FOR FOURTH HIGH SCHOOL

Editor's Column

STUART R. PADDOCK

Arlington Heights Community Concert organization has provided the northwest area with some fine programs the past 11 years. The ticket selling campaign for next season's concerts starts Monday. Those concerts have given the area a taste of cultural entertainment without the necessity of going to Chicago.

To us oldsters, it may not be as important as it was a few years ago but our young people will profit much by attending these concerts.

The price of the adult tickets for the season is only $8, which can be purchased next week at the Ink Spot, 17 W. Davis, Arlington Heights, or at Olsen's Music Store, Palatine.

Residents of Wheeling and Elk Grove Townships are asked to go to the polls Saturday afternoon and give their approval to a bond issue which will mean high school number four for School District No. 214.

Yes, the bond issue seems high, but it is the coming generation—the ones who will be attending it—who will be paying the taxes for the school that provided them with the education that is so necessary for every boy and girl today.

WE URGE A YES VOTE.

We will watch with interest the development of Arlington Heights Progress, Inc. No longer will Arlington Heights businessmen sit idly by and wait for industry to find us on the map. Its aim is to introduce the Arlington area to prospective light industry firms seeking a new location.

There are prospective sites hereabouts, but before the community can cash in on them, interested realty firms have a lot of work that must be done.

Through the operation of MAP, which provides the machinery that enables realtors to work in unison, Arlington Heights has the opportunity to secure desirable industry, which in turn will help reduce the present tax load.

MORE POWER TO THEM.

As we participated in the dedication of the new post office building Saturday at Rolling Meadows, our thoughts turned to the postal need of Arlington Heights which has outgrown two post offices in less than 10 years. (RM has outgrown its original quarters in five years.)

Arlington Heights needs a substation north of the tracks. It may take a bit of selling along political lines. Here is an opportunity for the Democrats to show their strength with the Kennedy Administration.

Rolling Meadows shopping interests want the new Route 53 to be at their front door. You cannot blame them for trying to change the "final" plans recently announced by the state highway department.

We admire the "get up and go" of that thriving shopping center. We notice that it divides with Palatine the exit sign at Route 53 cloverleaf on the Northwest Toll Road.

Evidently Arlington Heights, with a mere 32,000 population is off the toll road map.

As we scan the various departments featured every week in Paddock Publications we realize that "Suburban Living-Especially for Women" is outstanding. We have yet to see a weekly newspaper in Illinois that places so much emphasis on news in which women are interested.

We compliment its editor and her assistants who make it possible.

The northwest area has not been subjected to obnoxious odors from heavy industry. The reported sale of the unused GE Hotpoint plant in Elk Grove is alarming adjacent residence owners who fear its operation by Chicago Magnet Wire Corp. will create air pollution.

If there is reason for such fear the southern part of Arlington Heights should become equally alarmed. We do not want a Gary atmosphere around the northwest area which, until now, has kept out heavy industry.

$4.9 Million Issue Slated

(See Editorial Page: 'Why Yes Vote Is Needed.')

High School District 214 residents will vote Saturday on a $4.9 million bond issue to finance a high school to be constructed at the northwest corner of Hintz Road and Route 83, near Wheeling and Prospect Heights.

The polls, same as those used in the recent grade school elections, will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. No registration is necessary. A complete list of polling places appears on inside pages.

The proposed building would be ready for the 1963-64 school year, when the District's three schools (Arlington High, Prospect High, and Forest View High, which opens next fall) will be overcrowded.

THE BOND ISSUE, which has been endorsed by a Citizens' Lay Committee which investigated the board of education's plans, includes all equipment, supplies, and site development.

Board of Education President John Haas, Prospect Heights, this week stressed the urgency of Saturday's election. "We desperately need this building if we are to keep ahead of the growing numbers of teenagers in our District. A school district which falls behind seldom catches up, and never catches up without serious damage to the education of its students," he emphasized.

The Citizens' Committee's endorsement of the bond issue emphasized the school's low construction cost, $13 per square foot, which is more than $3 below the national average for high school construction.

IN COMPARISON, the committee pointed to neighboring Maine Township's proposal of a $6.8 million bond issue for a 2400 student school in the Des Plaines-Park Ridge area.

Along with the bond issue for a fourth school, Saturday's ballot will pose a separate question concerning the addition of two swimming pools, one at the new school and one at Forest View High. Forest View, located between Arlington Heights and Elk Grove, is still under construction.

Cost of the pools, which would be used by all the District's students as well as by the community's recreational and adult education programs, totals $700,000.

While definite boundary lines have not been set, the high school presumably would serve the Wheeling and Prospect Heights area, whose students presently attend Arlington and Prospect Highs.

PRESIDENT HAAS also emphasized the need for District-wide support of Saturday's proposal. "If we don't provide a building in the northern end of the District, students from all parts of the District will suffer. Even a one-year delay would leave us with more than 1,000 students without classrooms."

The proposal's effect on taxes, as calculated by the board of education and verified by the Citizens' Committee, indicates an average annual increase of from $3 to $4 per home.

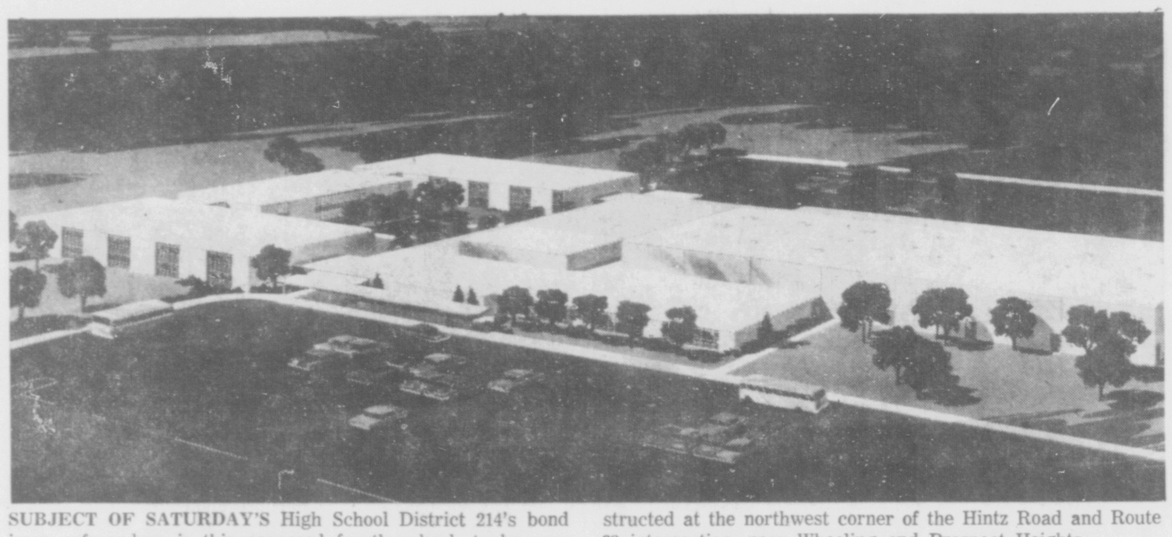
This is less than Forest View or Prospect buildings cost individual taxpayers, due to the increased total valuation in the District.

The proposed school includes the same facilities available at Arlington, Prospect, and the new Forest View High Schools and, in addition will have rooms for the District's educable mentally handicapped EMH and blind students.

IN A REPORT to the homeowners this week, the Citizens' Committee urged passage of the bond issue on the basis of urgent need and the building's "economic, realistic plan."

The 60-member committee consisted of residents from all the District's communities—Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Wheeling, Prospect Heights, Rolling Meadows, Elk Grove Village, Buffalo Grove, Feehanville, and a small section of Des Plaines.

Members were largely representatives of PTA groups and area civic organizations, while others were "interested citizens."



SUBJECT OF SATURDAY'S High School District 214's bond issue referendum is this proposed fourth school, to be constructed at the northwest corner of the Hintz Road and Route 83 intersection, near Wheeling and Prospect Heights.

Elementary Pupils

Boundary Lines Are Changed for Schools

Certain boundary lines for attendance at Arlington Heights elementary and junior high schools were changed Monday night by the District 25 school board, but in general, the boundaries for the 1962-63 school year will be the same as for the 1961-62 school year.

In kindergarten through fifth grade schools, boundary lines remain the same except in two instances.

Kindergarten and first grade students from the area bounded by the following streets will attend the new Patton School:

WILKE ROAD from Oakton Street to Palatine Road; east on Palatine Road to Kaspar Avenue; south on Kaspar Avenue to Lynnwood Avenue; east and south on Lynnwood Avenue to Thomas Street; west on Thomas Street to Kennicott Avenue; south on Kennicott Avenue to Oakton Street; and west on Oakton Street to Wilke Road.

Second through fifth grade students in the above area will continue to attend the same school as in the past.

The other change provides that kindergarten, first, second and third grade students from the area bounded as follows will attend Olive School:

From Oakton Street north on Ridge Avenue to Thomas Street; east on Thomas to State Road, north on State Road to Hintz Road; east on Hintz Road to Buffalo Grove Road; south on Buffalo Grove Road to Oakton Street; and west on Oakton Street to Ridge Avenue.

FOR JUNIOR high students the boundary will be the C.&N.W. railway tracks, except for present seventh graders at South Junior High School. All seventh graders currently attending South Junior High, whether from north of the tracks or not, will continue at South for eighth grade.

These students include those from the former District 24 and from the area north of the railway and west of Ridge Avenue.

With the above exceptions, junior high students living north of the tracks will attend Miner Junior High and those living south of the tracks will attend South Junior High.

THE LIFE of a harried executive many times involves doing two things at once, especially if he's a character in the zany comedy, "Solid Gold Cadillac," Here, W. R. Pownall and Alice Linde rehearse a scene from the play, which will be presented May 31, June 1 and 2 by Village Theatre in Arlington Heights.

Pupil Accident Insurance OK'd

A contract for voluntary accident insurance for students in Arlington Heights elementary school District 25 was approved Monday night by the school board. The board okayed renewal of its contract with the Beisler Insurance Agnecy of Arlington Heights, the low bidder.

Saturday

Final Day for Safety Check

THIS SATURDAY IS the final day of the free auto safety check being offered this spring in Arlington Heights, and a good day to make certain your car is in shape for Memorial Day travel or that summer vacation.

Last Saturday, some 350 cars went through the check at Arlington Fender & Body Shop, 910 W. Northwest Highway. The previous Saturday about 225 cars went through, for a total so far of 575 cars.

The safety check is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Safety Council. It has received tremendous public response.

There are no gimmicks, and motorists are under no pressure to have faulty equipment fixed unless they desire to do so for safety's sake. The check is officially endorsed by the village board, and the Arlington Heights Police Department.

All motorists are welcome to take advantage of the free safety check, whether they live in the village or not.

State Gas Tax Hike Is Hinted

(UPI) — An adviser to Gov. Otto Kerner said Wednesday an additional one-cent-a-gallon gas tax is a possibility in trying to ease the state's financial problems.

Dr. Norton Long, aide to the Governor, said the state must obtain more revenue or face the same kind of financial black eye that Michigan received because of fiscal problems.

He said the state's legislature must come up with more cash quickly or be faced with such problems as payless paydays and a shaky credit rating. Long said he favored a special session of the legislature to look into methods of raising more money, due to an impending deficit in the field of public aid.

Kerner has said he will not call a session unless leaders of both partices come up with a bipartisan agreement beforehand on how to raise the funds.

Winter Delayed Two New Schools

Construction on the new Olive and Patton elementary schools in Arlington Heights, and the Miner Junior High School and Administration Building additions, is behind schedule due to the severe winter, but the District 25 board of education Monday night expressed satisfaction at progress this spring, and the contractors assured the board construction would be completed by Aug. 15, and all buildings ready for occupancy this fall.

Membership Drive Planned by Chamber

Next week has been proclaimed Chamber of Commerce Week in Arlington Heights by Village President John G. Woods, in recognition of the Chamber's efforts to promote the prosperity of the village.

The week will be utilized by the Chamber to stage a concerted membership drive with a kickoff breakfast sheduled for Monday morning at Rapp's restaurant.

Will Schwantz, membership chairman, said three mailings will go out to some 300 industrial, commercial, retail, and professional firms, as well as to individuals and civic organizations.

THE MAILINGS, emphasizing the pride merchants and residents alike can take in making the village better and more prosperous, will be followed up personally by the membership committee members.

In his proclamation, Woods noted that "the prosperity of the village is dependent to a large degree on the success of local merchants" and that the Chamber "devotes its talents and energies to promoting" the success of these merchants.

He said the proclamation provides full recognition of the efforts of the Chamber, and pledges the village administration to complete cooperation in fostering and strengthening the Chamber.

Woods urged all eligible firms, organizations and individuals to support the Chamber and seriously consider joining it during Chamber of Commerce Week.

SCHWANTZ said the Chamber currently has about 100 active members, and hopes to at least double that during the membership drive. He said the Chamber hopes to get enough members to maintain a fund especially to assist merchants in retail promotions.

After the free kickoff breakfast Monday, the committee will pursue individual contacts with prospective members, then attend a progress report luncheon Thursday. Final reports will be made at a meeting Monday, May 28.

The membership committee is composed of Schwantz, Bob Heller, George Schneberger, Muriel Maitland, Paul Collins, Bill Coucher, Warren Lattof, Don Hartman, Herbert P. Kieskowski, the 11 chairmen of the other standing committees, and the board of directors.

Six Architects Eyed for School

Six architects still are under consideration for the new Thomas Junior High School to be constructed in Arlington Heights if the bond issue referendum is approved this fall. The District 25 school board expects to make its final decision on an architect at its June 11 meeting. The new junior high will be located at the southeast corner of Thomas and State.

Playground Set

Pursuant to approval of the school board last Monday night, steps will be taken to either remove or raze the old buildings on the Wilson School property on Palatine Road in Arlington Heights. The area will then be developed as a school playground.

Announce Competition

Tip Top Teen Sought By Arlington Rotary

A competition for the title "Tip Top Teen" in Arlington Heights will be conducted by the Rotary club of Arlington Heights, it was announced this week by Bruce Ladd, club youth chairman.

Nominations will close next Friday night, May 25.

Any individual, institution, club or organization in the village may nominate a young lady or man for the award. The youth should have demonstrated he or she has lived up to the Rotary motto, "Service Above Self," while making an outstanding contribution to the community.

THE TEENAGER chosen for the award will be presented an engraved wall plaque designating the recipient as the Tip Top Teen of Arlington Heights for 1962-63. In addition, the winner will receive a personal gift.

Nominations should be based on the following criteria:

1. How the nominee has lived up to the Rotary motto. This is most important.
2. The type and amount of worthwhile service rendered to the community by the nominee.
3. The nominee must live in Arlington Heights.
4. The nominee must be within the teen years of 13 through 19, inclusive.

LADD SAID it is important the information regarding the teenager and his activity be as detailed as possible.

This report will be submitted to a panel of impartial judges, whose names will be announced in the near future. The judges will not be told the names of the nominees, and will base their decision solely upon the records submitted for review.

Letters of nomination should be mailed to the Rotary Club of Arlington Heights, P.O. Box 402, Arlington Heights, or to Ladd, 217 W. Campbell.

Suburb Teacher to Study in France

Miss Joan Solon, daughter of Mrs. John J. Solon, of 614 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, and the late Mr. Solon, has been chosen to participate in the advanced National Defense Education Act Language Institute sponsored by Emory University in Besancon, France.

Miss Solon, who teaches French at Barrington High School, will leave New York City on June 20 for the nine-week summer institute. With her 80-member group, she will receive an orientation in Paris, tour Normandy, Brittany and the Loir Valley, until July 1.

MISS SOLON

DURING HER seven weeks of study at the University of Besancon, weekend trips will be made to Strasbourg and Avignon. After another stay in Paris, she and the group will return to New York via Air France on August 21.

This is a second-level institute designed to allow selected students to continue work begun in first-level N.D.E.A. language institutes held in the United States.

THE PROGRAM will include studies in linguistics, advanced phonetics, diction, and civilization, with emphasis on contemporary French culture.

A 1956 graduate of Arlington High School, Miss Solon was graduated from the College of Saint Teresa, Winona, Minn. She also has attended summer sessions at Laval University, Quebec, and at Purdue University.

To Aid Committeeman

Wheeling Township's GOP Staff Is Told

Thomas J. Houser, Republican Committeeman of Wheeling township, announced this week the formation and activation of a Township Advisory Staff.

"The 26-member advisory staff is a composite of Republican thinking throughout the township," Houser said. "Staff members are hard-working, creative thinkers who work for the party in all areas of Wheeling Township."

An advisory staff was promised and was a part of Houser's campaign for committeeman. He explains the staff as "an organization designed to enhance the activity of the Republican Party through the precinct captains."

PRECINCT CAPTAINS, while sovereign in their district, according to Houser, are responsible to the voters and answerable only to the committeeman. Houser points out that the advisory staff will have no authority over the precinct captains — "but the thinking of the advisory staff will be reflected in the activity of the precinct captains."

"The function of the Advisory Staff is to accumulate, digest, and create political ideas and ideals," Houser said.

Arlington Heights advisory staff members are Mrs. Walter Brown, 1146 N. Dryden Place; Robert H. Bukowski, 810 N. Dunton Ave.; George T. Coker Jr., 1611 N. Ridge Ave.; Rolland Franzen, 819 S. Beverly Ave.; Mrs. Leo Hunter, 940 N. Chestnut Ave.; Bruce C. Ladd Jr., 815 N. Dunton Ave.; Thomas W. Novotny, 210 N. Yale Ave.; and Joseph W. Tolson, 1830 N. Kennicott Ave.

BUFFALO GROVE members are Jack A. Lane, 111 St. Mary's Parkway; William Means, 260 Rosewood Lane; Gerald A. Moe, 337 Rosewood Lane; and James Pfister, 367 Bernard Ave. Staff member in Prospect Heights is Mrs. William Andrew, 309 Hillside Ave.

Mount Prospect members Walter Johnson, 100 N. Russell Ave.; Mrs. Frank Kolerus, 9 N. Pine St.; Miss Idyll Nipper, 218 N. Westgate; and Raymond H. Stevenson, 413 N. Forest Ave.

Village of Wheeling members are Mrs. William Heinrick, 1101 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights, treasurer; and Louis F. Brown, 413 S. Gibbons, Arlington Heights, public relations director.

Such an organization, according to Houser, is new in Cook County, and possibly in the State of Illinois. (ACM

Annexation of Lots Is Okayed

Approval was given by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday night to separate petitions to annex to the village lot 20, Lynwood (corner of Lynwood and Harvard), lot one, Arlington Knolls (corner of Maude and Highland), and lot 3, Arlington Knolls.

The village attorney was directed to prepare ordinances annexing the lots. (A

WHEELING — Interviews by the District 21 Board of Education of candidates to fill a vacancy on the board were conducted in an open public meeting after a long argument and a refusal of a member of the audience to leave the room so that a closed session could be conducted. The board, on a split vote, first agreed to have closed session, with two of the candidates taking opposite sides in the dispute, also. However, a reporter at the meeting refused to leave the room, and one of the board members refused to stay in the room if the meeting were closed to the public. Following a 40-minute stalemate, the board reconvened in an open session and conducted the interviews.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS — The subject of public school bus transportation for parochial school pupils continues to be a hotly contested subject. The District 23 Board of Education and the public is rather tensely awaiting the arrival of a legal opinion from state office of education.

PALATINE — An ordinance calling for a $97,224 special assessment street light improvement program in the business district was passed 4-1 Monday, putting into motion a project that is expected to brighten the central community by some 25 times. One business man is objecting that the action occurred without notification in the meeting agenda.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — This Saturday is the last of three during which motorists may get a free auto safety check at Arlington Fender & Body Shop on W. Northwest Highway. Some 350 cars went through the check last Saturday, and 225 the Saturday before. The safety check is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, V.F.W., and Safety Council. There are no "gimmicks" and motorists are under no obligation to get faulty equipment fixed. All motorists are welcome, village residents or not.

HOFFMAN ESTATES — Village attorney Frank Chino filed condemnation proceedings against Citizens Utilities Co. of Illinois, Suburban Utilities Co. and Citizens Utilities Co., a Delaware Corp., in Cook County Superior last Friday. But the legality of Hoffman Estates' annexations is still up in the air; Judge Thaddeus Adesko will hear the case on its merits June 4. He has postponed a decision on the annexations twice.

SCHAUMBURG — Weathersfield Utilities Co. case before the ICC has become a part of Hoffman Estates problem in the condemnation suit it filed against Citizens Utilities, et al.

ROLLING MEADOWS — An evaluation of responsibilities, objectives and accomplishments is the theme of a city-wide youth conference in Rolling Meadows this Saturday. John Troike, chairman of the Illinois Youth Commission, will be the keynote speaker. Juvenile officers will outline measures being taken to prevent juvenile problems, youth leaders will describe activities provided, and a panel of high school students will present their viewpoints during the all-day conference at Carl Sandburg School.

ELK GROVE — Village trustees will invite Chicago Magnet Wire Co. officials to a public hearing to discuss air pollution problems. The firm recently purchased the old General Electric Hotpoint and residents are concerned about excessive odor and smoke emmission.

High School District 214 voters will go to the polls Saturday. The issues, $4.9 million for a new high school, and $700,000 for two new swimming pools. (B8

Park Referendum Is Slated July 14

Saturday, July 14, was set last week as the date for a bond issue referendum for improvements in the Arlington Heights Park District.

The park board approved the date for holding a referendum on issuing $395,000 in bonds to finance improvements at Recreation and Pioneer Park, a fieldhouse in Hasbrook Park, and acquisition of land for a small neighborhood park.

SIGNIFICANTLY, the bond issue does not include money for construction of an artificial ice skating rink at Recreation Park.

This was the feature which the board believes caused a $570,000 referendum earlier this year to fail.

Details of the proposed improvements will be announced soon.

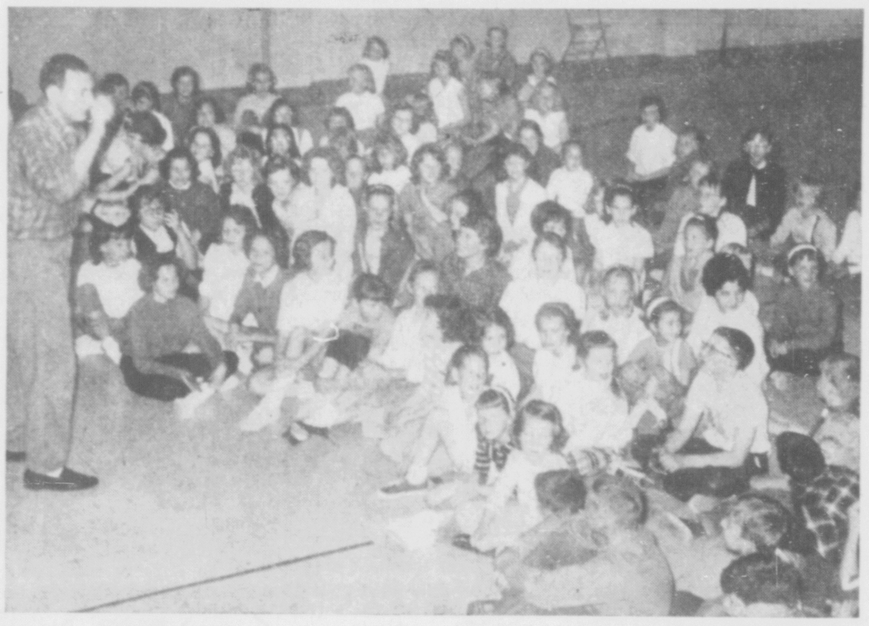
RELAYS OF VARIOUS KINDS are played in the Awana gym of the Mount Prospect Bible Church. The above wheelbarrow relay was played Saturday when the eight to 11 age groups held an indoor picnic in the gym. Rain cancelled the outdoor event originally planned. Awana club activities have provided recreation for as many as 500 children in a week's time. (B-8



AWANA YOUTH CLUB members played some quiet games during an indoor picnic Saturday in the Awana gym of the Mount Prospect Bible Church.

Church Serves the Needs of 'Youth'

by MELDA LYNN

A Mount Prospect church, with a membership of only 85, carries out one of the most complete recreational programs in the area for up to 500 young people each week.

While other churches attempt to minister mainly to their own members, those of the Mount Prospect Bible Church, 505 W. Golf Road, decided they wanted to serve the youth of the entire community as their main service project.

For this reason, they included a large, completely furnished "Awana Gymnasium" in their $150,000 church when it was built a little over two years ago.

The recreation program, carried out through the Awana clubs, draws youngsters from eight years of age through high school age, from all faiths and denominations. No attempt is made to teach any particular doctrine or to urge the youngsters to "join" the church.

THE "CHUMS," the eight to 11-year-old girls meet Monday nights and the "Pals," boys of the same age, meet Tuesday nights.

The "Pioneer" boys between 11 and high school age meet on Thursday nights. The "Guard" girls in the same age group meet on Friday nights, from 6:30 to 8:30.

The Awana High School group, which is made up of both boys and girls, meets from 7:30 until 10 p.m.

THE AWANA Clubs have two basic goals—to provide clean physical recreation in a Christian atmosphere and to provide spiritual and moral help for the youngsters through Bible study. However, the activities are mainly of a recreational type.

The word "Awana" comes from the Bible, the first four words of a sentence found in the 15th chapter of Timothy—Approved Workmen Are Not Ashamed.

Awana youth clubs are found in churches throughout the country. The local clubs participate with those of other areas in Olympic style contests and programs.

RECREATIONAL games and contests are held around the 30-foot Awana circle in the center of the gym. The games may take the form of relays or a tug-o-war—or special games in connection with a holiday theme. At least 100 different games are designed to be played around the circle.

Special events, such as a fair, Halloween party, picnic, Hobo night, backwards night, wiener roasts and other favorites of young people of all ages are held during the winter season.

High school members play basketball and other gym type games and have special events such as swimming, skating or tobogganing.

TO END the winter season, the clubs held a picnic last Saturday. The youngsters, who originally had planned to go by bus to a picnic spot, stayed and held an indoor picnic in the gym when the rain drenched their original plans.

During the summer months the Awana clubs from the Mount Prospect area go to the Awana Camp at Phantom Ranch, Mukwanago, Wis.

The clubs are run by volunteer members of the church. They are assisted and inspired by thei rpastor, The Rev. Michael Delamarian Jr. and his wife Eleanor.

Mrs. Delamarian and other volunteer adults recently made over a hundred banana splits for the Pioneer girls as part of the evening's fun.

THE EVENING starts with games and then recesses for a handicraft or workshop session, Bible study and a worship program. Refreshments are highlights of the evening.

The church supports the financial as well as the physical program. Awana members at times are asked to bring their own picnic supper or other special necessity and occasionally a small token to cover a portion of a special evening's program.

The Mount Prospect Bible Church, known as one of the Pentecostal or Baptist type denominations, actually began in Chicago, at 5725 W. Lawrence, as the Calvary Baptist Church. It was what is known as a "storefront church" and has in existence for over 20 years.

REV DELAMARIAN became the pastor five years ago. A number of the members of the Calvary Church moved into the northwest suburban area. They found they would rather move the church out from Chicago rather than disband.

Only three of the original families continue to live in Chicago and "commute" to Sunday services, weekly Wednesday prayer meetings and other events. While the church has retained most of its former members it has also gained some new, dedicated ones.

The congregation met in Busse School while the present church and gym were being built on the five acre Golf Road site.

MEMBERSHIP is not stressed in the church. However, even though the actual membership is small in relation to the number of people served, Sunday morning services are usually attended by as many as 200 adults.

They come from Mount Prospect and surrounding communities and from homes which profess and follow many faiths.

They have been attracted to the church through their belief in the work it is doing in the community via the Awana clubs and through gratitude for the true community youth center and spiritual life the church provides for their youngsters. (B8

'Father of Year' Is Sought by Council

Sons, daughters, and mothers of children residing in the Paddock Publications' area—does the "Dad" in your family deserve to be recognized as "Father of the Year" in 1962?

The Chicago Area Father's Day Council is conducting its fourth annual search for "Father of the Year" through a public service letter-writing contest among boys and girls attending the approximately 2,000 public, parochial, and private grade and high schools in Chicago and Cook County.

For the fourth consecutive year the school teachers, principals, and superintendents are helping the council single out this deserving family man.

IF YOU think Father, Stepfather, Foster Father, or Guardian of your family deserves this honor, here is your chance to do something about it.

During this period every elementary and secondary school pupil in the Chicago area is urged to nominate the male head of his family for the award by writing a letter of any length on, "Why My Dad Should Be 'Father of the Year.'"

In announcing the contest, Edward A. Grossfeld, executive director of the council, explained that "this is not a literary contest, there are no entry blanks, and Mom may be consulted for ideas and additional background information about Dad."

He noted that one or more school age children in the same family may nominate the same Dad, and the letter may be hand-written or printed, or typed.

THE LETTER SHOULD bear the name, age, grade, school, address, and telephone of the child; and name, age, address, telephone, and occupation of the Father.

It should then be turned in to the teacher or principal, who will select the school's best and submit it to the Chicago Area Father's Day council at 333 N. Michigan, Chicago 1, Ill.

Deadline is midnight, May 26.

The winning father of each school will receive a handsome certificate of recognition, which can be presented to Dad as a Father's Day surprise together with a copy of the letter in the contest. Father's Day is Sunday, June 17. (B8

OBVIOUSLY PLEASED, five-year-old Marcie Tibbetts looks over one of the plants to be offered at the annual plant sale this Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19, of the Arlington Heights Garden Club. The sale will be held both days at Railroad Park, Evergreen and Davis streets, Arlington Heights. Hours are noon to dark on Friday, and 9:30 a. m. to dark on Saturday. Coffee and cookies will be served continuously and a silver donation will be collected to be used to keep fresh flowers in the Arlington Heights public library throughout the year. With Marcie in the picture above is her mother, Mrs. Merrill Tibbets, of 2004 Forest, Palatine, chairman of the club's ways and means committee.

Let 2 Bids For County Road Work

The Cook County Board of Commissioners awarded bids for two highway widening projects in Wheeling Township.

A low bid of $623,151 was awarded to the Robert A. Black Co. for widening Euclid Avenue from 900 feet west of Rand Road to Wolf Road.

The Rock Road Construction Co. was the low bidder awarded the contract to widen Elmhurst Road and Foundry Road from 634 feet south of Foundry Road and 360 feet west to Elmhurst Road to 662 feet south on Palatine Road and 2,244 feet east on Elmhurst Road.

The Rock Road Construction firm's bid was for $760,316. (B8

Rep. Yates To Address Dem Women

REP. YATES

U. S. Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-9th, candidate for the United States Senate from Illinois, will be the guest speaker at the first luncheon meeting of the reorganized Democratic Women's Club of the 13th Congressional District.

The meeting will be held Friday, May 18, at the Villa Moderne in Highland Park, beginning at 12:30 p.m. Also addressing the group will be John A. Kennedy, Winnetka, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 13th District.

Mrs. Lou Hickman of Glenview is in charge of arrangements. Assisting her are Mrs. Walter Wells of Mount Prospect and Mrs. Donor M. Lion of Glenview. Mrs. Myron Greisdorf of Skokie, membership chairman, will be in charge of hostesses.

PRIOR TO the luncheon the club will hold a business meeting. Registration will open at 10 a.m. Mrs. Gene Saper of Wilmette, temporary chairman, will preside. A permanent slate of officers will be elected and plans for the Congressional campaign will be discussed.

Tickets for the luncheon may be obtained from Mrs. Maurice Perlin, Chicago (50th ward); Mrs. Otto Cesario, Skokie; Mrs. Harold Katz, Glencoe; Mrs. Warren Mallette, Buffalo Grove; and Mrs. Walter Wells, Mount Prospect. (B8

Teen Search Focus On Meadows Again

The Chicagoland talented teen search focused on Rolling Meadows again this week, as auditions are held for the northwest show which will be held in that city June 2.

Vocalists, dancers, a drummer, an accordianist, a saxophonist, a baton twirler and a pianist were among the teens from the northwest towns who auditioned at Kimball Hill school Monday night.

From Arlington Heights came Jim Hallett, Kay Jorgensen, Malanie Seyler and Leah Strehlow. Barbara Settle and Gary Weber represented Mt. Prospect, while Palatine sent Linda Bak, Kathy Philippe and Mary Ann Raustis.

Rolling Meadows contributed Keith Higgins and Elk Grove, Dave Klopfleisch. From as far away as Lake Zurich came Michael Hurley, Rene Dennison and Emily Kastning.

"Talented Teen Club members had better look to their laurels," commented a judge, noting that many of these teens were newcomers. "Competition is going to be terrific."

Final auditions for the June 2 show in Rolling Meadows shopping center will be held May 21 at the Kimball Hill school, Meadow Drive near the shopping center.

CONTESTANTS will be chosen from the entries during the three auditions, and top place winner in the district show will compete again at McCormick Place during the trade fair.

A number of awards are being offered for the June 2 event sponsored by the July Fourth celebration committee of the Rolling Meadows Chamber of Commerce.

For further information on the Talented Teen Club program, phone CL 3-2055.

Q. I've been told that a person should always keep looking at another person while talking with him. Is this true?

A. You are, of course, implying closer attention to what the other person is saying, if you look at him — but be sure this doesn't become a fixed and hypnotic stare that could make the other person feel uncomfortable.

Silverman To Address Deaf Meet

The final meeting for the 1961-62 year of Deaf Children Unlimited will be held at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, May 31 in Lyons School, corner of Lake St. and Waukegan Road, Glenview.

Study Closely Fire Policy

(This is another in a series of articles provided as a public service by the Illinois State Bar Association for Paddock Publications.)

The legal document which almost everyone has in his home or office but pays the least attention to is his fire insurance policy. When and if fire occurs, this lack of knowledge of the terms of the policy can lead to serious consequences.

At worst, there may be no recovery. At best there may be a long and expensive lawsuit.

Most of the legal problems which arise, however, can be avoided if you casually glance at your policy. Actually, every person in the state has the same basic fire insurance policy with the same conditions, because insurance companies are required by law to use a form of policy drawn up by the State Insurance Commissioner.

THIS INSURANCE policy covers the "interest" of the insured in the property. This means that if you are a tenant in common, or a mortgagee, or a life tenant, or a contract purchaser or seller, you are covered not to the full value of the property but only to the extent of your interest in the property, which may well be limited.

If other people besides yourself have an "interest" in the property, make sure before a loss occurs that their names are on the policy or that an endorsement has been added to the policy.

If you are unfortunate and suffer a loss, you must obey the conditions of the policy before the insurance company makes payment. If these conditions are not complied with, the insurance company is not required to make payment to you.

These conditions are fairly simple requirements and are found in every insurance policy in the state. More lawsuits occur because people do not follow these conditions than for any other reason.

AFTER A fire occurs, you must promptly notify your insurance company. When an insurance adjustor comes from your company, you must allow him to see the property. You must also make an inventory of the property for him, showing if you can the cost of the property or its value.

Within 60 days after the loss you must give a sworn statement, called a proof of loss, to your insurance company, stating to the best of your knowledge the cause of the fire and the amount of the loss and giving certain other information required by the policy.

Forms for the proof of loss will be furnished by your insurance agent if you request them.

THE INSURANCE companies have the right to examine you under oath about the loss. If you and the insurance company do not agree about the value of your destroyed or damaged property, then, under your policy, you can demand an appraisal. You are entitled to nominate an appraiser to represent you.

If for some reason a dispute arises with your insurance company which you cannot settle amicably, then you must bring a lawsuit against the insurance company within 12 months after the loss. Otherwise, your claim is barred and you will be unable to recover on your policy.

You will also be unable to recover if you wilfully burn your own property or attempt to defraud the insurance company in some other way, for example, by lying about the value of your destroyed property.

Also, if you allow your property to become rundown, or carry explosives onto your property, or allow your property to become vacant or unoccupied for a 60-day period, your insurance will be suspended.

REQUIREMENTS of an insurance policy are relatively simple and are mainly common sense. If you obey the requirements, your recovery will usually be easy.

Girls Under 21 Can Buy Beer–in Kegs

Girls Under 21 Can -2-30 ital (UPI)—Illinois girls under 21 may not be able to buy a drink at a bar legally but they can buy a key of beer without breaking the law, Atty. Gen. William C. Clark says.

The legislature last year decided to put females on the same footing as males and raised from 18 to 21 the age at which a female can patronize a saloon.

But through an oversight, Clark said, the legislature neglected to make it illegal for a female under 21 to buy beer at a brewery.

Clark made the disclosure at a lunch in Chicago last Friday of the Delta Theta Phi law fraternity. (A-14

SWINGIN' SQUARES

Tomorrow night is IT—the Finfrock Frolic, farewell dance for club caller Don Finfrock and his wife, Kay, who have been with the club since its beginning in January, 1953. Business demands will soon be taking Don's Friday nights, and he recently, reluctantly, tendered his resignation, effective at the end of the current season.

Tomorrow night's gala event in the Finfrocks' honor will be in the Recreation Park fieldhouse, 500 E. Miner, Arlington Heights. Club officers urge all Finfrock fans everywhere to join the membership in a swingin' salute to Don and Kay. Former students of their many beginners' classes, members of other clubs who dance to Don's calls, fellow callers and all old friends are invited to come in, chat with the ol' maestro and his lady, dance a bit and drink a toast to the honored couple.

There will be no usual guest fee. Instead, the club is planning a "treasurer chest" for donations from all well-wishers as a going-away gift for Don and Kay.

Ed Hempel, Wally Paulsen, Harry Ryan, "Tib" and Nina Tibbetts and other callers will give Don a hand with the evening's chores. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 11 p.m. with refreshments served continuously. At 11, there will be a social hour with coffee and cake.

The Swingin' Squares annual potluck dance will be held Sunday, June 3, at 5:30 p.m. in the Recreation Park fieldhouse. Members and guests who are planning to attend are reminded to sign the food list and insure a well-balanced menu.

GLENVIEW SQUARES

The Glenview Square Dance Club announces its annual Jamborette, Sunday, May 27, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Glenview Junior High School, 2701 Central Road. Callers Ed Hempel, Art Matthews, Bert Rietz, Jim Stewart and Dale Wagner will keep things swingin', and between squares there'll be round dancing, entertainment and prizes.

There can be only a limited number of squares, and club officers urge persons wishing to attend to get their tickets now. Tickets or further information may be obtained from the Bob Andersons, 300 Washington, Glenview, PA 4-0521.

BUCKS AND DOES

Earl Thompson, Racine, Wis., will be the Bucks and Does guest caller Saturday, May 26, for the club's last regularly scheduled dance of the season. Everyone's invited to dance the season out at the Higgins School, Higgins and Touhy, in Elk Grove. Earl will square 'em up at 8:00.

YMCA Wind-Up Building Drive Kicks Off Sunday

Sunday afternoon is the kick-off of an effort to raise $120-000 to pay off the building mortgage of Northwest Suburban YMCA. The 512 volunteer workers and their families have been invited to gather at the 'Y' in the afternoon, the workers meeting at 2 p.m. to receive their prospect lists and briefing and their children invited for an afternoon of swimming, skating and pony rides.

A special invitation has also been extended to every contributor and his family to enjoy the 'Y' facilities on this kick-off day. Any contributions made to the drive by Sunday afternoon entitle the family to join the activities.

WORKERS will be divided into four divisions, all under chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. William Busse of Mount Prospect.

The Mount Prospect division is headed by the Charles Kimballs and Gilbert Liebenows; Arlington Heights division by the Stephen Jurcos and Robert Bukowskis. Des Plaines is headed by the Ian Falconers and Ralph Martins.

THE FOURTH division is divided into 10 areas, and prospects in these areas will be called by telephone. Heading the callers and the area which they will contact are as follows: Mrs. Hazel Hermes and Mrs. Lois Rasmussen, Palatine; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Decker, Prospect Heights; Mr. and Mrs. James Norman, Elk Grove; Mrs. Charles McClellan, Wheeling; Mrs. Claire Sargol, Skokie-Glenview; Mr. and Mrs. Art Edmunds, northwest of Palatine; Mrs. Robert Nash, southwest; Mrs. Irene Stier, north; Paul Dougherty, Rolling Meadows, Niles and Morton Grove.

The goal for each division including the miscellaneous area will be $30,000, with a three-week period set for the campaign.

IN ORGANIZING the drive, Mr. and Mrs. Busse have set a goal of 4,000 families to be contacted. Although no one is being told what to give, average pledges of $20 to $50 per year for a three-year period would add up to reach the $120,-000 goal. All amounts, of course, will be appreciated by the YMCA campaign workers.

To Discuss Injury Suit Expediting

(UPI)—Cook County judges, from both federal and state courts, will meet in Chicago today (Thursday) to discuss a program to speed up the handling of personal injury suits.

The program was instituted in federal courts here in 1959 and in the Illinois courts last year. Under the program, judges call on the Illinois State Medical Society to provide an impartial medical expert to examine those filing such suits and report his findings to the court.

Past experiences and results of the program to date will be discussed at the meeting. (B8

Muslim Head Raps Probe Suggestion

(UPI)—A high official of the Black Muslims, a semi-secret black-supremacy cult, has branded demands for an investigation of the group's school in Chicago as "a ridiculous attempt to intimidate blacks."

The Muslim-operated elementary school, called the University of Islam, drew comment from county and state educational officials following a collision last week between a Chicago Transit Authority bus and a bus operated by the Black Muslims.

IT WAS discovered the school had been listed as "approved" on county records before being dropped from the list in 1959 for refusing to allow inspectors to determine if the school's facilities met state standards and denying them access to the school's curiculum.

John Ali, national secretary of Muhammed's Mosques of Islam, said "the current hysterical clamor is purely destructive." He said there is an attempt to intimidate Negroes into "surrendering their right to train and educate their own children in keeping with the most advanced scientific findings and with a true knowledge of their own history and heritage."

INSTEAD OF investigating the Black Muslim school, Ali called for an investigation of "the vicious, anti-black and white supremacy teachings and practices in the public school system of Chicago."

He said there is "shock and fear" by some elements of society that "they cannot control" every step of the Negro's education. (B8

Mother-Child Relationship Lecture Set

Dr. George Pollock, training and supervisory psychoanalyst, Institute for Psychoanalysis, will speak at Forest Hospital in Des Plaines, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 23, on neurosis and the biological relationship between mother and child.

Dr. Pollock, who also is assistant dean of education at the Institute, will present the eighth scientific lecture presented monthly as a professional service by the suburban psychiatric treatment center. The present series, entitled Special Treatment Situations, will be completed in June, 1962.

Dr. Pollock's talk is entitled "On Symbiosis and Symbiotic Neurosis." Chicago-area psychiatrists, including the 58 attending staff psychiatrists at Forest Hospital, are expected to attend.

DR. POLLACK is clinical associate professor of psychiatry, University of Illinois. He has published 30 papers on a variety of subjects pertaining to mental illness.

Dr. Louis B. Shapiro, staff member of the Institutue for Psychoanalysis, will be the formal discussant. Dr. D. Louis Steinberg, Elgin, will be the lecture chairman. (B8

Magazine Article Mentions DAMP

The biggest fight in the history of the Great Lakes water controversy is the one touched off by Chicago's plea to take an additional 650,000,000 gallons a day from Lake Michigan, according to the current (May 19) issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

In an article entitled "The Great Chicago Water Steal," former Chicagoan Bernard Asbell reports that Federal Judge Albert B. Maris of Philadelphia, assigned by the Supreme Court to hear every qualified voice in the argument and to hand down a fair solution, has listened to testimony filling fourteen volumes on the case and that it may be another two years before his work is done.

THE POST article also makes mention of the Chicago suburbs of Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Palatine having organized a commission called DAMP—with the goal of taking water from the lake.

Gov. Kerner, according to the Post article, believes that the solution to this interminable controversy rests on an idea developed by an Ontario mining engineer who suggests tapping a Canadian river that flows into Hudson Bay. Its flow would be reversed and channeled into Lake Huron, thereby swelling the Great Lakes by 13,000,000,-000 gallons of water a day—more than six times the quantity of the "Chicago water steal."

Village Host to Conference Meet

The Village of Mount Prospect was to host the May 16 meeting of the Northwest Municipal Conference in its recently remodeled Village hall at 112 East Northwest Highway.

The meeting was to include a presentation of the Arlington Heights Topographic quadrangle flooding hazard map by the Northeastern Metropolitan Area Planning Commission. A committee established to draft a fire aid agreement was to give a report. (B8

Juniors Are Nominated For Awards

Four Arlington High School juniors have been nominated for the annual Achievement Awards program, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

The students meriting this nomination were Richard Hawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hawley of 45 S. Ridge; Jay Lemke, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Lemke of 3729 Oriole Lane; Barbara Gutzman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Gutzman 344 Windsor; and Jan Ferry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ferry of 637 S. Bristol.

For the fifth year the NCTE is conducting the Awards program throughout the nation to grant recognition to outstanding high school seniors for excellence in English.

NCTE WILL announce the winners in December, 1962, and will send their names to every U.S. college and university with a recommendation that these students be considered for scholarship assistance.

According to James R. Squire, executive secretary of NCTE, the recognition extended to superior students of English has encouraged in them continued effort in the area of English studies. (ACM

'Realtor Week' Is Observed in Area

Realtors of the northwest suburban area will begin celebration Sunday of national Realtor Week. (May 20-26), which will run through Saturday.

Under the motto "Homestead and Home—Foundation of the Nation," they will join with some 70,000 other Realtors across the nation, seeking through this means to emphasize their services and to make clearer the distinction between a Realtor and others in the real estate business.

Realtors are members of local constituent boards of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, one of the largest trade and professional organizations in the country.

"A REALTOR," Arthur C. Kelter, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors said, "subscribes to a well-established code of professional ethics enforced through the local board. It obligates us to keep the interests of both buyer and seller uppermost in mind during a transaction."

The term Realtor was adopted by NAREB in 1916, and its exclusive right to the ownership of the term for use by its members only has been established by numerous court cases over the years. It is registered as a collective mark (similar to a trademark) in the United States Patent Office.

"Our membership has grown rapidly in the past few years," Kelter said, "from 182 in 1958 to 467 at present." Membership in NAREB, he said, jumped from 68,918 at the end of 1960 to 70,692 by the end of 1961.

THE PARENT organization, founded in 1908 in Minneapolis, Minn., has offices in Chicago and Washington, D.C.

Realtors are kept aware of changes in real estate law, mortgage rates, buying trends, and innumerable other business factors, through publications of the Association's professional staff which maintains close contact with developments throughout the country. The Northwest Suburban Board joined NAREB in 1944. (B-8

Approve Bond Sale To Acquire Woods

The Cook County Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved sale of $2 million in real estate acquistion bonds which will be used by the Forest Preserve District to acquire new property.

The bonds were sold to the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, which headed a syndicate of four firms. The bonds were sold at an interest rate of 2.518 per cent, and will pay a premium of $10,640.

THE FOREST Preserve presently has 2,000 acres under condemnation, and has 48,000 acres under its jurisdiction. A 1961 session of the legislature passed a provision to allow the district to expand to 55,000 acres.

Included in district plans are two expansions in the northwest suburban area. The district is acquiring 1,700 acres in an area bounded by Roselle, Central, Freeman and Golf Roads, and an additional 600 acres located in the vicinity of Shoefactory Road on the north, Algonquin Road on the south, Sutton Road on the east and the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern Railroad on the west. The tracts are situated in Palatine Township. (B8

Clerks Fail To Identify A Suspect

Clerks in two Arlington Heights women's wear stores who have been victims of a gunman specializing in such shops were taken to Niles last week by Sgt. Maurice English to see if they could identify a suspect.

Neither Barbara J. Thorsen, of 661 E. Clarendon, nor Adrena Murphy, 1402 W. Grove, could make positive identification.

MISS THORSEN was working in the Ruth Miller shop in Arlington Market when it was robbed, and Mrs. Murphy in the Maison de Romayne when it was robbed.

Several suspects have been viewed by various victims during the past weeks, but no one has been able to make a positive identification. (A

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Terrace travel news includes the details of Bob and Rae Martin's trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico and Jamaica. The Martins, 1614 W. Oakton, flew to the islands on a combination business and pleasure trip, as Rae enjoyed sightseeing while Bob attended convention meetings for Continental Casualty Co. Among the highlights of their stay at the Caribe Hilton in San Juan was the trip to the top of El Diablo, a mountain that boasts a yunke, or rain forest, where daily tropical rains are responsible for dense, lush vegetation, and where they saw a true "home-grown" swimming pool, fed by natural springs. Other sightseeing highlights included the races at El Comandante, and El Morro, the famed 15th century Spanish fort.

After landing in Kingston, Jamaica, and doing some shopping at the straw market, they proceeded on a two and a half hour drive through the mountains, where a combination of livestock and foot-travelers on the hairpin mountain roads produced a somewhat unusual and thrilling ride. After arriving at Ocho Rios, for the last week of their trip, the Martins managed to do some water skiing, golfing and some deep sea fishing. Rae achieved the highpoint of her entire stay when she caught a four-and a half-foot dolphin.

JACK AND Betty Sorensen, 1406 N. Chicago, and the children, Nancy and Richard, enjoyed a "bonus" this weekend, when Jack's mother, Mrs. Louise Sorensen, arrived for a visit from Detroit.

Mother's Day was chosen as the christening date for Daniel Anthony, newest addition to the family of Dieter and Mary Louise Burkhardt, 1507 Clarendon. The ceremonies took place at St. Thomas of Villanova in Palatine, with Father McEnroe officiating. Guests at the gathering following the rites included Danny's sisters and brothers, Mary Jo, Suzanne, Chris, Peter and Curt, godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Reif of Park Ridge, and his grandmother, Mrs. Mae Mammoser of Chicago.

Mother's Day also served as an occasion to celebrate the sixth birthday of Kay, daughter of Hazel and Taft Lowell, 1246 N. Yale. Guests for supper and birthday cake were her sister and brother, Claire and Reid, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lowell and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Idle, and her great aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. Larson, all from Chicago.

AFTER PAT Catsakis, 1232 N. Race, and her sons, Fritz and Daniel, returned from spending a week with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hering in Southern Illinois, she and husband Bill hosted a dinner party for her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Grace of Arlington High School, will be retiring shortly. To round out the weekend, the Catsakis family hosted a dinner on Sunday at the Chalet Restaurant for Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Catsakis Sr. of Franklin Park.

A scavenger hunt to find articles ranging from a 1913 Lincoln penny to a turkey wishbone, occupied the guests and Joanie Kohler at her ninth birthday party held last week. Guests, who also enjoyed toasting marshmallows and a barbecue supper, included Shirley Rozdalovsky, Karen Garland, Jo Anne Whipple, Linda Cech, Nancy Sorensen, Linda Brown, Nancy Marzec, Kathy Koster, Kathy Gustke, Gail Heinz and Martha Haeger.

Chris, son of Maynard and Jean Beal, 1440 N. Race, celebrated his fifth birthday last Friday with a luncheon party for nursery school friends, Ricky Sievert, Steven Snap, Bobby Tomaso, his cousin, Gail Tapp, and his sister, Nancy.

SUNDAY afternoon the Beals visited Maynard's folks, Rev. and Mrs. Ellery Beal in De Kalb, to celebrate Mother's Day.

Hugh and Phyllis Bredenbeck, 1706 W. Oakton, enjoyed a busy week. Starting with a birthday party for Billy, who was one, last Tuesday, when he "co-celebrated" with his neighbor, Mrs. Rae Martin. Guests included Billy's brother, Fritz, Rae's children, Sara and Brian, in addition to Mrs. Polly Millhouser and Mrs. Vivian Meyer. On Friday evening the Bredenbecks hosted a dinner party for Phyllis' sister, Karen Johnson, and three girl friends who were in Chicago on a senior trip from their high school in Lindstrom, Minn.

The following day Hugh and Phyllis welcomed more Lindstrom guests, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Johnson, her brother, Bill, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schoberg from St. Paul, who were weekend house guests. Sunday Billy was again the "star" of the festivities, when he was baptized in Southminster Presbyterian Church in Arlington Heights by Dr. W. Jones. Following the ceremonies, the Bredenbecks held a brunch. Attending in addition to their house guests were Billy's paternal great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gaden of Hammond.

Last Saturday Jo and Les Rozdalovsky, 1321 N. Race, and daughters, Shirley and Mary Jo, drove to Milwaukee to celebrate Mother's Day with Jo's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph La Presti.

TWO CELEBRATIONS were held last week to celebrate the sixth birthday of April, daughter of John and Jeanine Kearney, 1413 N. Wilke Road Thursday she was feted at a family dinner that included her sister and brother, Jeanine and Todd. Saturday she joined playmates Kathy, Dawn and Bobby Amann, Ralph Workman, Carl Koepl, Rosemary Willie, Tammy Hulka and Susan Parks at an afternoon party, where they all enjoyed the special heart-shaped cake.

When Patrick, son of Evelyn and Walter Bluhms, 1235 N. Wilke, celebrated his 11th birthday last Friday evening, he was joined by his brother, Gregory, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Myszker of Westgate. (A

Eastwood Events

With the ocean at their front door and Lake Mayan at their back door, the William Stuebers vacation abode at Fort Lauderdale provided them a perfect setting for a perfect Florida holiday. Even the weather cooperated, raining at night and never going above 92 degrees in the daytime. The youngsters, Kurt and Karen, combed the beaches for seashells and returned home with quite a collection. The Stuebers rented a car and took in the land sights at Pompano Beach and Miami, and for the water sights they rented a boat and toured the coast line and ocean waterways. Jetting both ways, they returned home to 414 N. Beverly a week ago Monday.

Mrs. Charles Cassidy of 419 N. Hickory, is convalescing at home after leg surgery in Lake Forest Hospital. Best wishes are offered to her for a fast recovery.

Also back home after an extended hospital stay is Lee Watson of E. Euclid Ave. Mr. Watson was in Northwest Community. Mrs. Watson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Atkinson, came from Tuscaloosa to be with Mrs. Watson during this critical time. They returned to Oklahoma last Sunday. All his neighbors extend their wishes to Lee for a speedy get-well.

TWELVE LADIE from N. Brighton Place gathered at the home of Mrs. Robert Glader last Wednesday evening to welcome Betty Van Veen into their hospitable midst. Mr. and Mrs. Van Veen and their children are recent newcomers from Detroit.

Dinner at the E. K. Newquists of 407 N. Hickory on Saturday night served a dual purpose, honoring both their 17th wedding anniversary and Mother's Day. Mrs. Newquist's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Gustafson of 211 N. Beverly were their guests.

Mrs. Walter Spinti recently was in St. Louis to be with her sister who underwent major surgery. Since returning home, the Spintis' son, 6-year-old Ronald, has been ill with measles since last Wednesday.

Lunch and a matinee at the Arlington Theatre last Saturday were the treats Matthew Cockrell shared with his guests at his 8-year-old birthday party. Phil Carlson, Jimmy Hansen, Keith Anderson, Johnny Heitz and Mark Prentiss were all there for an afternoon of fun. Matthew's real birthday was Tuesday, May 15.

AFTER Matthew's party festivities were over, and after sharing most of Mother's Day with their children, Matt and Betty Cockrell astrojetted to New York Sunday evening for a 2-day attendance at the National Automatic Merchandising Association convention at the Astor Hotel. Mr. Cockrell has been appointed to the Employer-Employe Relations Committee for the coming year.

While meetings occupied much of the Cockrells' time, they did manage visits to Greenwich Village, Peacock Alley of the Waldorf Astoria, the Latin Quarter, Stork Club and the Penthouse Club overlooking Central Park. While Mr. Cockrell was busy on Monday, Betty enjoyed a shopping spree on Fifth Avenue and attended noonday Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

During spring vacation from Bradley University, Lenore Radosti jetted to New York for a week's visit with friends in Queen's Village. The top of the Empire State, Rockefeller Center, Central Park, Tiffany's and all the big city attractions made a welcome break in Lenore's studies. Before seeing the Broadway show "Mary, Mary," she and a friend dined at Jack Dempsey's, and he just happened to be there that evening.

SINCE returning to school, Lenore has been a very busy girl. She was one of five finalists for the "Dream Girl" of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, and she participated in Bradley's Home Economics Career Day April 28. Lenore, who was assistant chairman of the wardrobe committee, suggested the name "Fashion Carousel" which was chosen for the event. Concluding the day of campus tours, discussions and films on careers, was the style show in which Lenore modeled a golden yellow basic cotton shirtwaist with matching belt.

On May 6 her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Radosti and her sister, Lynn, were her guests at the 12th annual Mother's Day celebration at Bradley. At the dinner served in the Robertson Fieldhouse foyer, all mothers were presented with an orchid.

CONGRATULATIONS are extended to Catherine Crockett of 638 N. Hickory, who is among the 181 high school seniors from all over the country, who has been selected for a scholarship at Iowa State Univeristy, Ames, Iowa.

The Eastwood Bridge Tournamen' will hold its annual dinner dance Saturday night at the newly opened Old Orchard Country Club. Awards to high scorers will be made at this time. (A

Intensify Search For Downed Plane

The search intensified this week for an Arlington Heights man and his two companions whose light plane is believed down in the desolate plateau and mountain country between Phoenix and Albuquerque.

Missing are Thomas Thackery III, 45, of 612 S. Bristol Lane, Arlington Heights; Don W. Keller, 41, Deerfield, Thackery's business partner; and Vivian Jarrett, a traveling companion.

Their plane, a Cessna 170, failed to make a scheduled radio check at St. Johns, Ariz., the morning of May 7 while it was en route from Phoenix to Albuquerque, N. M.

THE SEARCH has been complicated because during the war, the area was deliberately dotted with wreckage of planes to give pilots training in spotting plane crashes. Although these wreckages are all charted, they add to the difficulties.

However, it was reported from Phoenix that on the way back to base Tuesday night, one plane had spotted what the pilot believed to be uncharted wreckage, and the wreckage was to have been checked out Wednsday morning.

Light planes and helicopters have been searching from the air, and have now completed search patterns for the whole area from Phoenix to Albuquerque, a straight-line distance of about 110 miles.

IN ADDITION, Apache Indians from the reservation have been searching on foot, and groups on horseback have been combing the St. Johns area.

Assisting also is George Reevis of Glenview, a Navy pilot and friend of the missing men. Don Thackery, of Southern California, brother of the missing Thackery, also is at the scene. The families have raised $2,500 to hire private helicopters for the search. (A

Mrs. James Nelson, 800 E. Oakton, hosted a farewell luncheon for Mrs. Ed O'Connor last Thursday. Among the guests were six neighbors and a sister, Mrs. C. Kollinzas of Palatine. The O'Connors who made their home at 1108 N. Beverly for the past four years moved to Columbus, Ohio, on Tuesday.

The O. J. Baileys, 627 E. Clarendon, motored to Indianapolis last Thursday to visit her recently widowed mother, Mrs. Florence Haley. Mrs. Haley returned with them on Sunday for a two-week visit.

Mark Foreman, 1111 N. Pine Court, celebrated his seventh birthday with two parties. A pirate decorated cake highlighted the supper party last Thursday for eight neighborhood friends and sister, Patti. On Saturday six of his school chums joined Mark and his dad for lunch and a trip to Brookfield Zoo. To complete the busy weekend, Mark entered Northwest Community Hospital on Sunday afternoon to undergo a tonsillectomy on Monday.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY celebrant last Saturday was 5-year-old Sharon Schick, 619 E. Olive. A carousel cake and the circus theme of her luncheon party delighted her young guests, Barbara Langhenry, Margie and Linda Gildemeister, Nancy Peterson, Connie Johnson and Susan Radcliffe.

Still another birthday celebrant was 11-year-old Carol Cooney, 901 E. Olive. Attending her supper party on Monday were nine schoolmates. A treasure hunt in the neighborhood was among the games planned for the group.

The A. J. Tomasos, 635 E. Clarendon, motored to Ottawa on Sunday, where they met grandmother, Mrs. A. F. Ourada of Streator, who joined them for Mother's Day dinner party at Starved Rock Lodge.

Mother's Day and the 19th birthday of Jeanine Sims, 636 E. Clarendon, were occasions observed by the Dick Sims family on Sunday. Dinner and the show at Kungsholm in Chicago was followed by an afternoon at Lincoln Park.

TIMOTHY MARK, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lasher, 1104 N. Douglas, was christened in St. James Catholic Church on Mother's Day by Rev. George Roth. Godparents were his grandmother, Mrs. H. T. Gray of Tucson, and uncle, Thomas Clifford of Chicago. A dinner party followed the ceremony.

The Larry Weaver family, 1145 N. Beverly Lane, motored to Grand Rapids for a weekend visit with former Greens residents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Testa. Saturday afternoon they interrupted their trip long enough to tour and enjoy the Tulip Festival in Holland, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kargol, 618 E. Clarendon, arrived home Monday afternoon from a week's visit to New York City. A business trip for Mr. Kargol, Mrs. K. took advantage of the opportunity to sightsee. Touring Greenwich Village, the Statue of Liberty and attending a Broadway play were on the pleasure side of the trip.

Houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. William Evans, 1150 N. Hickory, over Mother's Day weekend was the grandmother, Mrs. Hazel Harbour. She arrived here on Saturday from her home in Springfield, and she plans to visit until the end of the month. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall — CLearbrook 5-2936

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Schaber, 405 S. Gibbons, flew to Newark the weekend of May 5 to attend the First Holy Communion of their oldest grandson, Joseph Schaber Jr., at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church in Wayne, N. J.

The next few days were busy ones for all concerned. After the Communion Mass, the Schabers visited their son's offices in New York City, then all spent the afternoon at the Museum of Natural Science.

Monday Mrs. Schaber and her daughter-in-law attended a telecast of Hugh Downs' "Concentration," and, after lunch at Rockefeller Plaza, a performance by the Rockettes at Radio City Music Hall. In the evening the senior Schabers returned home by jet, landing at O'Hare.

THE GOOD wishes of their neighbors went with the Pulling family when they left 429 S. Phelps for their new home in New Jersey the early part of the month. Before leaving, a combination farewell and premature birthday party was given for Mrs. Pulling, hosted by Mrs. Burton Soderberg, 436 S. Phelps. Guests were fellow members of a neighborhood birthday club.

Maureen Beem, 412 S. Waterman, was hostess at a luncheon May 5 to welcome Gloria Xiques, a Cuban refugee who came here three weeks ago and is living in Scarsdale. Other guests were five of Maureen's and Gloria's fellow students at St. Pat's Academy in Des Plaines.

Mrs. Stan Fletcher, 2024 E. Park, is back home after five days in Northwest Community Hospital, following surgery.

ANOTHER ACRES resident who returned home Saturday from Northwest Community Hospital is Mrs. Ed Ehlen. 437 S. Gibbons. Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to both.

Birthday congratulations go to Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Curtin, 420 S. Forrest, whose 16th birthday was celebrated at a family dinner Sunday. Attending were his grandmother, Mrs. Helen Curtin, and aunt, Miss Mary Lowery of Dixon.

Miss Lowery had come from Dixon earlier in the week to attend the Pauiist Choir concert at Orchestra Hall Thursday evening with her sister, Mrs. Jack Curtin.

A WELCOME TO Arlington Acres is extended to new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. James Butkus and their children, James Steven and Susan Lynn, 429 S. Phelps.

Mr. Butkus is a sales engineer with the Anocut Engineering Company of Chicago and the family came here from Cincinnati by way of a short stay in Wheeling.

Tommy Swank's second birthday was celebrated at a family dinner Sunday in conjunction with a full scale Mother's Day celebration.

Guests included his great grandmother, Mrs. Theo Rolf of St. Paul, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rolf of Lake Forest, and Mr. and Mrs. David L. Swank of River Forest, as well as his mother's aunt and uncle, the C. W. Covingtons of Des Plaines.

TOMMY IS THE son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Swank Jr., 528 S. Phelps.

Congratulations on their May 10 wedding anniversary go to Mr. and Mrs. James Dwyer, 516 S. Forrest.

Jim Glynn, 2123 E. Grove, whose 12th birthday was last Monday, was toasted at a quiet family dinner by his parents, the James Glynns, and sister, Robin.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mertens, 425 S. Gibbons, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary May 8. Mrs. Mertens' gift from her husband, a new car, was received a few days early to allow her to drive to Urbana to spend "Mom's Weekend" with her daughter, Cherie, a senior at the University of Illinois.

CHERIE reciprocated last weekend by coming home for Mother's Day. She plans on staying all week, devoting the first few days to quiet, intense study preparatory to taking the CPA examinations the latter part of the week.

Another coed who came home Sunday for Mother's Day was Susan Marshall, who is attending Northwestern. Susan is the daughter of the Frank Marshalls, 432 S Forrest.

Janice May was unable to get away from school, so her parents, the Al Mays, 509 S. Prindle, drove to Valparaiso to have Mother's Day dinner with her.

Hassle Costs Arlington

Johnson Holds Out Against Teamsters Union Demand

Employes Consider Own Organization

by JIM DAVIES

While labor-management differences in mammoth industries such as steel are the ones which claim the big headlines, closer to home squabbles are costing suburbanites more money than they realize as unions try to organize new industries and the industries resist.

In Arlington Heights, for instance, the village board recently refused the low bid on tree trimming work and accepted the second low bid, boosting the cost to taxpayers some $2,500.

It was either take the second low bid, however, or run the very real risk of having work on the new municipal building under construction come to a halt because of picketing.

The dilemma was resolved by accepting the lesser of two evils, and the Arlington Heights case deserves further investigation because no village is immune from this type of problem, and many of them have already faced it and felt the effect.

CRUX OF this particular case was the attempts, past and present, of the Teamsters to organize the tree trimming business. It has been successful in part, but many companies continue to resist for a variety of reasons.

One of these companies is the Nels J. Johnson firm, of Evanston. Headed by its founder, a university-educated, stubborn businessman of the old school with Viking blood in his veins, the firm continues to operate un-organized. But the Teamsters vow to picket the firm until it knuckles under.

Speaking for Teamsters Local 703, which is trying to organize Johnson, John Mahoney says he'll keep pickets on Johnson until he signs a contract and recognizes Local 703 as bargaining agent for the workers.

Mahoney, president of Local 703, sends his pickets around to the various jobs in the northwest suburbs on which Johnson is working. They're seen often at the Mount Prospect village hall, since Johnson is still trimming trees for that village.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS trustees, and Village Manager L. A. Hanson, said they decided not to accept Johnson's low bid because they feared the Teamsters would picket the new municipal building under construction and Teamster drivers would refuse to deliver construction materials.

"Yes, we would have picketed the village hall," Mahoney said. "I can't say whether the Teamster drivers would have honored the picket lines or not. I can't speak for them."

But Mahoney left the impression the drivers would not have crossed the line.

We couldn't take the chance," Hanson said. "If work on the new municipal building stalled, it might not have been completed by fall. We would have had to continue paying rent on our temporary quarters, and heat both buildings while the work was finished this winter. It would have cost much more than accepting the second low bid on the tree trimming work will cost."

In sealed bids, Johnson said he would trim the trees and pick up the brush for $3.70 an hour; the second low bid, by Boyd Haney and Sons, a unionized firm, specified $4.33 an hour, a difference of 63 cents.

IN THE VILLAGE budget there is $17,000 allotted for this work, which will buy 3,926 hours of work from Haney. With Johnson doing the work, the same 3,926 hours would have cost the village—and the taxpayers—only $14,526, a savings of about $2,473.

Figured another way, the village could have received 4,594 hours of work from Johnson for the same money it is paying Haney for 3,926 hours of work.

The main point of argument between Johnson and the union is in the wage scale. Johnson's men who work in the trees earn varying rates averaging perhaps $2.15 or $2.20 an hour, and his ground men who clean up the brush get around $1.65 or $1.70.

Minimum union scale for the work is $2.61 for the climbers, and $2.31 for the ground men.

JOHNSON claims he pays his men on a merit basis: The better work a man does the more he will receive. It's not fair, he believes, to pay a loafer or inexperienced worker the same wage an experienced man or a good worker receives.

The union claims all it wants to do is raise the minimum rate to a "living wage" for 40 hours of work.

But this does not tell the whole story.

Take the case of one of Johnson's foremen, a man named Roberts. He walked off the job last fall after the union signed up the bulk of Johnson's employes and attempted to dictate terms to Johnson. Johnson told Mahoney to take the men and get out, if that's the way the union wanted to do business.

After a few days, the men began coming back and as the weeks passed, even those who had taken other jobs began coming back to Johnson, and all are now back with a few exceptions. Why?

"LOOK AT it this way," Roberts said. "Working for a union company like Haney, you only work eight hours a day, and there's almost no overtime. Here I can work 12 hours a day if I want to. There you work a straight five days a week. Here I can work six days.

"For Haney, you have to be at the job at starting time; here I get paid for most of my travel time from home to work and I can take a smoke break in the morning and one in the afternoon, then get paid for some of my travel time going back home to Chicago."

The way Roberts figures it, he gets paid for 10 hours a day with Johnson but only works a little more than 8 hours, counting time off for breaks and travel to and from work. And in this way he makes more money at Johnson's lower pay scale than he would if he worked for a union outfit with a higher scale.

The dispute has developed into full scale war between Johnson and the Teamsters, with Mahoney vowing he'll keep up his picketing until Johnson concedes. Johnson says he'll resist to the end, but admits that if he keeps losing $17,000 jobs like the one in Arlington Heights, he may find the going tough.

(COMPARATIVE quality of work is not an issue; for instance, village officials say both the Haney and Johnson firms do good work.)

Johnson says that if he capitulates, other firms in the business will be forced to do the same, and this will cost all the villages more money, since higher rates will have to be charged.

Right now, Johnson says, he cites much lower rates to municipalities than he does for private landscaping jobs because of the size of the jobs—$1,000 private jobs compared with $20,000 municipal jobs.

Johnson's men are talking now of organizing a company union, and Johnson says he does not oppose this move, but that it will have to wait until the present trouble is straightened out.

MAHONEY SAYS that if the men join a company union — a "yellow dog" union — he'll keep right on picketing. He claims the firm is bound to accept the Teamsters and while he is trying to negotiate, no other union will touch Johnson. The Johnson firm is one of the larger in the business.

This struggle between firms like Johnson's and unions, between the workers' quest for higher wages and old line businessmen's determination to preserve their independence, is occurring in many industries.

In this struggle there is no black and white; responsible parties on both sides of the fence agree there must be a meeting of minds and a certain give and take.

In the meantime, the battle is costing Arlington Heights taxpayers — in one of the skirmishes — about $2,500 this year.

NOT AN UNFAMILIAR SIGHT in northwest suburbs is this one of a union picket denouncing a firm as unfair to organized labor. This picket is from Teamsters Local 703 and he's picketing work of the Nels J. Johnson tree care firm. Union-management trouble such as this cost taxpayers money, as Arlington Heights found out this spring.

Tell Totals Under Test Programming

Dr. Noble J. Puffer, Cook County superintendent of schools, announced this week that during the first six months of the G.E.D. testing program under his supervision, 569 applications were processed. Two hundred sixty five made passing grades and 103 have already been awarded their certificates.

To be eligible for the G.E.D. testing program, one must have been a citizen of Illinois for the immediate preceding year and at least 21 years of age at the time of testing, according to Dr. Puffer.

THE PURPOSE of the High School Equivalency Certificate program is to give adults who, for one reason or another, withdrew from school, or who were denied the opportunity to complete formal high school graduation requirements, an opportunity to obtain a High School Equivalency Certificate.

Many colleges recognize this certificate for entrance and many employers recognize it for employment and promotions.

Sanitarians Set Meeting

A two-day education seminar designed specifically for sanitarians and other public health workers will be held May 17-18-19 at the Northwest Suburban YMCA, Des Plaines.

Dr. A. B. Price, regional medical director with the United States Public Health Service, will be guest luncheon speaker according to Ward Duel, president of the Illinois Association of Sanitarians, which is sponsoring the program.

ON GETTING ACQUAINTED

by ED LANDWEHR

The two easiest ways of getting acquainted with a television technician are:

First, let the kids play around with the TV set, especially the off-on and channel switch. Manipulating these controls needlessly helps you get close to us.

Second — Keep the set running all day and way into the night even if you're not around to watch it. This helps the electric company, too.

Third — Keep the phone number CL 5-0700 handy. LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, will give you prompt service, and you'll meet the nicest TV technician ever. He'll make your TV set work perfectly because he has the latest electronic servicing equipment and he has some of those kids, too.

Her Royal Majesty, Mom, Lives to Rule Another Day

Her Royal Majesty, Mom the First, was banished Sunday from her beloved realm, the Kitchen. On-the-spot observers report that many pots and dishes were overthrown in the ensuing reign of error as children and husbands usurped her duties. By sundown the battle-weary rebel forces surrendeed. Their loving queen granted pardons to all and lived to rule another day. It was a fine Mother's Day for everyone.

An early exchange of Mother's Day greetings between mother and daughter was part of the recent visit of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray with their daughter and family, the John Whites in Waldwick, N. J. The Grays returned to 906 N. Mitchell last Wednesday after a 3-week trip that handily combined a convention in New York, a vacation in Bermuda and the visit in Waldwick.

Mrs. Kenneth M. Molkup, 1025 S. Vail, also received early Mother's Day greetings when she was the guest of her son, Ken, at the annual Mother's Day weekend at the University of Illinois May 5, 6 and 7. Ken, a member of the Theta Xi fraternity, and his brothers escorted their mothers to the banquet in the chapter house Sunday to climax a happy-hectic weekend that included the University production of West Side Story, a swimming exhibition and fashion show.

After Sunday's banquet Ken and company serenaded all Moms present as the ladies prepared for reluctant departure.

JODY GRABOW, 1201 N. Mitchell, had a Mother's Day birthday this year and being eight and very sociable, thought her birthday party for 16 youngsters would mix just fine with Mom's Mother's Day dinner party for 12 not-so-youngsters. Mom, also very sociable but a standard 2-handed model, knew better. Jody celebrated a week ago Saturday, really not minding a bit that she received congratulations a week early. She reigned at a luncheon table centered by a Maypole cake, and presided over the afternoon's games and prize-awarding.

Mrs. Grabow, after much frustrating labor on the creation of the Maypole birthday cake, discovered a glaring fault in the education of today's eight-year-olds. They don't know what a Maypole is.

Miss Jacky Halwax, 706 S. Mitchell, returns home today from a 2-week vacation in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and Nassau. She began her all-play-and-no-work session in Florida, then spent four days in Nassau and worked overtime to see and do everything. Tired but triumphant she returned to Fort Lauderdale to conclude her vacation.

MRS. ROBERT PAGLIAI is home again after undergoing surgery and a week's stay in Northwest Community Hospital. "Home" was 905 S. Evergreen when she made an emergency trip to the hospital two weeks ago. Since her return last Wednesday and via lots of good neighbors it's now 442 S. Kennicott.

Among those whose good neighbor policy never lapses are eight S. Evergreen friends who farewelled Mrs. Pagliai at a coffee given by Mrs. Herschel Smith, 927 S. Evergreen, three weeks ago. Another neighbor, Mrs. John Kramer, had invitations out for a farewell luncheon the following week.

The honor guest's sudden hospitalization cancelled it and all the neighbors reversed their aims; the welfare of the Pagliai family, rather than its farewell, became their chief concern. According to Mrs. Pagliai, whose household was moved to the new address last Friday, her local friends, ". . .just took over while I was in the hospital and as soon as I came home. They kept me completely out of the moving scene. I'm so grateful."

"MR. ARLINGTON Heights," alias Al Volz, celebrated his 91st birthday Saturday at a party in his home, 6 E. Hawthorne. With him to greet 38 family members and longtime friends were his daughter and her husband, the Cecil McWharters of Temple, Tex., who left Monday after a week's stay here. A lifelong resident of Arlington Heights, Mr. Volz has a continuous record of activity and interest in state as well as local politics and civic affairs. He is a scrupulous keeper-of-records, rememberer-of-events and compiler-of-data, and was an invaluable, constantly used source of information during the months of preparation for Arlington Heights' 125th anniversary celebration last year.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wellman left the rest of the family at 1610 Brown late last week to begin a 'round-the-lake tour that will culminate Saturday with their attending a 40th class reunion at Michigan State College. They visited relatives in Port Huron, spent a few days in Canada, then completed the swing into Michigan and onto an East Lansing-bound highway. They'll return early next week.

MRS. ALLAN HITE, 725 S. Mitchell, and Mrs. Ralph Arena, 726 S. Mitchell, were co-guests of honor last Thursday afternoon at a farewell luncheon given by 17 neighborhood friends in the Indian Trail restaurant in Winnetka. Both departing families will leave here at the end of the school year, the Hites for a home in St. Paul and the Arenas for a new Parisian address. Tentatively and hopefully the Arena family plans to return to Arlington Heights after a 2-year stay in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Borchard of Buffalo, N. Y., arrived Monday night at the home of their son, Robert, and his family, 723 N. Dunton. The senior Mr. Borchard will go on to Denver to attend a 2-week conference of Presbyterian churchmen, then rejoin his wife here for a weekend visit before they return to Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deppman, 811 N. Wilshire, were guests of honor Saturday night at a farewell party of business friends given by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wende of Glenview. Other local couples joining in the social good-byes were the Robert Wrights and Robert Skeehans. Mr. and Mrs. Deppman will move to Moline late next month.

MR. AND MRS. Robert E. Mitchell, 330 S. Gibbons, were hosts at a dinner party and bridge Saturday. Guests included the Warren Klines, John Dietzes, Mel Albertsons, Alfred Wilcoxes, Harold Haugens, Walter Kellins, Bill Hogarths and the Jack Sullivans.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Strobel, 1319 Mayfair, returned Saturday from a business and pleasure trip to Florida. Mrs. Strobel flew to Miami first, spending three days with her mother, Mrs. Edna Turnbull, and then joined Mr. Strobel in Miami Beach to attend the Independent Insurance Adjusters Convention at the Fontainbleau Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. David Heuer, 102 S. Brighton, have as their houseguest, his mother, Mrs. Douglas Heuer of Memphis.

Mrs. V. C. Johnston of Rocky River, Ohio is here visiting her daughter and family, the Harold Lussows, 402 S. Gibbons.

WHILE THEY had no specific vacation plans in mind when they left on a leisurely motor trip, the Lester Schreibers went no further than the Ozarks. The found the Osage resort area so delightful they remained for a week. Here they enjoyed golfing, swimming, sightseeing and relaxing.

Returning home, they stopped in Decorah, Iowa, for a brief visit with their son, Dave, a sophomore at Luther College, and then went to Ames to spend several days visiting Mrs. Schreiber's mother, Mrs. Louis Shafland. The Schreibers returned to their home at 123 S. Brighton on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stahnke, 110 S. Brighton, and their three children went to Verona, Wis., Saturday, to visit her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Storie, and to attend the high school band and chorus competition of all the schools in the Madison area. The Stories' two daughters, Suzan and Margaret, were among the participants in the band.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Jarecki, 705 E. Fairview, recently spent 10 days vacationing at the Edgewater Park Hotel in Edgewater Gulf, Miss. Included in their vacation plans was a trip to New Orleans.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph E. Clabaugh, 510 S. Beverly, drove to Cedar Rapids last weekend to visit their son, Jim, a freshman at Coe College, and to attend the Parent's Day program.

Ted and Fred Kleisner, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Kleisner, 602 E. Park, are receiving congratulations for their recent scholastic and extra curricular achievements. Ted, a senior at St. Mary of the Lake Major Seminary in Crystal Lake, is playing the lead roll in the class play "Shepherds on the Shelf," written by Fr. John G. Donnelly, drama critic of the New World and rector of Quigley North Seminary in Chicago, currently playing in New York City at the Black Friars theatre.

Fred, who attends Quigley North Seminary, wrote the winning essay, which he called "The Vacuum." It was chosen as the best essay from entries from both Quigley North and South Academies. Fred will continue his studies at St. Mary's of the Lake Seminary in Crystal Lake, while his brother will enroll at St. Norbert College in DePere, Wis.

THE EDWARD McGrath family, 206 E. Rockwell, had a special interest in the St. Patrick Academy Annual Glee Club concert given Saturday in Maine West High School. Two of their daughters, Frances, a senior, and Patricia, a junior, sang, and Mrs. McGrath was piano accompanist for the entire program, which was directed by Sister Mary Syra and conducted by Austin Garrels of St. Xavier College of Chicago.

Other Arlington Heights girls who sang in the program were the Misses Bernadette Tucker, Cathy Tribbey, Marjory Roach and Mary Yocum.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sutton, 627 S. State, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stauber, 833 S. Beverly, attended a concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Saturday given for the benefit of the Park Ridge Fine Arts Society Scholarship Fund. After the concert, guests went to the Edgewater Room of the Edgewater Beach Hotel for a candlelight dinner and dance.

MR. AND MRS. Dwight Guilfoil, 633 Burton, flew to Washington D. C. last week for the annual meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, held in the Departmental Auditorium. A reception was held after the meetings at the Raleigh Hotel.

This year, every state and every country was represented at the meetings. The Guilfoils remained in Washington several days longer, visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gustitus, 400 S. Dryden, spent a fun-packed weekend at the Sheraton Hotel in French Lick, Ind. They took as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Landis of Western Springs and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Thornton of Louisville. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gustitus and their guests enjoyed playing on French Lick's fine golf courses.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nyquist, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Berry and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Halwax gave a surprise house warming and potluck supper for Mr. and Mrs. Newell P. Crockett Jr., new residents of Scarsdale. The Crocketts moved from Chestnut Street to 711 E. Fairview recently.

Guests, 50 in all, included many of the Crocketts' former neighbors and area friends, and her mother, Mrs. H. N. Ames, who is visiting here from her home in Pompano Beach, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Crockett were presented with a gift for their new home, a fireplace screen and andirons.

Mrs. Harry L. Wickstrom, 527 S. Dryden, joined Mrs. James Davis, Mrs. Joseph Beltz and Mrs. C. M. Maloney of Palatine at a luncheon in the Ambassador West Hotel Saturday, which was given to celebrate Illinois State Day and Founder's Day of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority.

Wednesday, Mrs. Wickstrom will give a party with a violet theme for 12 friends of her daughter, Lorie, who will mark her eighth birthday.

MR. AND MRS. Alex Plotnikoff, 814 Lyndon, will welcome his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gilmartin, Thursday, for a 5-day visit. The Gilmartins, who were recently married are on a month's leave from his duties as second secretary of the British Embassy in Panama and after they leave Arlington Heights, plan to go to Canada, London and Edinburough to visit his family and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Black Jr., 436 S. Belmont, and their children, recently spent 10 days in Ann Arbor, Mich., visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kempf and his parents, the senior Lorne Blacks of Port Huron.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Hennings. 323 Bristol, and their children, Nancy and Jim, drove to Biloxi, Miss. for a 10-day vacation at the Sun and Sand resort.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Gardner, 631 S. Lincoln, their daughter, Cathy, and son, Jerry, went to Ladoga, Ind. Friday to visit Mr. Gardner's mother, Mrs. Mabel Gardner, and Saturday, left for Bloomington to attend the Little 500 races.

OTHER SCARSDALE residents who attended the Little 500 races were Mrs. Clark Gutru and Mrs. Frederick G. Schmoyer, who drove down to spend the Mothers Day weekend with their daughters, Jean, a sophomore, and Judy Schmoyer, a junior. Both girls are Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority members.

Mrs. Forrest Wolf, 607 S. State, spent the weekend at the University of Illinois in Champaign for the Mothers Day program and was the guest of her son, Robert, at his Theta Xi fraternity house. She attended a university production of "West Side Story," a synchronized swimming exhibition, a fashion show and a choral concert. Highlight of the weekend was a banquet at the Theta Xi house, after which the boys serenaded their mothers.

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM SHERWOOD

Alan Carlsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted C. Carlsen, 1314 N. Harvard, was confirmed recently in the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights. His family celebrated with breakfast at the Milk Pail.

Mother's Day had a special significance at the Robert D. Chodera home, 1216 Marion, for they welcomed a new daughter. Recently the Choderas entertained Gail's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chodera from Park Ridge and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sampou from Carpentersville, for brunch when Gail made her First Communion in St. James. Mrs. Sampou is visiting here now.

FROM RIDGE PARK

Saturday saw Ridge Park bowlers and their mates turn out for the bowling banquet and dancing, held at the Hearthstone Restaurant in Palatine. Sixty-five people watched Wally Strait, outgoing president award trophies and welcome severl sponsors who attended. Vice President Bert Van Duzer and the secretary, Jean Kunberger, helped to plan the affair.

Neighbors are wishing a speedy recovery from surgery to Mrs. Eugene Friker, 713 N. Patton, home now from Northwest Community Hospital.

Glenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erik A. Dedering, 1120 W. Northwest Hwy., was confirmed recently in the First Methodist Church. Afterwards the family entertained relatives at a buffet supper. Saturday the Dederings attended the Shore Acres Country Club dance, and to celebrate Mother's Day, they had dinner at the Swedish Engineers Club in Chicago.

HAVING A FATHER in the movie business can make birthday parties just a bit more special. Running a movie on his day off as a sort of busman's holiday was John Oertel, 708 N. Salem. Johnny selected the film "Gorgo" to entertain guests at his 10th birthday party Tuesday. Among those attending were Susie and Greg Inselberger, Patti and Todd Shumate, Jonathan, Christopher, and Bobby Bone, Timmy, Wendy and Claudia Mussachio and Johnny's brother Jimmy. Big sister Joan's special present for Johnny was a trip on Sunday to the Cubs' double-header game.

The Gene Myslo family, 721 N. Kaspar, went to Chicago to celebrate the First Communion of their cousin, Bobby Loster, and to join Mrs. Myslo's mother, Mrs. Joseph Rurka, for Mother's Day. Joey Myslo was 3 on Wednesday.

Dinner at the Ivanhoe Restaurant in Chicago was a double celebration for the Vince Lane family, 923 N. Race, in honor of Mary's First Communion at St. James' and Stephen's 11th birthday.

Wayne Keller is 7 now, and helping him have a happy birthday were Billy and Bobby Stevens, Jimmy, Joey and John Lauer, Stephen Klein, David and Mark Kubic and Chip Kunberger. Wayne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Keller, 1016 N. Kennicott.

Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmer Mogren spent Mother's Day with their daughter's family, the Victor Hansens in Schiller Park.

Eric, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tollefson, recently made his First Communion at St. James, and the family celebrated with dinner out.

HOUSE GUESTS in the Richard D. Hall home, 1509 Brown, were Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Triggs from Huntington, Ind. They came to help John celebrate his sixth birthday.

Guests on Mother's Day of the Henry Inselbergers, 640 N. Salem, were the two grandmothers, Mrs. Vera Inselberger and Mrs. Trachsell. Later Ann's sister and brother-in-law, the Bob O'Sheas of Skokie, joined them.

Jane Fleming was guest of honor recently at a surprise baby shower held by Mrs. E. C. Robson, 927 N. Chicago. Pink and blue decorations were admired by guests Sally Blackburn, Gloria Dady, Edwina Hatch, Lucille Rees, Beth Moran and Evelyn Cameron.

Mrs. Donald Finger, 715 N. Kaspar, planned a family party in honor of her husband's birthday and Mother's Day. Attending were her mother, Mrs. Ed Feist of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dotson of Chicago and his mother, Mrs. L. Finger, Forest Park.

The Gene Schlickman family, 712 N. Fernandez, spent Sunday at the family cottage in Delavan, Wis.

TWO DAYS after her brother's birthday party, Mary Dee Heinz came down with measles, but she had lots of fun helping Joey turn 5. Joey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heinz, 906 N. Patton, entertained brother Gerry, Keith and Michael Andre, Blair Briscoe and Ricky Harlow for lunch and games. The Heinzes welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heinz Sr. from Oak Park for Mother's Day.

Ridge Park welcomes new neighbors, at 918 N. Harvard. The Gene Holmquist family moved there from Harwood Heights. They have two sons, Gene Jr., 2, and Jeff, 11 months. Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Swenson have moved to 923 N. Kennicott from N. Pine, with their children, Randy, in first grade, and Jean, in junior high school.

LINDA LEE Wiegel was confirmed recently in the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights. Her parents, the junior Henry Wiegels, entertained 24 guests at buffet supper. Included in the gathering at 724 N. Kennicott were Linda's grandparents from Des Plaines, the senior Henry Wiegels and the William Van Diggelens.

Mother's Day was celebrated on Monday by the W. D. Rudy family, 822 N. Princeton. Mrs. Rudy and the children joined her husband in Chicago for dinner and a showing of the Charlie Chaplin silent film, "The Gold Rush."

The Jerome Winters family, 1015 N. Princeton, has had a busy week. Their son, Bede William, was one-year-old on Tuesday. Mrs. Winters came home from the hospital with their new son, George Holbrook, but the baby had to return to St. Anne Hospital, Chicago. (A

ROLLING MEADOWS

Glenview Naval Air Station was viewed by Intermediate Scouts of Troop 633. The girls gave special attention to a movie shown them on weather and all of the equipment used at the station in determining the weather conditions.

Troop 633 has finished sewing animal pin cushions just in time to present them with their best regards for Mother's Day.

HOFFMAN ESTATES

At the May 10 neighborhood meeting of the Hoffman Estates - Schaumburg leaders, Chairman Mrs. Richard Smith announced that 954 cases of Girl Scout cookies had been delivered to the nighborhood. The finance committee announced that profit on the fund-raising square dance May 5 was more than $100.

Plans are in the final stages for the Girl Scout float for the July 4 parade and for troop marching. Chairman of the project is Mrs. Ben Brading.

September 14 was chosen as the date for the first inter-troop campfire. It will be held in a local park area.

FIFTH GRADE Troops 362 and 796 shared a cabin at Camp Pine the weekend of April 27-28-29. Hiking and outdoor activity were kept at a minimum by inclement weather, but 362 managed to complete requirements for a Campcraft Badge. Leaders were the Mesdames F. Alexa, William Kumpf, W. Kollias and R. Miskoci.

Troop 878, under the leadership of Mrs. C. T. Kloc, Mrs. J. McAteer and Mrs. D. L. Hayes, is remembering their recent trip to Catherine Memorial home in Palatine, when they presented handmade favors and centerpieces to the residents for their Easter dinner table.

With the recent warm weather there has been a noticeable increase in outdoor activity and trips. Second grade Brownie Troop 868 had a tour of the Hoffman Police station, where Chief Mark Orlick explained the file system and the radio operation.

ANOTHER group of Brownies, Troop 861 chose the Hoffman Firehouse for its May 5 outing. Equipment was demonstrated and the girls had a chance to try the sirens. Troop leaders are Mrs. Charles DePaul and Mrs. Lynn Hippensteel.

The evening of May 5 found sixth grade Troop 591 on their third overnight at Camp Pine, accompanied by Mrs. R. Baird, Mrs. N. Sander and Mrs. S. MacEachron. The good weather made outdoor games and cooking possible.

The mothers of Troop 793 were entertained on May 8 at an afternoon tea. Jo Anne Schieler played an accordian solo and colors were presented by Christine Louro, Debra Holmes, Mary Pat Sheahan and Peggy Mullin. Events were supervised by Mrs. R. T. Tyson and Mrs. E. K. Knudson.

SOUTH ARLINGTON

Mrs. R. Stark has been holding meetings to organize new troops for the fall. Any girls not contacted and interested in being Brownies or Intermediates may call her at CL 3-4934. Soon-to-Fly-up Brownie Troop 521 spent their first overnight at Camp Pine April 29.

In addition to cooking their own meals, the girls laid and followed a trail to complete their Tenderfoot requirements. Intermediate Troop 355 spent May 4, 5 and 6 at Camp Pine. Eighteen Scouts made bacon and eggs on tin can stoves and baked a ham in a "bean-hole." Miss Karen Blatt, naturalist and teacher at South Junior High, accompanied the girls on a nature trip and helped them identify trees and wild flowers for a Second Class requirement.

Highlight of the weekend was a campfire Saturday night with Troop 700 from Palatine. Third grade Brownies in Troop 50 gave a program May 9 for their mothers and teachers at Park School. Main attraction was a hat "style" show, for which the girls spent the last month designing and creating the hats they modeled. Visiting Intermediates Susan Grasham and Trudy Woss helped to serve the refreshments.

After completing the third bike hike for Cyclist Badge, Troop 355 enjoyed a progressive luncheon at the homes of Mrs. V. Simpson, Mrs. D. Galloway, and Mrs. W. Grashorn. Troop 521 gave a tea for their mothers May 10. Brownies helped to make the costumes they wore for a Hawaiian dance, Norwegian dance and an Easter Parade parody.

Sixteen Scouts in Troop 131 had their first experience at tent camping on May 5 and 6. Mrs. W. Hagenvach, Mrs. R. Stark and Mrs. E. Christopherson accompanied the girls to Happy Hollow and report that the wild flowers were beautiful.

NORTHEAST ARLINGTON

Sunday April 29, 130 Girl Scouts representing all 13 troops sponsored by the St. James Women's Guild met in the south room of St. James School with their fathers for dinner. April 30, the last of the father-daughter dinners was held at Faith Church, with 102 Dads, Girl Scouts and guests attending.

NORTH MOUNT PROSPECT

Second grade Brownie Troop 370 welcomed Spring with their first cookout at Camp Pine May 3. Fourth grade Brownie Troop 105 had a progressive dinner May 16. The girls had salad at Joan Fisher's home, then hiked to Marilyn Wildinson's and Pat Doolan's house for the main course and ended up at Rita Mokate's home for dessert.

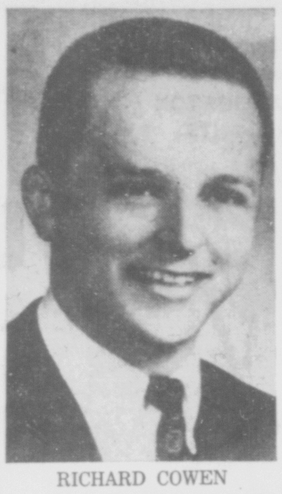
SOUTH MOUNT PROSPECT

Senior Mariner Troop U.S.S. Enterprise 65 will conduct a newspaper drive June 8 in Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights. Anyone having newspapers to donate may call Mrs. Harold Drew, 253-1010 and arrange for collection anytime prior to June 8.

The Mariners sponsored a car wash last Saturday. Intermediate Troop 142 visited the Art Institute April 23. The troop has completed work on the drawing and painting badge. (B9

Arlington's Cowen Elected YR Chief

Richard C. Cowen, 27, of 124 N. Gibbons Ave., Arlington Heights, was elected chairman of the Cook County Young Republicans at the organization's annual convention at the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago last Saturday.



RICHARD COWEN

Cowen, a loop attorney, associated with the firm of Bell, Boyd, Lloyd, Haddad and Burns, was elected on the first ballot by the 52-club organization. He was opposed by two other candidates — both withdrawing from the race before the balloting was complete.

Moving from Chicago's 40th ward (northwest side), Cowen, his wife, Sonya, and their two children, have lived in Arlington Heights one year.

HE IS A member of Wheeling Township's Regular Republican Club and Young Republican Club, and served on Thomas J. Houser's campaign committee in the recent GOP committeeman race.

Cowen received a Juris Doctor of Law degree from Northwestern University. In 1961 - 62 he was treasurer for the County YRs, is a past chairman of the County Political Education Committee, ar has been a vice president, treasurer and membership chairman while associated with the 40th Ward Young Republican Club.

The County YR organization is made up of self-governing clubs in wards and townships in Cook County. Ward and township clubs look to the county organization for club coordination and information.

COWEN SAID his administration will devote itself to 1) assisting local clubs in membership drives, 2) develop new clubs in wards and townships where none exist, 3) politically educate and inform new members, and 4) create vigorous political action through precinct training and volunteer pollwatching.

Wheeling Township Young Republicans attending the convention and assisting in Cowen's election were Joseph Tolson, Raymond Stevenson, and Thomas Hanlon. (B-8

COMMUNITY CONCERT
ASSOCIATION OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Memberships Available
One Week Only
May 21 through 26

You can see and hear, appearing in person in Arlington Heights, the grestest stars of the world of music and entertainment.

For fourteen seasons now, your Community Concert Association has brought you the world's leading singers, dancers, orchestras, pianists and other artists.

In the coming season you will have a series of concerts and your membership — costing only $8.00 for adults and $4.00 for students — is all you pay to attend all of them.

Yes, this is a bargain for the finest of entertainment — less than you usually would pay for a single concert downtown. More than that — your membership helps bring the outstanding musical talent of the world to your community in easy reach of your children, students and others who seldom would have this cultural and life-enriching experience.

If you are not a member be sure to take advantage of the membership campaign next week — the only time when new memberships are available. At the same time regular members can renew their memberships. You will not want to miss the outstanding program which your Artists Selection Committee is planning for the fifteenth season.

Your community concerts are held in the Arlington Heights high school. The complete program and the artists to appear next season will be announced one week after the membership campaign. Remember, season's memberships only are available. Admissions to single concerts cannot be sold.

The Community Concert Association was organized by a group of local citizens for the single purpose of bringing this fine entertainment to the community. There is no profit. Over 95 per cent of all dues are spent for talent, for the great artists you have read about and heard about and now will see — in person.

Be sure to get your membership — next week.

Holmes Motor Co. Honored For Half Century of Service

Holmes Motor Co., Des Plaines, one of the nation's oldest automobile dealers, has been honored for its more than a half-century of selling Ford cars and trucks.

Clifton H. Stowers, president of the dealership, received a new 50-year dealer commendation plaque from Wayne Saybolt, manager of the Chicago Ford Division district sales office, during a special luncheon held May 8 at the Hilton Inn in Aurora.

The specially designed and personalized plaques are being awarded to 57 Ford dealers who completed 50 years association with Ford Motor Co. through the end of 1961.

The Holmes dealership—Ford's third oldest in point of continuous service—opened for business in April, 1903, following a trip to Chicago by Henry Ford in search of someone to distribute the Ford car in Illinois.

During his visit, Ford met Glenn E. Holmes, who was operating a bicycle shop and a small newspaper circulation agency. Holmes sold both businesses to raise the $5,000 needed to start his Ford dealership at 1502 S. Michigan Ave.

THE AGENCY moved in 1928 to a 10-story building at Dearborn and Lake before expanding to dealerships in Des Plaines and Highland Park in 1953. The Highland Park agency was sold in June, 1961.

Stowers joined Holmes Motor Co. in 1927 as a salesman, successively becoming used car manager and general manager. He became president of the company in 1949, two years after Holmes died.

The Holmes Motor Co. staff includes sales manager Philip Huster, with the company 15 years, and parts manager Harry Sorenson, a 30 - year Holmes employe.

IN MAKING the presentation to Stowers, Saybolt said:

"We are fortunate and unique in the industry in having as many dealers who have been associated with Ford Motor Co. for so long. However, we are equally proud of those who only yesterday became Ford Motor Co. dealers, and who will continue the tradition of offering the most dependable transportation available to the American public." Three Injured In Collision

A headon collision between two cars littered the northwest suburban highway with debris and injured three persons May 7.

The crash occurred at 8 p.m. on Touhy and Illinois 83, when Charles V. Peeebles, 21, of 3942 N. California, Chicago, was eastbound on Illinois 72. Westbound was William E. Wolter, of Des Plaines. Passing in Peebles' lane, according to state police, his car struck the Both drivers were injured and so was a passenger in the first car, Thomas Murray, 20, of 5019 N. Kildare, Chicago.

THEY WERE taken to Lutheral General Hospital in Park Ridge. Damage to the first car was $600; to the second, $700.

Wolter was charged with improper passing and with having an expired driver's license.

In a second accident May 9 at 5 p.m., Walter Hughes, of Des Plaines was headed west on Ballard Road. Dale B. Wright, 23, of RR 2, Box 226A, Long Grove, was headed north on Potter Road.

State police said he disobeyed a stop sign and his vehicle collided with the other at the intersection causing both cars to stop in the grocery parking lots.

BOTH HUGHES and Wright were injured and taken to Lutheran General Hospital. Damage to the first car was $2000; to the other, $200, and to a sign, $50.

Wright was charged with disobeying a stop sign.

A three-car accident occurred on Touhy Ave. at the toll road, a mile west of Mannheim Road on May 9.

Headed east on Touhy, respectively, were: William J. Phelan, 34, o Wauconda; Julian Migani, 42, and Richard Przybylski, 26, both of Des Plaines.

BOTH THE first and second car stopped. The third, driven too fast, police said, couldn't, and it struck the second car, which, in turn, struck the first car.

Przybylski and Migani, and a passenger in the first car, Arlene V. Phelan, 23, were injured and taken to Lutheran General Hospital. Not injured were the first driver, and two passengers in his car, Thomas Massy, 42, and Ernest Rosa, 24, both of Wauconda.

Damage to the first car was $150; to the second, $500, and to the third, $800.

Przybylski was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

On May 10, at 5:45 p.m., at Meacham Road, 2½ miles north of Illinois 62, Geh Schwrecht, 19, of RR 2, Box 2265, Barrington, stopped in the road before barricades.

His car was struck in the rear by another one, driven by Robert R. Dowling, 36, of Cicero. Police said the barricades were up because of road repairs in the area.

BOTH DRIVERS were injured and taken to Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights. Damage to the first car was $350; to the second, $700.

Dowling was charged with driving under the influence of liquor.

In another accident, both Richard C. Doyle, 25, of Evanston, and John H. Smith, of 11620 S. Yale, Chicago, were stopped for an unknown driver making a left turn.

A third car, driven by Virginia M. Volid, 59, of RR 2, Box 30, Palatine, struck the second car driving it into the first. The third driver was injured and taken to Holy Family hospital in Des Plaines. She was charged with following too closely.

Damage to the first car was $200; to the second, $300, and to the third, $900.

The accident occurred at 12:01 p.m. on May 11 on Illinois 58 at Owens street.

Two drivers and a passenger were injured May 13 at 3:42 p.m. in an accident on Illinois 53 at Illinois 62.

WILLIAM A. HERING, 61, of Cary, was unable to stop in time for the traffic signal, lost control of his car and his vehicle made a right-angle collision with a car driven by Mary A. Weiss, 53, of Cary. Both drivers and a passenger in the latters, Edward W. Weiss, 50 were injured and taken to Northwest Community Hospital.

Damage to the Weiss car was $1400; to the Hering car, $900.

Hering was charged with disobeying a traffic signal. (B8

Open Letter . . .

Fellow Citizens:

This is to advise you on a topic of mutual concern: The quality and cost of medical care now and in the future.

In the attempt to sell voters a tax supported, government regulated form of medicine, President Kennedy, via our National television network, will address a picked political audience in New York City on Sunday, May 20, 1962.

The following evening the physicians of this nation will attempt to remove this problem from the political arena; set the record straight; and explain the situation as seen by those whose lives are devoted to the care of the sick.

We urge you to view both programs so that you may be better informed.

Your Doctor

Kennedy Rally: Sunday, May 20—C.B.S.—TV—10:15 P.M.

Physicians Program: Monday, May 21—N.B.C. TV—7:00 P.M.

For many years we have specialized in the repairing of fine watches. We treat your watch much as a doctor treats his patient. We test it for the various illnesses that beset a watch, we clean it thoroughly and carefully and time it accurately with the most modern electronic equipment. Why not let us put your sick watch on the mend.

Prospect Honor Roll For Quarter Released

Prospect High has released the names of its top students for the third quarter of the current school year. The honor-roll pupils are divided into two groups — the junior and senior honor rolls.

For listing in the junior honor roll students must have a grade-point average of 4.0 with no grade lower than "C." Grade points are figured on the scale of 5 points for "A," 4 points for "B" and 3 points for "C."

Junior honor roll members, listed alphabetically by classes, are:

PALATINE

Giggly Girls Blue Birds, under the leadership of Mrs. Clyde Rennack, took May baskets they had made to patients of Nelson's Nursing Home.

Pamela and Cindy Cippi, Joan DeLuca, Janet Baldocchi, Janice Plass, Denise Clausen, Patty, Susan, and Cathy Kane and Janice and Dianne Rennack then stopped at the homes of two shut-ins and left May baskets for these gentlemen and their wives.

May 9, the Giggly Girls were busily making hat-shaped lapel pins as gifts for their mothers. Stiffly starched fabric was used with bottle caps for the crown and then flower trimmed.

ARLINGTON DISTRICT NEWS

Candy Chairman Mrs. Marolyn Scheffle requests that leaders send her their requests for the number of certificates required for the girls who have sold 12 or more boxes of candy.

Paula Schomburg of Arlington Heights, who has sold 56 boxes, solf them a stand along with others, earns the $2.50 given towards her camp costs.

There will be a luncheon June 5 in Itasca Country Club to which all leaders, guardians, sponsors, committee members and mothers are invited. Mrs. Audrey Kurzka, field director, will tell of the program enrichments and revisions which will take place this fall. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Ava Jean Vigstedt next week at CL 3-9258. The social hour starts at 12:30, luncheon at 1 p.m.

DAY CAMP TRAINING

Outdoor Day Camp training is to be held May 22 from 9:30 to 2:30 at Grove 5 in Busse Woods. Mrs. Katie Graham urges all adult workers to participate, and asks that everyone takes this opportunity to practice outdoor cooking and experiment with tee-pee fire or reflector oven.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD

Samples of articles for the Needlework Guild are to be displayed at the annual luncheon June 5. Each group participating must contribute at least 22 articles to an institution or organization plus a gift of money to the Needlework Guild. Each Camp Fire girl in the group who has submitted two or more articles is then entitled to earn the Needlework bead, which is a national award.

Application blanks for this must be filled out in duplicate. These forms plus any information may be obtained from Mrs. Pat Mirresse, CL 3-8185, who should be informed by May 21 of groups participating.

For the Memorial Day parade May 30, girls will meet at 9 a.m. on Dunton and South, marching starts at 9:30. All girls are urged to participate in full costumes, boleros headbands and white gloves. Group participation is urged but lone girls are welcome to join the others.

TV 'Goofs' To Be Shown On Sunday

The Northwest Suburban Young Adults invites the public to the viewing of a few TV commercial "goofs." The showing of these films will be Sunday, May 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the Methodist Church, Graceland and Prairie Streets, Des Plaines.

The Northwest Suburban Young Adult Fellowship consists of single Protestant young adults from the northwest suburban area, ranging from the age of 18 to 30.

Anyone wishing further information about the group and its activities or needing transportation to the above get-together, may call Kay Dodge, CL 9-4073 or Peggy Courtney 255-3697.

Arlington Baptist Church to Be Dedicated 3 p.m. Sunday

The new church building of the First Baptist Church of Arlington Heights will be dedicated this Sunday, May 20, at 3 p. m.

About 60 other Conservative Baptist churches and affiliated groups will help the Arlington Heights congregation dedicate its church.

Speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Dr. S. P. Anderson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lansing, Ill., and past president of the Conservative Baptist Association of Illinois. Guest soloist will be Miss Carol Wilson of Oak Park.

DR. P. D. MUSTRIC is pastor of the Arlington Heights church.

The local congregation provided more than 30 per cent of the labor for the new building, and held its first worship service in the new sanctuary Dec. 24, 1961.

REV. P. D. MUSTRIC

The history of the congregation dates back to July 2, 1955, when a group of 14 local persons met for the purpose of establishing a Baptist church in Arlington Heights.

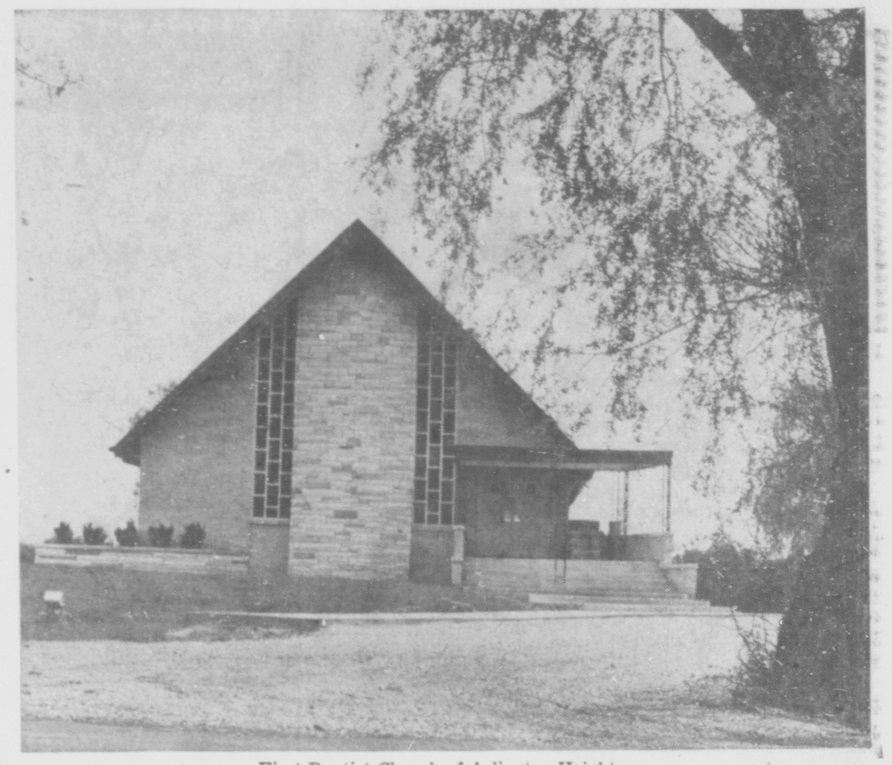
ALTHOUGH THE village was more than 100 years old, it had never had a Baptist church and these Baptists believed there was a need for such a church.

Present at this first meeting was the Rev. Dr. Henry Lovik, the state director for the Conservative Baptist Association of Illinois, who had long felt a need for a Baptist church in this growing community.

After an inspirational message and prayer, the following temporary officers were elected: Raymond Truelsen, chairman; John Berchmans, clerk; Lela Brandon, treasurer.

THE REV. GEORGE Beckstrom accepted the challenge of building a new Baptist congregation and became the first pastor.

Arrangements were made to rent suitable space in a local school, and the inaugural services were held in the foyer of Arlington Heights High School on July 10, 1955.



First Baptist Church of Arlington Heights

Assistance in the new endeavor in Arlington Heights was given by several Chicago area churches in the form of canvassing, visitation, and some financial aid.

THE PRESENT pastor, Dr. P. D. Mustric, a graduate of Trinity Seminary in Chicago, is a former optometrist who practiced in Highland Park and Park Ridge before he felt the call to the ministry.

The church now provides a full schedule of services and activities. These are Sunday School, morning worship, evening youth group meetings, evening praise service, midweek Awana clubs for boys and girls, midweek prayer and Bible study, Women's Missionary Fellowship, and Men's Fellowship.

"All these activities and services are geared to help people find Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour and Lord, and then to equip them for proper service for Him," Pastor Mustric said.

THE NEW church building contains 5,600 square feet and includes a sanctuary, pastor's study, Sunday School facilities, a fully equipped kitchen on the lower level, and a soundproof children's room in the balcony.

The church is located at 1211 W. Campbell on a three-acre site, and long-range plans call for construction of a Christian education unit, and then a larger sanctuary to the east of the present building location.

The dedication service this Sunday will be the culmination of almost seven years of effort put forth by the local group in order that they might have a church home of their own, Pastor Mustric said.

LITTLE MISS AUDREY Kummer sold the first V.F.W. "Buddy" poppy in Arlington Heights to Village Manager L. A. Hanson this week. For the rest of the people, the poppies, made by disabled American veterans, will be on sale this Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19. The sale is sponsored by Arlington V.F.W. Post 981. With Audrey and Hanson are Audrey's mother, Mrs. Raymond Kummer, post auxiliary chairman, and R. D. Reynolds, post chairman.

Advertise Again for School Sewer Bids

Alternate plans for construction of a sanitary sewer to the new Forest View High School south of Arlington Heights were discussed this week at the village board meeting, and the board authorized advertising for bids on the new proposal.

After it was thought arrangments were satisfactory, bids had been accepted on an earlier route but all were substantially higher that the estimated cost, except one which came in late and thus could not be considered.

The village had planned to run the sewer south on Meier Road from the existing sanitary district interceptor at Lincoln. The project was estimated to cost $36,124, but the lowest legitimate bid was $50,887.

A LATE BID quoted a cost of about $43,000 but could not be considered because of the time factor. Village Manager L. A. Hanson recommended the project not be readvertised because in the meantime one of the owners of property through which an easment was necessary balked.

The new route will begin at the sanitary district sewer at Algonquin Road, go up Algonquin and turn north through the property of E. L. Trendel, then west and north again to the Forest View school property.

Village Engineer Normal Toberman, who devised the new route, said it is a more natural route than the previous one, but does not offer as many possibilities for connection — i.e., does not open up as much territory to sanitary sewer facilities.

HOWEVER, he said it is a good route and has to go through only one area where an easement is necessary, Trendel's. And it does, he said, provide potential service for 436 acres in addition to Trendel's and the school's property.

The sewer can service all the potential village area south of Golf Road, on both sides of State Road.

Whether or not the village will follow through depends on whether the school will meet its share of the cost, whether or not the cost arrangement will prove suitable to Trendel, whether the bids are near the estimated cost, and whether financing proves feasible.

TOBERMAN said it is possible the cost might reach a total of $50,000, but it could be much lower since the sewer will be about five feet shallower than the one planned for the old route, reducing the cost considerably.

For comparison, the village also readvertised for bids on the previously proposed project.

Forest View High School is scheduled to open this fall.

For Fast Growth and Early Harvest...Buy Your TOMATO PLANTS IN Jiffy-Pots MADE OF PEAT

Your garden will get an earlier, healthier start—you'll be picking more and better tomatoes one to three weeks ahead of your neighbors.

WHY? Jiffy-Pots are made of molded peat moss impregnated with a special fertilizer. This means sturdier plants to start with.

Since the roots grow right through the pot walls, you simply plant Jiffy-Pot and all. Plants suffer no damaging setback, start right off—bloom earlier, bear heavier.

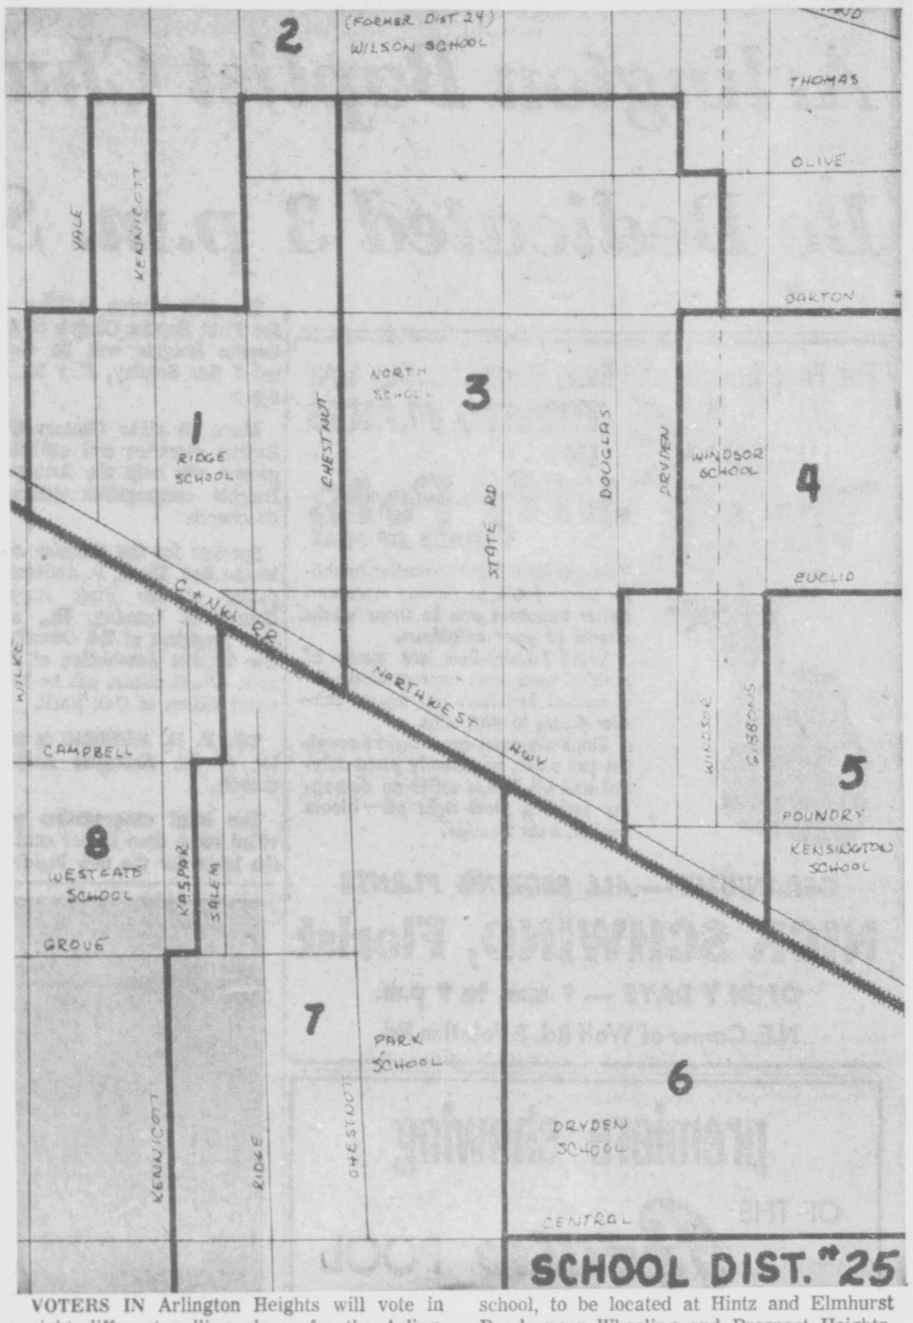
ELK GROVE RESIDENTS will have seven polling places available for the District 214 school bond referendum Saturday. Polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. No registration is necessary, but voters must have lived in the state one year, in Cook County 90 days and in the school district 30 days. At stake will be funds for furnishing and construction of a fourth high school in District 214 which covers Elk Grove and Wheeling townships. The new school, to be located at Hintz and Elmhurst Roads near Wheeling and Prospect Heights, will be opened for the 1964-65 school year if bonds are approved. This target date is vital, school officials say, to prevent overcrowding in Arlington, Prospect and Forest View High Schools.



VOTERS IN Arlington Heights will vote in eight different polling places for the Arlington-Prospect District 214 school bond referendum Saturday. The bond issue, to cover construction and furnishing of a fourth high school in the district, is for $4.9 million. The school, to be located at Hintz and Elmhurst Roads near Wheeling and Prospect Heights, will be designed for 2,500 students to prevent overcrowding or double sessions at Arlington, Prospect and Forest View High Schools.

New High School

25 Precincts Established For Election

To make voting in Saturday's referendum as convenient as possible for area residents, Arlington-Prospect High School District 214 officials have established 25 precincts and increased the time polls will be open by two hours.

At stake in the vote will be $4.9 million in bonds for the construction and furnishing of a fourth high school in the district which covers Elk Grove and Wheeling townships.

A separate issue on the ballot will give voters a voice in determining whether swimming pools should be included in the bond issue.

THE FOURTH school, to be located at Hintz and Elmhurst Roads near Wheeling, is needed for the 1964-65 school year, school officials stress. Failure to approve construction would mean serious overcrowding of Arlington, Prospect and Forest View High Schools, according to enrollment figures.

Polls will be opened at 10 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. For school elections polls are normally opened at noon. Members of a Citizens Lay Committee, which studied the need for the fourth high school, suggested the earlier opening, to enable Saturday morning shoppers to vote on their way home.

Maps of the precincts are shown for Arlington Heights and Elk Grove elementary school areas. There are eight precincts in Arlington Heights and seven in Elk Grove. All other areas of the high school district have only one or two precincts.

IN ALL CASES precincts and polls are the same as those used in the April 14 high school and elementary school board elections.

In Wheeling voters will go to Walt Whitman School, 133 S. Wille, or Mark Twain School, 515 E. Merle. In Buffalo Grove, the poll is at Louisa May Alcott School, Bernard Drive.

At Prospect Heights, voting will be held at North School, 700 N. Schoenbeck Road.

Mount Prospect voters will vote at Central School, Central and Emerson, and at Lincoln School, 700 W. Lincoln.

THE EIGHT Arlington Heights polls are Ridge School, Vine and Fernandez; Wilson School, 15 E. Palatine Road; North School, 410 N. State Road; Windsor School, 1315 E. Miner St.; Kensington School, 201 S. Evanston Ave.; Dryden School, Rockwell and Dryden; Park School, 306 W. Park St.; and Westgate School, 1211 W. Grove.

In Rolling Meadows, polls will be open at Kimball Hill School, School and Meadow Drives; and Jonas Salk School, 3705 Pheasant Drive.

The seven polling sites in Elk Grove elementary school district are Higgins School, 2720 E. Higgins Road; Rupley School, 305 E. Oakton Road; High Ridge Knolls School, 588 S. Dara James Road; Ridge School, 650 Ridge St.; Herzog School, 345 W. Walnut St., Waycinden Park; Model Home, 50 W. Roxbury Lane, Des Plaines; and Forest View School, 2123 S. Arlington Heights Road.

In the Feehanville School District, one polling place will be located in a model home at 224 E. Highland St., Mount Prospect. The other poll will be in the Feehanville School, 1400 E. Foundry Road.

Schroefer Wins Award At Illinois

At the Illinois Junior Academy of Science exhibit held at the University of Illinois on May 11, Ken Schroefer, a junior at Prospect High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schroeder, 1114 S. Wolf Road, Wheeling, won the Aeronautics Division "Outstanding Award" for his rocket design using a high performance nozzle.

Three other students from Prospect won first place awards at the same show. George Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Miller, 105 N. School St., Mount Prospect, won a first award in the Chemis sion for his synthetic rubber from wheat proje t.

Jon Pankau, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pankau, 209 S. Elmhurst, Mount Prospect, and Gary Marks, son of Mrs. C. Marks, 123 S. Wapella, Mount Prospect, who as a team produced the entry "Zone Electrophoresis" also won a first place.

Demo Women Meet Tuesday Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Wheeling Township Democratic Women's Club will be held on Tuesday, May 22, at 8 p.m. in the organization headquarters at 111 E. Davis St., Arlington Heights.

There will be a "mystery" guest speaker and entertainment which will necessitate knowing something about your candidates for the fall election, according to Ethel McSweeney, club spokesman.

TWO COUNSELORS from Arlington High were among 26 Chicago-area college counselors who visited six Minnesota colleges recently to become better acquainted with their facilities and academic programs. While visiting Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, the two counselors—Donald Schroeder and Miss Leotta Hampton—chatted with Judy Norman, 634 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights, a sophomore at Gustavus Adolphus. Other Minnesota colleges visited on the tour included Augsburg, Minneapolis; Hamline and Macalester, St. Paul; and Carleton and St. Olaf, Northfield.

PROSPECT HIGH COLLEGE Counsellor, Miss Mary J. Christie, was one of 26 high school counselors from the Chicago area who visited six Minnesota colleges recently to become better acquainted with their facilities and academic programs. While visiting Macalester College, St. Paul, Miss Christie talked with Donald Hober (left), the college Chicago area representative, and William Gramenz, director of admissions. Other colleges were Augsburg, Minneapolis; Hamline, St. Paul; Carleton and St. Olaf, Northfield; and Gustavus Adolphus, St. Peter.

'Wonderful Town' Is Near May 25 Opening

Following a month's postponement, Arlington High's production of "Wonderful Town" is nearing its May 25 and 26 showings.

The musical comedy version of "My Sister Eileen" will be staged in the boys' gym. Curtain time is 8 p.m. both nights, and tickets are available from cast members or at the door the evening of each performance.

Heading the cast are junior girls Linda Mittag, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mittag, 302 N. Gibbons, as Eileen; and Bonnie Luster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Luster, 704 W. George, as Eileen's sister, Ruth.

THE SHOW features music by Leonard Bernstein and lyrics by Betty Comden and Adolph Green.

Landlord of the Greenwich Village apartment which serves as the setting for the highly successful Broadway production is Doug Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cox, 522 S. Dryden.

The All-American footballer, Wreck, is played by Dan Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jennings, 3308 Owl Drive, Rolling Meadows; and his wife Violet will be portrayed by Paula Krueger.

OTHER CAST members are Tom McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGrath, 1222 Woodford, as the guide; Georgene Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, 837 S. Dunton, as Helen; Larry Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Wright, 1304 N. Dunton, as Fletcher.

John Latta, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Latta, 805 N. Judy Whittaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Whittaker, 105 N. Yale, as Mrs. Wade; Frank Renner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Renner, 6 W. Fairview, as Frank Lippencott; and Craig MacDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacDougall, 925 N. Patton, as Chick Clark.

Dancers include Carla Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson, 1105 Mayfair; Donna Aronson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Aronson, 15 S. Salem; Joan Kastning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kastning, 507 N. Pine; Betty Mees, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mees, 408 E. Euclid.

MOLLY MUSSER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Musser, 28 S. State; Betsy Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Sherman, 633 S. Beverly; Julie Strathearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Strathearn, 720 S. Bristol.

Cheryl Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Williams, 750 Pine; and Katy Wit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wit, 643 S. Newbury.

Director of the show is Dr. Robert Wolff, assisted by Vincent Ahnquist, Arlington vocal instructor. Music Department head Frederick Schmoyer will direct the orchestra.

Art instructors Ed Fischer and Jim Walker have designed the sets for the show, and Sue Hidding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hidding, 505 Banbury, is student director.

KEN SCHROEDER, a junior at Prospect High School, proudly displays the rocket which earned an "outstanding" rating and award at the Illinois Junior Academy of Science competition at the University of Illinois, Urbana, this week. Schroeder is assisted by George Miller, another Prospect student.

Prospect Prom to Be Held on May 29

"Moments in the Deep," Prospect High Junior - Senior Prom, will be held Tuesday, May 29 from 9 p.m. to midnight at the Flick-Reedy Co. in Bensenville.

Music will be provided by the Jimmy Dorsey orchestra, directed by Lee Castle, as the upperclassmen dance under the cathedral ceiling of the large hall.

With the aid of cellophane covering for the walls, the whole room will seem to be surrounded by rippling water.

THE ORCHESTRA will be seated in a sunken ship, flooded by green lights. Contributing to the aquatic atmosphere will be tropical fish and sea flowers scattered artfully about the room.

Ruth Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hansen, 405 S. Pine, Mount Prospect, is chairman of the decorations committee. She and her assistants are responsible for transforming the hall into the ocean bottom.

Selection of the underwater theme was made by a theme committee headed by Marcy Gerstung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wallace, 1006 W. Lincoln, Mount Prospect.

Flick-Reedy's catering service will provide the refreshments. Tempting nourishment has been promised by Steve Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Miller, 10 S. Gibbons, Arlington Heights, who is head of the refreshments committee. The food will be served by parents of the juniors.

FOLLOWING THE tradition of Prom night, parents of the juniors have planned the "After the Prom" celebration.

A Parisian theme will transform the Mount Prospect Country Club into Montmarte, the nightclub district of the great French city. After-the-prom celebrants may dance on two dance floors, listen to professional entertainers and eat an unlimited buffet dinner.

PROSPECT HIGH JOURNALISM teacher, Miss Ida Burleigh (center) adds her congratulations to George Denison, Joliet Township High School, on his election as president of the Northern Illinois School Press Association. Miss Burleigh is vice-president of the association. Also included in the picture are Dr. Donald Grubb, NISPA executive secretary, and Mrs. Bertha Rutledge, DeKalb, retiring president. Denison and Miss Burleigh were elected at the recent annual NISPA convention at Northern Illinois University.

Trustees Screening Potential Candidates

Members of the Arlington Heights Village Board have been sifting through prospective candidates, some 30 or more so far, to replace Trustee Richard Glantz who is resigning because he has accepted a new business position which necessitates a move to the East Coast.

Board members have been meeting informally to discuss the appointment and decide what criteria should be used in choosing someone to serve out Glantz' term on an interim basis until the next village election in 1963.

VILLAGE President John G. Woods said there are no "hard and fast" qualifications for the position, but that it might be desirable for the person to have a profession which would complement the others represented on the board (the board has three lawyers on it already, for instance), for him to have some degree of compatibility with the present board members, and some broad general agreement with the past actions of the board.

Most important of all, Woods said, would be the general caliber of the person — his judgment, honesty and intelligence.

WOODS ALSO said it might be desirable to have a local businessman on the board. All of these things and more will be considered, he added, and none will be determining in itself.

Whoever is chosen, he will serve until the election next April. Then someone, not necessarily, the appointee, will have to be elected to serve out the remaining two years of Glantz' term.

Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel has ruled that the board cannot officially choose someone to fill Glantz' seat until the vacancy actually occurs. Glantz had asked that his resignation become effective no later than June 1, so there is a possibility he will ask it be effective the night of May 28, when the board next meets. If so, the board probably will choose his successor then.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Now that we are approaching the heavy-driving season, let's review a few not-too-happy statistics: Seven out of eight accidents occur close to home . . . Eighty per cent of all accidents are the rear-end collision variety . . . Cuts and bruises are the most common injuries, followed closely by neck or back — whiplash — type of injuries . . . Any accident is distressing to contemplate, but they do happen, and broken auto glass is inevitable. Fast, efficient glass replacement can be counted on at PALATINE PAINT & GLASS CO., 9-11 N. "TWO SLATTERNS and a King," a fantasy on the part chance plays in life, was one of three one-act plays presented by the Marimasquers of Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic Girls High School in the initial performance of the newly-formed drama club. The play, written by Edna St. Vincent Millay, featured Louise Adamson, Marilyn Shea, Mimi Nelson and Marilyn Witek in the principal roles. The new girls school was opened last fall to a freshman class. The school is housed in temporary quarters at St. Viator High in Arlington Heights pending completion of the new girls school in Rolling Meadows.

THE MARIMASQUERS of Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic Girls High School, now holding classes at St. Viator's High in Arlington Heights, presented a full program of drama last week. The students (all freshmen this year) showed a wide variety in their selection of three one-act plays. One of the highlights of the program was "The Gooseberry Mandarin" given in authentic Chinese fashion. Playing the Mandarin was Patricia Vondrek, with Maureen Liston as The Willow Tree and Sue Sajdak as the Princess.

Graduating Class's Spring Fever Shows in Honor Roll

The fifth honor roll for Palatine-Schaumburg High Schools of the 1961-62 school year bears ample evidence to the increasing difficulty of studies as students advance toward graduation.

The six-week honor roll list shows 18 freshmen with perfect 5.0 grade averages. At the sophomore level this is halved, with only nine students in the perfect-grade category. There are only six juniors with the top grade listing, while just three seniors achieved the highest scholastic level.

Grade point averages are based on a system which gives 5 points for each "A", 4 points for "B" and 3 points for "C".

The three seniors in the top 5.0 grade group are Carl Archibald, Carl Noller and Peter Norton. Juniors in the 5.0 category are Georgia Bergman, Nickola Carter, Frederick Gluck, Charlene Kaiser, Suzanne Plate and Pamela Tietze.

The nine sophomores in the top group are Kathleen Crittenden, Thomas Eldridge, Kent Leifer, Bruce McIntosh, Robert Noonan, Richard T. Olson, Marjorie Schroeder, Patricia Squires and Gwen Stanfield.

THE 18 FRESHMEN in the "perfect score" listing are equal in number to those from all other three classes. The freshmen are Holly Anderson, John M. Anderson, Edward Arnett, Ernest Bonano, Paul Borgmeier, Stephen Iverson, Robert Kline, Gail Kniewel, Rickey Kolb and Charles McCaslin.

The balance of the 18 freshmen are John Olson, John Schaefer, Barbara Schroeder, Susan Schwenk, Gail Stahnke, Theodore Wachs, Joann Wlodarczyk and Richard Ziehm.

Other students on the highest honor list (those with a grade-point average of 4.5 or more and no grade lower than "B") are listed below by class groups:

Seniors—

Nicholaus Holleck, Kathleen Cegielski, Karen Meyer, Eileen Mulroy, Larry Newbanks, Cyrus Phillips, Jacqueline Segal, Reece Thome, Margaret Schlaffer, Gered Beeby, Carol Arseneau.

Dems Elect Erlander as President

Verner Erlander, 3108 Owl, Rolling Meadows, was elected president last week of the Palatine Township Democratic Organization.

Named vice president was William McFeggan, 2304 Rohlwing Road, Rolling Meadows; Secretary, Richard Hoffman, 1508 Joan Drive, Palatine; treasurer, E. P. Steinbrinck, 5 W. Wood St., Palatine; sergeant at arms, Joseph Jobst Jr., Palatine.

DEMOCRATIC Committeeman Oliver C. Dilks, noting that his primary election opponent John Rafferty and William Hickey attended the organizational meeting, said he thought this may be a sign that the party split of the heated election may be healing.

Rafferty previously had asked his supporters to support those Democratic ideals that were the aims during the spring election and asked that the followers work with the party. (KP

Demo Women Meet Thursday

A women's organization of the Palatine Township Democratic organization will conduct an organizational meeting Thursday evening, tonight, at the Democratic Headquarters, 42 E. Chicago Ave., Palatine.

Democratic Committeeman Oliver C. Dilks said the organization will be an "implementation of the regular party organization." He said those women interested in participating in the organization are welcome to attend. (KP

Off and Running

Saratoga (N.Y.) is the oldest operating American race track. It opened in 1864.

IN RECOGNITION of the contributions of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors to the economic well being of the community, Mayor John J. Woods of Rolling Meadows has proclaimed May 20 to 26 Realtor Week. "Realtors have raised the standards of the business of real estate through adherence to a strict code of professional and personal ethics which stands as an example to all in business life," he wrote, as Roy Heron, the city's only realtor, looked on. Bradshaw Supports Gifted Kid Study Proposed legislation resulting from a three-year study by the state legislature's Special Study Project for Gifted Children has received the support of David E. Bradshaw, Democratic candidate for the Illinois State Senate, 3rd District.

The legislation was proposed at a recent Governor's Conference held at the University of Chicago, in which Bradshaw participated.

The conference reported that the schools of Illinois bear a responsibility to diversify and deepen their educational programs to the extent of their resources.

RESPONSIBILITY, according to reports made at the conference, includes expansion of procedures to develop special talents, diversification of the school curriculum to meet special needs of children who display gifted talents or who show high leadership potential, and intensive staff selection and retaining programs for teachers, counselors and consultants.

The proposed legislation would give the local schools reimbursement for such programs at a fixed percentage of the state aid going to that school, not to exceed two per cent, creation of model programs throughout the state, a limited amount of continuing research and a program of special training for personnel to carry out such a program.

Bradshaw said that this was not an additional cost to education but a small redistribution of existing funds now being given to the schools.

HE ADDED that if any amendments were added to such legislation, which would create the possibility of added taxes, he would withdraw his support of such legislation.

Bradshaw labeled the proposed legislation "another step in the development of new methods of teaching." (KPH

Spring Music Concert Set This Sunday

All of the music organizations of Palatine - Schaumburg High School will be represented when the music department of the school presents its spring concert Sunday at 3 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The one-hour concert, directed by Wendy Kemp, Thomas L. Whiteside and John R. Shoemaker, will feature the following program:

"Fete Triumphal March and Ballet Egyptian" by the cadet band; "Adoremus Te" and "Cry Out and Shout" by the A Cappella choir; "As Torrents in Summer" and "Cherubim Song" by the girls' glee club; "Praise Ye the Lord" and "America, Our Heritage" by the freshman girls' glee club, and a medley of songs from "The Sound of Music" by the combined vocal groups.

THE STRING ensemble will play Bach's "Bouree in F Minor," and "Conversation and Landler," followed by the concert band with Holst's "Suite in F," "Percussion Espagnole," and "Totem Pole March."

As a finale, the combined instrumental and vocal groups will join in the preformance of "All Glory Laud and Honor." Admission is free to the general public. (KPH

Open House for Sandburg School

The Palatine-Rolling Meadows District 15 Board of Education will conduct open house for parents who have not yet visited the recently completed Carl Sandburg School, Rolling Meadows.

The "get-acquainted affair" will be conducted between 2 and 4 p.m. Sunday, May 27. The open house is in lieu of a dedication ceremony. (KP

Suburb PTA Workshops Set May 24

The annual meeting and workshops of the Northwest Suburban Council of Parent Teacher Associations will be held May 24 at Our Savior Methodist Church in Hoffman Estates.

Workshops will be held in magazine, scholarship, program, publicity, membership, hospitality, legislation, school education, treasurer, ways and means, safety, health, exceptional child, room mothers and principals.

Mrs. Leah LoMar, district 21 chairman, will lead the morning program workshop.

THE PRINCIPAL'S workshop will be conducted by E. S. Castor, superintendent of schools, Community Consolidated School District 15. Castor was recently given a life membership in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers by the Stuart R. Paddock PTA, Palatine.

"We hope that all next year's committee chairmen will attend. These workshops are held each year to help the chairmen develop leadership skills and to build future PTA leadership," said Mrs. Rodger R. Taggart, president of the Council.

The Northwest Suburban Council includes PTA units in Palatine, Barrington, Hoffman Estates and Rolling Meadows. (KPH

Teachers to Hear Jervis Talk Monday

Roy M. Jervis, dean of the Chicago Teachers College north side campus, will be the featured speaker Monday when teachers of Palatine-Rolling Meadows District 15 hold their annual meeting at Carl Sandburg School in Rolling Meadows.

Jervis, 48, holder of an AB degree from Battle Creek College, Battle Creek, Michigan, MA in botany from the University of Michigan, and a doctorate from that school where he wrote a thesis on plant life of eastern Cuba, has had a varied teaching career.

From 1945 to 1947 he taught in the Battle Creek public schools; from 1950 to 1954 he taught history and journalism at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Station High School; from 1954 to 1957 he was an assistant professor at Florida State College and from 1957 to 1960 served as director of earth science at East Texas State College. Youth Meet At Meadows Bowl May 18

Rolling Meadows community youth center will be held at the Rolling Meadows Bowl May 18, when the teens will spend the evening bowling.

There will be no activities at Carl Sandburg School Friday evening, as preparations are made for Saturday's all-day youth conference.

RESERVATIONS for the bowling party were made last week by 70 young people, who will bowl two lanes each under the arrangements made with the bowling alley management. The usual time cards will be distributed to center members as they leave the Bowl.

The regular schedule of activities will resume at Sandburg School May 25. (K

DONALD SWANSON, right, director of the Chicago regional office of the United States Post Office Department, officiated at the dedication of the new Rolling Meadows branch May 12. It was a moment of gratification as he presented a new flag to the branch superintendent, Glen I. Nyberg. American Legion Post 1251 color guard raised the flag on the pole over the new building as Len Pabich played the national anthem on the organ.

At Dedication Here

Postal Rate Increase Needed, Swanson Says

Postal rate increases recommended to Congress would ensure a fair distribution of postal costs between the taxpayer and the user of the mails, Donald Swanson, regional post office director, told Rolling Meadows citizens when he gave the dedication address for the new post office quarters May 12.

He cited a revenue deficiency of $865 million expected for the fiscal year ending June 30, and a prospect of an $886 million deficit for the year starting July 1, unless rates are raised.

"Only by correcting the present revenue deficiency can we remove a source of unjust criticism which has affected the morale of the postal worker," he said.

"AFTER WE have solved our financial problems, the improved atmosphere of public understanding will enable us to concentrate our full attention on serving the public through a great postal system."

Congress never intended that receipts from mail users should fall 21 per cent short of meeting obligations, he affirmed. Since World War II mail volume has increased 79 per cent; and per capita mail volume is up from 257 pieces to 365 pieces annually.

In every area in which it could take administrative action to improve finances, the department has done so, he said, but salary increases, railroad rates and modernization needs have largely offset the 1958 rate increase.

SWANSON GAVE good and valid reasons why first-class mail should pay more than actual cost: highest value to the patron, convenience of thousands of street collection boxes and business office chutes, privileges and guarantees of forwarding, re-forwarding and return without further charge. "The added value of these premium services is not reflected in costs," he said.

Air mail, which receives top priority service, does not pay adequate postage for value received, according to the director.

"Magazines are, in effect, asking taxpayers to subsidize their race for new subscriptions offered at greatly reduced prices," Swanson charged, noting that revenues from second-class mail (magazines and newspapers) cover only about 23 per cent of costs. The proposed $53.4 boost in this class would bring the coverage up to about 40 per cent.

HE QUOTED the report to Congress as questioning: "Is there any consistency in the position of publishers who protest a one-cent postage increase while they continue to load the mails with millions of copies each year at 50 per cent off already reduced subscription prices and as much as 70 per cent off their cover prices?"

The increase in third-class volume since 1928 has been the most rapid among all mail classes, according to Swanson's statistics. Despite four rate increases, third-class mail has increased from 6 to nearly 18 billion pieces since 1946.

"There is no evidence to suggest that postal rate increases have had any disturbing effect on the basic volume trend of diect mail," he quipped. But third-class mail pays only 66 per cent of its costs. The proposed boost will bring this up to 90 per cent coverage. (K

TO DEBORAH MEARES, 3503 Bluebird Lane, went the honor of clipping the ribbon at the new Rolling Meadows post office dedication Saturday, as Mrs. Virginia Dodge, Arlington Heights postmistress in charge of the local branch, looked on. Deborah's father, Elmer Meares, is a supervisor in the Arlington office.

With Ceremony

Dedicate New Post Office

New quarters for the Rolling Meadows branch post office were officially dedicated with pomp and ceremony May 12.

The festive occasion opened with a musical interlude, with Len Pabich at the organ, and concluded with open house in the new building at the west end of the Rolling Meadows shopping center, where refreshments were served by members of the Junior Woman's Club.

The affair gave Donald Swanson, regional director of the Post Office Department, an opportunity to inform the citizens of the reasons behind the proposed postal rate increases.

IT GAVE Ted Small, first president of the Rolling Meadows Chamber of Commerce, an opportunity to seek Swanson's cooperation in elevating the local facility to a full-fledged post office instead of branch status.

Bringing charm to the speakers' platform was Mrs. Virginia Dodge, Arlington Heights postmistress, who beamed with pride over the new branch under her jurisdiction.

A number of her colleagues, postmasters from neighboring towns, attended the celebration, to congratulate both Mrs. Dodge and the branch superintendent, Glen I. Nyberg, on the rapid growth of the Rolling Meadows post office.

HOW THE city has grown was illustrated by Stuart R. Paddock Jr., who briefly outlined the history of the Rolling Meadows Herald. Mayor John J. Woods reflected the city's pride as he welcomed the visiting dignitaries, who were introduced by Bert Trager, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, co-sponsors with the Post Office Department of the afternoon's program.

American Legion Post 1251 presented the colors and raised the new flag presented by Swanson to fly over the building, as the national anthem was sung. Rev. James Halpin of St. Colette Catholic Church gave the invocation and benediction. (K

"FOLDING MONEY!" exclaimed Delores Flynn, as the Chamber of Commerce Fourth of July celebration committee lined up at her check-out counter in Jim Paroubek's Ace Hardware store to kick off the fireworks display fund drive. From left are Jim Service, Doug Douglas, Chairman Jim Scheffler and Bert Trager, all working hard along with Paroubek to give Rolling Meadows a bang-up celebration. Cannisters are in all the downtown stores. The goal is a display equal to the city's fifth anniversary climax.

Forest View News

This is a reminder to Forest View area residents to vote on the District 214 High School Bond Issue, May 19. Several people have mentioned that this doesn't include those in the new Forest View High School District as we have a new high school. It is of concern to this area, as Forest View, Arlington, Prospect and the new school in Wheeling are all in District 214. In a few years, with all the new homes being built, our schools will be crowded and on double shifts if we don't keep up with these new homes.

Included on the bond issue will be a bill for swimming pools for Wheeling and Forest View High Schools. Many people do not know that both the Prospect and Arlington High School swimming teams have been bussed to the YMCA pool for the past year. Also, that these pools could be used by area residents when not in use by the school.

Voting will be at Forest View Elementary School, Arlington Heights Road, Saturday, May 19, frm 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

May 23, at Forest View School, two movies will be shown, "Lucky You" and "Wonderful World."

MRS. ANTHONY Elshout of Ferndale, Mich., and Mrs. S. W. Gauger of Lombard, sisters of Mrs. Mel Lawrence, Briarwood Drive, have been spending several days at the Lawrence home.

Dr. and Mrs. Roger Bardwell, Briarwood Drive, were guests on Thursday at the Herzog faculty luncheon.

Edward Johnson of Evanston and Mrs. Beverly Sweeney of Chicago were guests on Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holfeld, Briarwood Drive. Saturday, Herbert Spencer of New Orleans visited the Holfelds. Sunday the family visited the Cal Kramers in Glenview, where Nannette and Adrienne attended a ballet recital in which Robin and Sherry Kramer performed.

Keith, young son of the Arthur Wehnerts of Chicago, is spending several weeks with the Gordon Lords on Briarwood Drive.

Saturday evening the Stan Adamsons, Briarwood Drive, entertained the W. D. Scotts of Milwaukee, John Bakers of Mount Prospect and the E. G. Mays and the Phillip Kepplers of Skokie.

THE HOWARD Koepke family, S. Belmont, attended the May 5 wedding of their nephew, Warren Berg, and Rosemary Stadler in St. John Church in Villa Park and the reception at Neilson's Restaurant.

May 6, Mrs. Koepke and Linda attended a baby shower for her daughter-in-law, Irene Koepke, given by Irene's sister in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Anna Wagner and Mrs. Luella Koepke, S. Belmont, grandmothers, also attended.

The Robert Hutchings family, S. Arlington Heights Road, had as Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Craver and Mrs. Vivian Hagie from Glenview.

Sunday afternoon the Thomas Baldassari family, W. Golf Road, joined by Tom's brothers and sister, spent some time with their mother, Mrs. Martha Baldassari in Maywood.

The Robert Hankes, S. Douglas, had the Michael Holajn family of Des Plaines as dinner guests Saturday evening. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klemens and Mrs. Klemens' mother were dinner guests.

Saturday the Robert Wulffs, S. Douglas, entertained the Benjamin Rosses of Des Plaines for dinner. The Herman Wulffs of Des Plaines were guests for Mother's Day dinner.

A WELCOME IS extended to new residents of the area, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Braun. They have moved to W. Algonquin Road from Tucson.

May 9, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Giesler celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary. Mother's Day was spent with the senior James Gieslers in Mount Prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arient, Algonquin Road, were joined by their children and grandchildren on Mother's Day. Mr. Arient celebrated his 75th birthday on May 16.

The Leslie Kijak family, S. Algonquin, visited the Louis Behrens in Huntley last Saturday evening.

Friday evening Mrs. Bernard Olson, Janet and Joyce and Mrs. John Nitz, Lina and Jackie, Elk Grove Road, and Mrs. Gerrit Vander Zeil, Arlington Heights Road, attended a mother and daughter social in the First Christian Reformed Church of Des Plaines.

Sunday dinner guests of the John Nitz family were Marge's parents, the Norman Newlands of Chicago, and her brother and nephew, the Norman Newlands and Keith of Skokie.

Saturday evening visitors of the Gerrit VanderZeils were the H. Zegers family of Northbrook.

MR. AND MRS. Carl Baardsen, Estates Drive, entertained with a party for the third birthday of their daughter, Carlene, on May 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Gale, Estates Drive, attended a First Communion party Sunday afternoon in Des Plaines for Debbie Thalman. In the evening they attended a Bar Mitzvah in the Sovereign Hotel, Chicago, for Sandy Stelzer.

Celebrating Mother's Day, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Serpone, Estates Drive, had dinner for their mothers, Mrs. Mary Addeo and Mrs. Rose Serpone.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Worts, Estates Drive, hosted an evening gathering on Mother's Day. Guests were Ray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Worts, and Rosemary's father and grandmother, Thomas Arico and Mrs. Immaculata Galante.

VINCENT MARINELLI, Estates Drive, was confirmed May 8 in St. Raymond Church, Mount Prospect. His sponsor was his godfather, Phillip Di Domenico, also of Estates Drive. Following the ceremony, friends and relatives were invited to the Marinelli home for coffee.

Friday and Saturday Mrs. Eleanor Waitkus of Chicago was a guest of the Tom Kellys, Estates Drive. On Mother's Day, Tom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kelly Sr., were dinner guests.

It was a busy week for the Otto Gorgius family, S. Busse Road. Tuesday Loraine was a luncheon guest of Mrs. Herbert Drengber in Niles; Wednesday she had her aunt and uncle, the D. Wilhelms of Lake Villa, as luncheon guests; and on Friday another aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gallert of Plano, were guests for dinner and the evening. Otto showed slides taken at the Gallerts' last summer. Otto's parents, the Willy Gorgiuses, and nephew, Scott, of Chicago and Linda Koepke were Mother's Day guests.

KEVIN MARTIN, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hengler, Kim Avenue, was christened in St. Raymond Church, Mount Prospect, on May 6. Sponsors were Mrs. Hengler's brother, Dennis Hoffmann, and Mrs. Ted Garvos. A buffet supper after the baptism was attended by Kevin's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hengler of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoffman of Palatine, and the Ted Garvos family.

Anniversary greetings go to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Serpone, May 18; and to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Surganty, May 19.

Birthday greetings this week go to Jenny Bardwell, Cheryl Rossberg, Oralia Cano, Betty Mueller, Joe Wuchterl and Delores Hengler. (AME

List Appointments For Women's Club

Appointments to the board of directors of the Wheeling Township Republican Women's Club were announced this week by Mrs. George Coker of Arlington Heights, president.

The list includes Mrs. Walter Brown, immediate past president of the group, who will serve as campaign activities chairman. Other chairmen include Mrs. A. J. Baugous, ways and means; Mrs. William Stockdale, education; and Mrs. Bert Jordan, membership.

Also named are Mrs. William Andrew, by-laws and revisions; Mrs. Franklin Friday, club newsletter; and Mrs. T. W. Novotny, publicity.

MRS. COKER also listed assignments for present board members. Mrs. Robert Elder, first vice president, will continue as program chairman.

Mrs. Eugene Schlickman, second vice president, will serve as chairman of the legislation and resolutions committees.

"Girls On Parade," the women's club project in which "flying squads" are organized to do Republican canvassing in the precincts, will be headed by Mrs. Donald Bunton, sergeant-at-arms.

Other officers of the club for 1962-63 are Mrs. Willis Jensen, secretary, and Mrs. J. T. Davis, treasurer.

CHAIRMEN OF special committees include Mrs. Paul Hembd, hospitality, and Mrs. Donald Anderson, publication production. Mrs. C. S. Hansen and Mrs. G. E. Goewy will serve as delegates to the 13th Congressional District Republican Women's Club.

At the next regular membership meeting of the club, the speaker will be Harold C. Lewis of Deerfield. His presentation will include the controversial film "Operation Abolition," and the audience will be invited to participate in a question session.

The meeting will be held Thursday, May 24, at 8 p.m. in the Arlington Heights Savings and Loan community room. The public is invited.

LEWIS IS executive vice president of a brokerage firm. He is an alumnus of the Department of the Interior in Washington, D. C., having served in the Petroleum Administration under the late Harold Ickes.

As an avocation he conducts lecture series on the subject of Communism, which he has been studying for 30 years. He recently completed a series at Lake Forest College, as well as one under the joint sponsorship of the union and the management at the Ekco-Alcoa plant in Wheeling.

Republican women interested in becoming members of the club are invited to call Mrs. Bert Jordan, membership chairman, at CL 9-3089. (ACM

Not Serious About Transport Ills: Planner

Nation Lacking in Real Cooperation

by JOHN REDDY

The nation is not at this time "really serious about solving its transportation problems," Walter H. Blucher of Detroit, nationally known planning consultant, said last week.

In general in large cities, actual cooperation between those responsible for highways, transit and urban redevelopment is a "matter of words rather than deeds," Blucher contended.

Blucher's remarks were made at the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Housing and Planning Council, held at the Pick-Congress Hotel, where he served as moderator for a panel of the heads of systems.

And even though the three transportation heads agreed that coordination of various interests is essential to any solution, the fact that strong, conflicting opinions were voiced on local, real problems, stood out in direct support of Blucher's comments.

THE THREE Chicago speakers were Ben W. Heineman, chairman, Chicago and North Western Railway; Virgil E. Gunlock, chairman, Chicago Transit Authority, and William J. Mortimer, superintendent, Cook County Department of Highways.

Mortimer and Gunlock joined in praising the Chicago Area Transportation Study, results of which are expected to be released in July. The $2 million study has been six years in the making.

Heineman took issue with Gunlock's proposal that it would be in the best public interes to install a transit service along the median of the Northwest Expressway.

GUNLOCK SAID "It's a sad thing if the 30,000 estimated users should be deprived of this CTA service" because of the impact the development might have on the Chicago and North Western Railway.

Heineman, however, stressed what he called "a significant distinction" between the C&NW and the CTA and highways. It is tax paying, privately owned "while the CTA and highways are tax using and publicly owned."

"There are not moral distinctions," Heineman declared, "these are distinctions which everyone must bear in mind."

ACCORDING to Heineman, the installation of a rapid transit system along the Northwest Expressway would compete with five C&NW stations, attracting some 3,000 commuters that represent 10 per cent of the line's suburban passenger revenue.

"This would materially impair transportation throughout our suburban territory where 70,000 suburbanites are served daily," Heineman said, stressing in addition, the affect of loss of tax the railroad pays to local school and government districts.

The difference of opinion reflected in the attitudes of the CTA and the C&NW is recognized by many planning and transportation experts as typical of the down-to-earth problem that has delayed for so long the development of a coordinated program for efficient movement of people and goods.

MORTIMER SAID his organization proposed a plan in 1954 only to have it placed on the shelf. He noted, however, that three of the proposal's items — comprehensive transportation study, toll road study, and the development of median strips for rapid transit — have actually been adopted.

He said he thought there are sufficient limited-access roads serving the downtown area, noting that Chicago has the best potential for an expressway net serving a central business district.

Heineman took occasion to again urge that the Illinois legislature establish a Chicago area Transportation Authority that would recognize the transportation problem, plan solutions and have the funds, personnel and power to enact them.

THE PROBLEMS of commuter operations are so grave, he said, that "the possibility of community ownership is not completely intolerable" to his company.

He predicted, however, that any such proposals would meet serious opposition among school districts and other local government units that depend on railroad taxes for revenue.

He criticized the CTA for proceeding "unilaterally" in appealing to the legislature and to Congress for funds to extend lines without consulting with affected commuter railroads to reach agreements on plans.

Detroit Suburbs Battle City Tax

DETROIT, UPI—The Vigilance Tax Committee was scheduled to file suit in Wayne County Circuit Court challenging the imposition of Detroit's city income tax on non-residents who work in Detroit.

The committee charged that Detroit has no authority under the state constitution to impose a one per cent payroll tax on persons who do not live in Detroit, even though they work there. The tax is scheduled to go into effect July 1.

THE CITY OF Warren already has taken the first step toward imposing a retaliatory tax, and six other suburban Detroit communities were contemplating similar measures.

But a committee spokesman urged that the suburbs hold off such a retaliatory action. The communities, he said, should give the court enough time to pass on the legality of the Detroit tax. (A-14

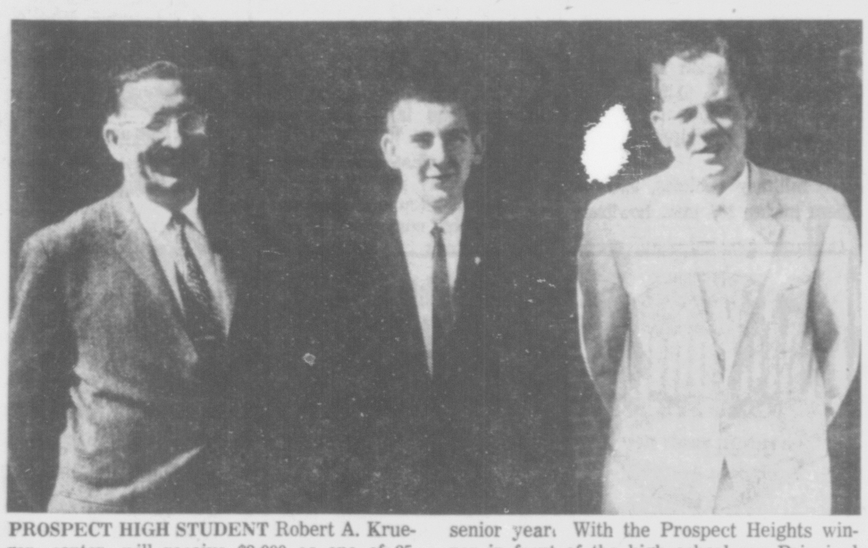
A $2,000 SCHOLARSHIP from Jewel Tea Company was awarded last night to Victor H. Trumpy (center) at the Sixth Annual Scholarship Dinner of the firm at the Congress Hotel, Chicago. The dinner was attended by the 25 scholarship winners, their parents and principals, and student representatives from each Jewel Tea food store. Pictured with Trumpy in front of Arlington High are Principal Eugene F. Oliver and Kenneth Kolls, manager of Jewel Food Store, 11 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights.



PROSPECT HIGH STUDENT Robert A. Krueger, center, will receive $2,000 as one of 25 students named last night as a winner of a Jewel Tea Co. scholarship. Winning students were given extensive tests and screening, and were required to work an average of 15 hours per week in a Jewel Food Store during their senior year. With the Prospect Heights winner in front of the high school are Principal Alvin L. Kulieke and Ed Muska, manager of the Jewel Food Store at 9 E. Camp McDonald Road, Prospect Heights, where Krueger was employed.

Two Students Win Jewel Scholarships

Two seniors of Arlington-Prospect High School District 214 were named as winners of annual Jewel Tea Co. scholarships at the Sixth Anual Scholarship Award dinner of the firm last night in the Congress Hotel, Chicago.

Both boys - one from Arlington High and one from Prospect High - were given $2,000 scholarships, awarded at a rate of $500 each year. The youths were two of 25 winners selected for the 1962 scholarships.

The winners are Robert A. Krueger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Krueger, 306 E. School Lane, Prospect Heights; and Victor H. Trumpy Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor H. Trumpy, 417 Dryden, Arlington Heights.

COMPETITION for these awards began last fall when a total of 343 high school seniors filed applications. A series of tests administered by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J., was used to help screen applicants and a careful study was made of their high school records. The final selection was made by a scholarship committee composed of three impartial educators.

All of the students were required to work an average of at least 15 hours per week in a Jewel Food Store throughout their senior year.

Presiding at the award dinner was George L. Clements, president of Jewel Tea. The students were recognized in the presentation by Franklin J. Lunding, chairman of the board of directors of the firm.

SPEAKER OF the evening was Robert E. (Bob) Richards, America's "Vaulting Vicar," an ordained minister and outstanding Olympic athlete.

Trumpy worked at the Jewel Store at 11 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights. At his part-time job he faced shelves, trimmed produce and helped in the parking lot.

He was in the top 10 per cent of his class at Arlington. At high school he was a member of the Latin and Math Clubs and participated in sports. He plans to enter the University of Wisconsin in the fall.

KRUEGER WAS employed at the Jewel Store at 9 E. Camp MacDonald Road, Prospect Heights. He stocked dairy products and frozen food, trimmed produce and parceled orders for customers.

At Prospect, Krueger earned a four-semester honor pin and was in the top 10 per cent of his class. He played in the band, taking awards in solo trombone competition. He participated in Cross Country, was a member of the Industrial Arts Club and the Golf Team.

Krueger plans to enter Denver University in September.

The award dinner was attended by parents of winners, principals of the winners' schools and one part-time student employee from each Jewel Food Store.

IN RECOGNITION of the fact that tuition costs per student in private colleges and universities are in excess of the funds provided by the awards, the Jewel T Foundation will make an unrestricted grant equal to one-half of the school tuition or one-half of the scholarship, whichever is the lesser, to each such institution selected by scholarship winners.

The 1962 scholarship awards totaled $90,000. In the first five years of the scholarship program, 132 awards were made totalling $46,000. With the 25 new winners, the total is raised to 157 awards with a value of $496,000.

Final Plans Laid for Memorial Day Parade

Final plans were laid this week and the order of march set for the floats, drill teams, bands and other units which will participate in the Memorial Day parade in Arlington Heights the morning of Wednesday, May 30.

Guests of honor at the subsequent ceremonies at Memorial Park will include Sen. Paul H. Douglas; Brig. Gen. Kermit L. Davis, commanding general at the Nike base; and Don Knapp, a local businessman, who will be presented with a citizens citation by VFW Post 981 in Arlington Heights, sponsor of the Memorial Day program.

All units for the parade will assemble at Dunton and South Streets, rain or shine, at 9 a.m. The parade will begin at 9:30 and ceremonies are scheduled for 10:30 a.m. at Memorial Park.

THE LINE of march will be: north on Dunton to Euclid Avenue; west on Euclid to Chestnut; south on Chestnut to Memorial Park.

John H. Bickley Jr., a major in the Marine Corps Reserve and a village trustee in Mount Prospect, will give the address of the day. William Milligan will be master of ceremonies, and the Rev. Daniel Reardon, CSV, of St. Viator's High School, will give the invocation and benediction.

Mary Ann Laseke, accompanied by a U.S. Navy band, will lead the audience in the "Star Spangled Banner."

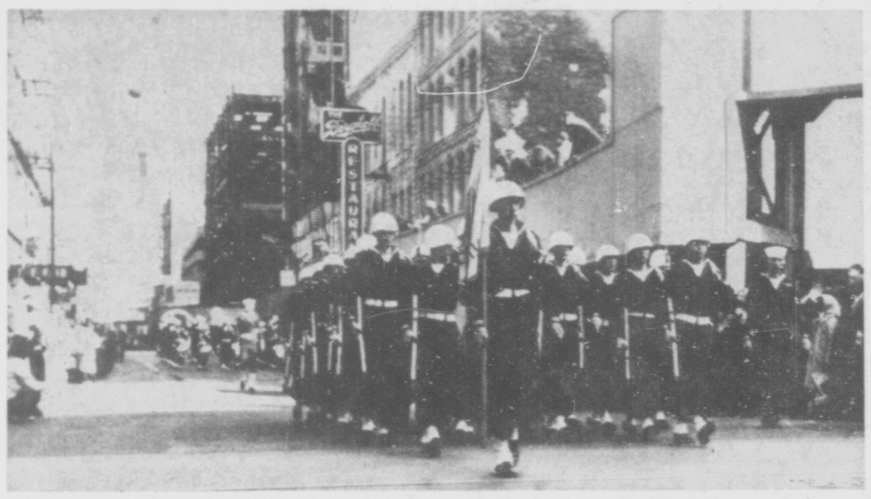
DISTINGUISHED guests will include many military officers; John G. Woods, village president; Eugene Oliver, principal of Arlington High School; Harvey Carothers, fire chief; L. W. Calderwood, chief of police; and Comdr. Wallace Daughtry, USNR, village Civil Defense director.

Sylvester Greschner, parade marshal, urges village residents to fly the flag of the United States on Memorial Day half-mast until noon when it should be raised to the top of the staff.

During the parade, all men not in uniform should remove their hats and place their right hand over their heart as the colors pass by and again when taps are sounded, in honor of all war dead of our country.

A PARTIAL listing of the more than 35 units slated to participate in the parade includes:

Many boy scout and girl scout and affiliated groups; military and veterans drum and bugle corps and drill teams; a U.S. Navy band; civic and fraternal organization floats and units; two companies of troops and five military vehicles, two of them towing 105 mm. howitzers.



THE DRILL TEAM from the U. S. Naval Training Center at Great Lakes will be one of the many units participating in the Memorial Day parade in Arlington Heights, sponsored by V. F. W. Arlington Post 981. The team is commanded by Lt. (j.g.) E. M. Hart. A drum and bugle corps, and band from Great Lakes also will participate.

Delay Involuntary Land Annexation

An involuntary annexation was delayed Monday night at the Arlington Heights village board meeting to give the administration time to notify the property owner involved of the impending action.

The property is located on the south side of Palatine Road in the Hasbrook subdivision area, and Village Manager L. A. Hanson said the property is not well-kept up, and there are other complaints.

The house and property were identified as belonging to Elmer Luhrsen, of 1011 W. Palatine Road. Although surrounded by the village, it has never been annexed.

IN SUCH circumstances, when the property does not exceed six acres, the village can annex it by ordinance without a hearing and without even notifying the property owner that his land is about to be annexed.

This was what was contemplated Monday night but Trustee Norval Stephens objected. Although he concurred in the belief that the best way to clear up the area, if it is a problem, is to annex it to the village, he said the owner should have prior notification of what the board intends.

He was backed up in his objection by Trustee William Sauer.

Stephens made a motion that the matter be placed on the agenda for the board meeting this Monday night, May 21, and the property owner be notified of this beforehand. The motion passed unanimously.

Stock Books on Music At Arlington Library

By BETTY AINSLIE

Most children seem to be born with a love of music, and fortunate are the boys and girls who have the opportunity to study the musical instrument of their choice.

According to Miss Edith Lindsey, children's librarian at Arlington Heights public library, the books on music and song are popular with all ages of youngsters, and some brand new books have recently been added to the shelves.

"Your Career in Music," by Harriett Johnson, helps fill a demand for an accurate and complete guidebook to the field of music for the youngster who thinks he might enjoy a musical career.

THE AUTHOR takes up the work of the concert artist, the teacher, the orchestral player, the composer, opera singer, organ player and writer.

If you would like to make music a thoroughly enjoyable and important part of family life, read the book called "Music for Family Fun" by Harriet Buxton Barbour. This book encourages music appreciation by active participation as a family group, and covers such subjects as: Selecting the first instruments; learning to read music; playing rhythmic games and [illegible] family song fests; starting a family band; learning [illegible]ances; making musical instruments; and others.

A book that gives a complete but concise history of this country's music is "A Short History of Music in America," by Howard and Bellows. This book takes up music's early beginnings, Revolutionary and Civil War music, ragtime, symphonies and modern jazz. It is an easily understood reference book.

"THE FIRST Book of Jazz," by Langston Hughes, is small but mighty. It tells how jazz, a music form as American as apple pie, started. Beginning with the roll of African drums, the dancing quadrilles of New Orleans where jazz as we know it was born, the work songs of the levees, the spirituals, the blues, the offbeat ragtime, all went into this thing called jazz.

"American Folk Songs for Children," by Ruth Crawford Seeger, has all the time-tested songs for little children. Mrs. Seeger has spent many years teaching music to youngsters and this book, complete with words, music and illustrations, will delight that primary age child who likes to sing.

Two new story books which have been written about composers are: "Stephen Foster and His Little Dog Tray," by Opal Wheeler, and "Mozart," by Manuel Komroff.

A NEW BOOK called "The Echo Song" by Rosalie Frey is about a small town in Wales and the Morgan family. The main character, a girl named Bronnie, is convinced she is a misfit in her happy but musical family as she hasn't inherited a bit of this kind of talent. On the suspenseful night of the song contest, in which her father has entered a song, Bronnie plays an important and unexpected part.

"Singing Windows" by Mary Young might not be a book strictly on music but I couldn't resist the beautiful illustrations and wonderful story of the history and legend of stained glass windows. Through fact and fancy, simple narrative and illustrations by the author, the biblical stories and legends are told in the windows of world famous cathedrals. (A

Never before has so much engineering know-how been poured into a 6-hp tractor. Speed of attachment-change alone puts the HUSKY 'way out in front of its competition. BOLENS engineers call the HUSKY'S 3-point hitch (with splined power take-off) "the half-minute hitch"... and they're being conservative.

Eleven Fast-Switch attachments mean year-round usefulness. Mow with the 32-inch rotary mower shown above. A 22-inch tiller attachment gives you easy, convenient tilling. The 32-inch Sno-Caster makes snow removal a pleasure... for light snow use the 42-inch grader blade. These and seven other attachments make the HUSKY 600 an all-season worker.

Park District Survey Results Under Study

Results of a survey of areas adjacent to the Arlington Heights Park District but not included in either it or any other park district are being studied to determine whether or not a referendum should be scheduled to allow the residents to vote on annexation to the district.

Seven general areas were surveyed: Lynnwood, Arlington Knolls, Arlington Gardens, Forest View, Pinehurst, Hickory Meadows, and Arlington Countryside.

In some, the vote was about even, in others definitely in favor of annexation to the park district, in others definitely against. In most cases, however, only 30 to 35 per cent of the cards sent out were returned so the results cannot be termed conclusive.

BUT THEY do give some indication of the sentiments of the residents of those areas.

Tom Thornton, superintendent of parks, said the areas he believed would vote in favor of annexation to the district are Hickory Meadows, Arlington Gardens, and perhaps Forest View. Definitely opposed are Arlington Countryside, Pinehurst, and perhaps Arlington Knolls.

If a referendum is held, the people already in the park district will have to vote in favor of accepting the new areas, and the people residing in those areas will have to vote in favor of annexing to the district. In each case, a simple majority is all that is needed.

MANY OF the people who returned cards with a negative response cited higher taxes as their reason for not wanting to annex, and many of the responses indicated the people did not know exactly what annexation would involve.

Thornton said some seemed to think that annexation to the park district also meant annexation to the village, which is not true.

As for the tax increase which homeowners would pay if they annex, Thornton said it probably would amount to about $20 or $25 a year. As a rule of thumb, he said, a person could figure it would be about five per cent of his present property tax.

"THE COST would be about the same as the cost of a family season pass to the swimming pools," Thornton said.

The areas surveyed, with the number of cards returned marked "for," "against," and "undecided," and the number of cards mailed in parentheses, are:

Lynnwood (124), 14-21-8; Arlington Knolls (101), 13-35-5; Arlington Gardens (203), 22-22-22; Forest View (101), 17-18-3; Pinehurst (87), 9-27-1; Hickory Meadows (30), 3-1-4; Arlington Countryside (120), 5-34-4.

Money-wise families have found a modern way to keep budgets healthier

Guess who signs the checks in this family?

The answer may surprise you. You see, they both do, because each has a separate checking account.

Why two accounts? As family treasurer, she uses her account to handle regular operating expenses. His account takes care of the larger and less frequent payments. There's less chance for misunderstandings, more harmony all around.

Perhaps this idea is worth trying in your family. It's one of the exclusive advantages offered by a full-service bank—such as ours. And because you can also save and make all kinds of loans, our full range of services adds up to easier one-stop banking.

There is an important extra, too. Doing all your banking at one place helps you build a sound financial standing. Why not see how our full-service bank can help you make the most of your money.

At Junior High

Spend $27,283 On Equipment

The budget for the Miner Junior High School addition was approved Monday night by the District 25 Board of Education. The approved total for equipping the 17 additional rooms was set at $27,283.

Of this, $12,927 is for classroom and office furniture, and the remainder is for specialized equipment such as audio-visual materials, maps and globes, shop and home economics equipment.

The new addition, which almost doubles the classroom space at Miner Junior High, will provide for particular improvements in the art, physical education, shop and science programs at the school.

IN THE science department, for instance, students have had use of only one improvised science classroom. Four new science rooms are included in the addition, which will allow an expanded and improved program of instruction.

In the art department, the addition will add considerably to the program, providing a room for three-dimensional art projects such as pottery and silk screen work.

Lack of space prevented inclusion of this phase of art in the current program at Miner.

IN THE shop program, a new room will contain electrical test benches, allowing for more practical application of the theories of electricity the students learn in the science program.

The physical education room will not be equipped as a regular gymnasium with a basketball court or baskets, but will be utilized for more personal development such as physical fitness programs and wrestling.

Q. What would be an appropriate note of appreciation to write to a friend who was especially thoughtful at the time of one's bereavement?

A. Just be very simple and sincere, as, "When Mother passed away, you were very kind, Mrs. Anderson, and I want to thank you. Come to see me when you find time."

Prospect 'After Prom' Party Plans Are Told

Plans for the Prospect High School "After the Prom" party have been announced by the Parents After-the-Prom Committee. The affair, to be called "Midnight In Paris," will be held Tuesday, May 29, at the Mount Prospect Country Club .

The setting for the event is "Paris." "The guests will be surrounded by all the elegance and charm of some of Paris' most celebrated places," explained Rollie Gerrard, general chairman of the committee.

The Montmarte area will be set up in a huge tent just outside the club house and guests will enter the Montmarte through a replica of the Arc de triomphe.

Inside the tent the center of attraction will be the Follies Bergere stage featuring two professional stage shows.

HEADING THE shows will be Johnny Bachemin, leading dancer and entertainer; Stanley Burns, comedian and ventriloquist; Joe Sodja, guitarist formerly featured with Fred Waring; and a "surprise" girl singing star.

Music will be furnished by Bert Rose and his orchestra and Dean Conner's Band. Dancing will be in both the club house and on a specially-constructed dance floor in the Montmarte tent.

Guests going from the Montmarte to the club house will walk along the Avenue des Champs Elysees which the committee promises to make a "colorful reproduction of one of the world's finest thoroughfares."

"JUST AS PARIS is known for its excellent cuisine, the 'piece de resistance' of the Midnight In Paris party will be the food," Gerrard said. Students and guests will dine at their leisure in the atmosphere of the world-famous Maxim's Cafe. The committee stresses they can eat as much as they want as often as they feel like it.

The club house will be decorated to represent other popular places in Paris. As guests roam from one spot to another in the club house and tent, they will get a "glimpse of the excitement and gaiety of Paris nightlife," the committee indicated.

A unique feature will be professional sidewalk artists who will draw caricatures and present them to guests without charge. Tin-type photographers will be set up along the streets of Paris to make "tin-type" Polaroid pictures of the young couples.

GERRARD pointed out that "The party has been planned to provide entertainment and activities for everyone.

The committee expressed appreciation to the Mount Prospect Park District for their assistance and cooperation in securing the facilities of the Country Club.

Ticket applications and details will be mailed to all juniors and seniors. The signed form must be returned to the school to purchase tickets. Tickets will be on sale at the same time that Prom tickets are being distributed.

Cost of tickets is $15 per couple, with the purchase deadline set for Friday, May 25.

Okay $35,000 for School Equipment

Another $35,000 of the almost half million dollar equipment budget for Forest View High School was "spent" by the Arlington-Prospect school board Monday night.

The total estimated equipment budget for the school is $422,987. This includes all movable equipment for the 2,500 student school now under construction south of Arlington Heights. Movable equipment ranges from desks and chairs to library books, from science and industrial arts equipment to pencil sharpeners and waste baskets.

AT THE Monday meeting the board authorized the purchase of 92 teachers' desks for approximately $5,000. Another $4,563 for filing cabinets to match the desks was approved. Office furniture, including desks, chairs and bookshelves also was approved for purchase. Distributor for all these items was listed as the Gilbert Forrest Co.

Tables for classrooms and library will be secured from Franklin Lee and will run to $4,804.24. Library chairs will be obtained through the architect, Samuelson and Sandquist. Cost of the 200 chairs was listed at $13.68 each.

The board approved a cost of $28.99 each for 70 cafeteria tables. Another major expense approved was the purchase of vinyl draperies for classrooms, offices and several special rooms in the five-building complex.

On Caribbean Isle

Prospect Orchesis Show Friday, Sat.

Life on a Caribbean isle, in song and dance, will be the "story" of the Prospect High annual Orchesis show Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19, in the school Little Theatre.

The ballet story, "Island in the Sun," consists of 27 dances in five scenes. There will be 27 students dancing in the production, 21 girls and six boys.

The first scene is laid in an island bar, with emphasis on the troubles, fun and dreams of the footloose.

OPENING the show Gail Miner is featured in a "Troubles" solo. As the scene progresses to a dice game and fight, Dick Newgard and Jim Powell become the fighters, with Dolly Dawn, danced by Dottie Schroeder, as the object of their argument.

In the second scene, the semi-comic life of the islanders is depicted. In "Angelique-O" a group dance shows the distress of a husband with his uncooperative wife. She struts off as the group mocks the man with "Man Smart (But Woman Smarter)."

In the third scene the dances center on the work and problems of the islanders with numbers titled "Lead Man Holler," "Backlash" and "Day-O."

THE FOURTH scene delves into the conflict between Christianity and voodoo rituals. The scene opens with a spectacular "Oh Zange Nan Dlo" (the gathering of the voodoos). Another scene high point is a dance depicting a voodoo chief's conversion by a Christian, with the roles danced by Lyn Machometa and Marilyn Ruud.

Featured in the final scene is "Kingston Market" with Orchesis members and guest dancers Dick Newgard, George Grossi, Tim Jennings, Jim Powell and Bob Gerrard. The last number in the show "Island In the Sun" is danced by the entire group.

THE GUARDSMEN drum and bugle corps, protege of Arlington V.F.W. Post 981, are busy with rehearsals for "Music on the March," which will pit six corps against each other in a competition of precision drill. The show will be held at 1:30 p. m. June 3 at Prospect High School athletic field. Tickets, at $1 each, are available through the post or from Guardsmen. Some 300 boys and girls comprise the six corps which will match their skills in this "battle of music and marching." The pageant is a benefit show for the Guardsmen, and marks the opening of the 1962 season of competition. It is, in effect, a preview and rehearsal for the important competition scheduled for the following week. For the next Saturday after the benefit, these corps will again clash in Springfield when they vie for the title, V.F.W. Illinois State Junior Drum Corps Champion.

Sam Witwer Will Speak

Samuel W. Witwer, official of the United Republican Fund, will be guest speaker at the Regular Republican Club meeting tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m. at the VFW Hall, Yale Avenue and Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

Raymond Stevenson, club program chairman, said, "This is an opportunity to hear and meet one of the foremost Republicans in the area. All township residents interested in hearing him are welcome to attend the meeting."

Meetings of the GOP club are held the third Thursday of each month.

Mrs. Moffett To Talk Here

Mrs. Howard K. Moffett, of Taegu, Korea, will be featured speaker at the first formal meeting Wednesday, May 23, of the Women's Association of the new Southminster United Presbyterian Church in Arlington Heights.

The meeting will be held at Dryden School, beginning at 8 p.m.

Also on the agenda is election of the first officers of the new organization. The steering committee has been working for several weeks on plans for the organization, and all women of the church are invited to hear them presented Wednesday night.

THE REPORT will include the proposed constitution and bylaws for the organization, as well as a slate of officers to be elected.

The steering committee consists of Mrs. David J. Brooke, Mrs. Roger L. Carlson, Mrs. A. Paul Fellingham, Mrs. Chester K. Hayes, Mrs. Carl W. Hilton, Mrs. William T. Jones, and Mrs. Eldon C. Robson.

Mrs. John E. Saxon of Skokie will represent the Chicago Presbyterial Society of which the new Southminster association will become a part.

MRS. HOWARD MOFFETT

The address by Mrs. Moffett will precede the business session.

MRS. MOFFETT and her husband are on furlough from their work in Korea for the Commission on Ecumenical Mission of the United Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Moffett is superintendent of the Presbyterian Hospital in Taegu, and Mrs. Moffett teaches in the school of nursing. She is a graduate of Wheaton College, following which she served as girls' work secretary for the YWCA and later as a secretary in the medical school at Northwestern University.

Dr. and Mrs. Moffett have been serving in Korea since 1949.

Study Pays Off for 6 Students

Study paid off for six Arlington High School math and science students who recently received high honors in the Academy of Science Fair held May 10-12 at the University of Illinois.

Copping the mathematics paper session's highest research award was junior Jay Lemke, who also won an "outstanding" rating for his science project "Relativity — Foundation of Physics." Jay is the son of David L. Lemke, 3829 Oriole Lane, Rolling Meadows.

Greg O'Brien and Chris Choporis, both Arlington seniors, teamed up with junior Tom Hewitt to build a semi-conductor binary computor which netted them "outstanding" awards, the highest ranking.

O'BRIEN, THE son of H. J. O'Brien, resides at 1502 Fernandez Place, while Choporis lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Choporis, at 543 S. Beverly. R. J. Hewitt, of 539 Ridge Court, is the father of Tom Hewitt, who completed the trio of Arlington Heights scholars.

"Five Main Parts of Electronics" won a first place rating for freshman Ron Roozee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Roozee of 933 N. Mitchell.

Rounding out the award winners was Bill Faust, whose project "Bournelli's Theorum" was given a second place rating. Bill, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Faust, 1314 W. Clarendon, Arlington Heights, is also a freshman.

Workmen Pick Up Rubble

The village department of public works was kept busy last weekend clearing up fallen limbs and trees which were scattered over many parts of Arlington Heights following last Saturday's rain and windstorm.

The storm hit the village shortly after 8 a.m. and almost immediately the police department began receiving calls about fallen limbs.

TREES WERE reported fallen across Belmont Street, near the 400 block south; near 528 S. Phelps; 538 S. Pine; and 901 E. Davis.

Samuel Wit, 643 S. Newbury, reported a power line was down in his back yard for more than two hours after the storm.

At 111 W. Campbell the basement was flooded with more than eight inches of water, and at 315 N. Dryden the street was flooded.

Eye Schools For Use as Shelters

North School and two wings of South Junior High school in Arlington Heights are being considered for emergency fallout shelter use.

The District 25 School Board received a written request Monday night from Wallace B. Daughtry, Arlington Heights Civil Defense director, for use of the west and south wings of South Junior High, and North School, as emergency shelters.

THE BOARD indicated it will cooperate with Daughtry if possible, but did not express any great enthusiasm for the CD program.

It instructed Ralph Clabaugh, superintendent of schools, to secure more information, such as exactly what is meant by the west wing and south wing, and how much storage space would be required.

Eight states prohibit drinking scenes in liquor advertising.

IT WAS AN ESPECIALLY fine Mother's Day for Mrs. Helen (Joseph) Urban, of 803 N. Kennicott, Arlington Heights, thanks to the Arlington Market Association. Mrs. Urban's name was drawn as winner of $100. Presenting her with her award were John Gleeson (left) and Bob Hanley. Another winner was Mrs. J. R. Hogg, of 809 W. Fairview, Arlington Heights, who won a Westinghouse orbital action polisher, given by Kresge's Market. No purchase was necessary to be eligible for either of these prizes.

WAYNE SAYBOLT, left, manager of the Chicago Ford Division district sales office, presents a new 50-year dealer commendation plaque to Clifton H. Stowers, president of Holmes Motor Co., Des Plaines. Holmes is one of 57 Ford dealerships across the country to be awarded the milestone plaque. The agency—Ford's third oldest in point of continuous service—opened for business in April, 1903.

ROSALIND RUSSELL and Alec Guinness, starring as a Brooklyn matron and a Japanese industrialist, top the cast of the Mervyn LeRoy production of "A Majority of One," opening May 18 at the Prospect Theatre in Mount Prospect. Trip to Deer Grove Is Entertaining, Cheap

Spring Good Time For Group Outing

(This is the first in a series of articles written for Paddock Publications by Mrs. Connie B. Howes, a free lance writer-housewife who lives in Northbrook. The series, entitled "We're Off in Chicagoland," will discuss places in the northwest suburban area for the family to see and visit, especially the children.)

by CONNIE B. HOWES

The beginning of May brings the first wild flowers and vivid colors of spring. When the trees are in full bud and starting to leaf, the air still crisp, and dew on the ground, what could be more fun than a trip to Deer Grove Forest Preserve?

Deer Grove is beautiful in spring. The more than 800 acres of Forest Preserve offer a multitude of spring flowers and wildlife. The main entrance is located on Route 68 and Quentin Road.

The five major parking and picnic areas offer variety. Area One is near a large open field, ideal for ball games. Numbers Two, Three and Four surround Deer Grove Lake. Area Five has the largest accommodations.

Beside these, as you drive the more than two miles through Deer Grove, you will see many other small places with one or two tables along the side of the road.

ONE OF THE main attractions of this Forest Preserve is a beautiful man-made lake. This is a water shed, created for the egrets or herons which migrate here each year. These beautiful birds are best seen early in the morning.

Occasionally a deer can be spotted by the lake. These deer, from whence the area derived its name, were fenced in the past. Recently they have been turned loose in the Forest Preserve, and since prospered.

Deer Grove Lake is stocked at least once each year with large mouth bass, sunfish, and bullheads. The gates open at 8 a.m. and close at 11 p.m. Why not try and come early, for spring is never more in the air than in the morning?

IT IS ALWAYS fun to have a breakfast picnic in the spring. Bacon and eggs never taste better than when cooked over an open fire. Coffee and milk can be brought from home in a thermos bottle. Don't forget marshmallows, for a picnic never seems complete without them.

Beside food, there are other items which are fun to bring along. A fishing pole, tackle box, and jar of worms for those who plan to fish. Take a baseball bat, ball, and mitt for a ball game. Each child will want a big glass jar with a lid for his collection of odds and ends. Remember a trowel or "diggin' tool." You may even have time to read the morning paper.

A spring morning is a wonderful time for a walk in the woods. It is fun to find a creek, and there are many in Deer Grove, and hike along its shore. The water is clear and objects are visible on the bottom. Where the creek is narrow you will cross back and forth on fallen logs. Along the edges of many of these creeks is a wild grass which smells and tastes like chives. Everywhere the ground seems covered with wild strawberry plants.

THERE ARE beautiful small dainty purple flowers, bold yellow ones, and delicate pinks. Morning light shows these flowers at their peak, in full bloom and straight up. Hawthorne and crabapple trees are abundant throughout the area on the higher banks. Their fragrance adds an extra that makes Spring so different from any other season.

After you have walked as far as you want up the creek, climb up the bank and cut through the woods and across the prairies. Squirrels and chipmunks can be seen everywhere running ahead of you. A fallen tree that you step over offers a home and shelter for the small animals. With only full buds on the larger trees the green of the underbrush stands out clearly. Wild flowers are everywhere.

One of the great joys of a spring morning in the Forest Preserve is sitting and watching children at their various activities. Little boys fish in a unique way, one that only they understand.

EVERYONE loves to climb trees, the higher the better. Some children just run and never seem to stop. Nothing moving is safe from someone's "collectin' " jar. Ball games of all different types are being played. There is the smell of the outdoors everywhere.

All too soon the time comes when you must go hunting for everyone and everything. Perhaps on the ride home you will think how wonderful it was to be up early and out in the woods this morning. (A14

For 'Miss Illinois'

SNYDER said talent, for Miss America purposes, may include popular and classical singers, dancers, musicians, artists, designers and dramatists, as well as authors, school teachers, nurses and even female business executives.

"Girls whose talents lies along professional lines which they have not yet had the educational opportunities to develop will be among the participants in the pageant," said Snyder.

"Their part in the talent competition will be accomplished in a three-minute talk on their ambitions, qualifications and training."

The girls will vie for six $1,000 scholarships at the Miss America Pageant September 3-9 at Atlantic City, N. J., which are awarded to the most talented state winners among 40 non-finalists. (A14

50 State Beauties To Display Talent

At least 50 Illinois beauties, all winners of local contests, will compete for Miss Illinois 1962, June 27-30 in Elk Grove Village, giving them a once-in-a lifetime chance to display beauty, talent and intelligence, says James B. Snyder Jr., director of Jaycee-sponsored event.

"Too often young ladies who possess exceptional talents never have an opportunity to display them," said Snyder.

"It isn't that the public is not interested in helping young talent, but the idea is seldom brought to their attention."

Your Enemy Crabgrass? Use Z-D-T

MADISON, WIS. (UPI)—If your enemy is crabgrass your friends are zytron, dacthal and treflan.

George Ziegler, University of Wisconsin turf specialist, says there is still time to strike a hard blow at crabgrass with the three chemicals during May.

The chemicals are sold under various trade names and Ziegler suggests checking the label to be sure the product contains all three.

Once you get crabgrass on the run, Ziegler recommends regular use of fertilizer, mowing at a two inch setting, and watering of the lawn during dry periods. (A14

FEPC to Air First Complaint in Public

UPI)—The Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission has ordered its first public hearing on an employment complaint.

Chairman Charles W. Gray of Prospect Heights said the complainant is Sylvia Taylor, Chicago, who charges discrimination by the Chicago Board of Education in September, 1961. Miss Taylor charged she was denied a position as psychology teacher at Amundsen Junior College, Chicago, because of her race.

THE HEARING is scheduled June 27 at Chicago. It will be held before a hearing examiner appointed by the commission.

Gray said the commission has been investigating the charge since it was filed in January. Attempts at conference and conciliation were unsuccessful.

Gray said the commission has considered and dismissed four charges of discrimination during its first four months. all because of lack of substantial evidence that the alleged discrimination existed. All involved discharge from employment.

STILL UNDER investigation are some 20 charges of employment discrimination.

"Several Chicago companies have revised their employment practices to conform with the FEP law," Gray said. "These changes were made while charges of discrimination were under investigation before the commission." (A-14

You Can't Escape City

ST. LOUIS, (UPI)—Clarence A. Kelley, president of the American Trucking Associations, said in a speech here that "escape from a city is difficult" since 60 per cent of the nation's population soon will be concentrated in a dozen metropolitan areas.

"The suburbanite of today," Kelley said, "is only the first settler in a new section of the city rather than a successful escapee from it." (A-14

Carpentier Says:

Drivers Lose Privileges

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier this week announced the revocation of 182 and the suspension of 422 drivers licenses, chauffeurs licenses and driving privileges based on local court convictions and police reports.

In addition, 298 persons whose licenses were suspended earlier and who did not have more than a total point accumulation of 62 points have been granted probationary permits to drive.

Reasons for revocations were: driving while intoxicated, 126; revocation or suspension of a restricted driving permit, 1; leaving scene of an accident, 1; drag gracing, 6; displayed license not issued to him, 3; three offenses within one year, 17; caused or contributed to an accident resulting in death or injury 1; permitted fraudulent use of license, 5; mental and physical disabilities, 22.

REASONS FOR suspensions were: violated restriction on license or permit, 5; revocation or suspension of a restricted driving permit, 2; three offenses within one year, 407; caused or contributed to an accident resulting in death or injury, 1; permitted fraudulent use of license, 1; driving while intoxicated, 3; gave incorrect information on application for license, 3.

Mandatory provisions of the law applied in 110 of the cases and discretionary in 494. Cook County residents accounted for 403 of the actions and downstate residents accounted for 171 and residents of other states for 8.

Losing their licenses through revocation for driving while intoxicated were John Langevin, 1712 Maple, and William Redding, 2290 Timber Drive, both of Northbrook.

THE FOLLOWING motorists had their licenses suspended for three violations: John Erlander, 3108 Owl Drive, Rolling Meadows; Kathleen Herdt, 100 N. Pine, Mount Prospect; Frederick Herdt Jr., 8 S. William St., Mount Prospect; Lloyd Lane, 1224 Milwaukee Ave., Wheeling; Russell Merry, 484 Alice Drive, Northbrook.

Budget for Building Is Approved

A proposed building fund budget of $332,868 was approved Monday night by the District 25 elementary school board in Arlington Heights.

The funds are earmarked for maintenance and repair, purchase of fixed equipment, street paving and other similar matters for the 1962-63 fiscal year.

THE BOARD directed the administration to advertise for bids for the various items and projects.

Based on these bids, the board will then approve a tentative budget, schedule a public hearing on it, and following the hearing approve the actual

An Ordinance

AMENDING THE TEXT OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS TO PROVIDE FOR THE CREATION OF AN O-R OFFICE AND RESEARCH DISTRICT.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

Section One: The Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Arlington Heights, as amended, is hereby further amended by adding thereto a Section 12A known as "O-R Office and Research District." Said Section 12A to follow the existing Section 12 and read as follows:

"SECTION 12A O-R OFFICE AND RESEARCH DISTRICT
SECTION ONE—PURPOSE AND GENERAL CONDITIONS

1.1 Purpose. The O-R Office and Research District shall be restricted to professional and administrative offices and research laboratories, developed on a large acreage under unified control and arranged in accordance with an approved plan for over-all development. To maintain a park-like setting for the uses within transitional districts, the development shall consist of large lots with deep yards and ample off-street parking areas connected by private roads or driveways, with said development favorably related to primary or major thoroughfares to which direct access is planned. The activities within this district shall create no noise perceptible on the district boundary lines, and no excessive smoke, heat, or traffic shall be permitted.

1.2 General Conditions.

1.2-1 An O-R district may be established upon a tract of land having at least four acres in area and which is in single-ownership or under unified control. A preliminary development plan for an O-R district shall be prepared and submitted in compliance with the regulations and requirements of this Section. The development plan shall consist of at least four acres and the plan shall be considered a "planned development" and shall be subject to the requirements of this ordinance for such "planned developments."

1.2-2 No building permit shall be issued for any building which does not conform to the approved development plan.

1.2-3 The location of any O-R District shall be on property which has access to major or primary thoroughfares or immediately adjacent to existing commercial or industrial zoning districts.

1.2-4 Any proposed development for an O-R District, the location of which will include land within and without the Village limits, shall be considered in its entirety and the portion lying within the village limits will be considered as part of the entire development in consideration of the area, setback, off-street parking, location and land coverage requirements.

1.2-5 The plan for the proposed development must present a unified and organized arrangement of buildings and service facilities which shall have a functional relationship to the topography of the land and to the other properties comprising the land development. The development shall be compatible with the property and the uses of property immediately adjacent to the proposed development.

SECTION TWO O-R OFFICE AND RESEARCH DISTRICT

The regulations set forth in this section or set forth elsewhere in this Ordinance when referred to in this section are the district regulations for the O-R Office and Research District.

2.1 Permitted Uses. The following uses may be permitted only for tracts of land having at least four acres in area which are in single ownership or under unified control. Said tract shall abut a business or industrial district and a designated thoroughfare and no building or land shall be used and no building or structure shall be erected, altered, or enlarged which is arranged, intended or designed for other than one of the following uses:

2.1-1 Offices for administrative, executive, professional, research or similar organizations having only limited contact with the general public. No merchandise shall be displayed or handled on the premises except such as is incidental or accessory to the principal use of the premises.

2.1-2 Accessory uses shall be allowed as are customarily incidental to the above principal uses, including laboratories. Other accessory uses for the safety, comfort and convenience of occupants and employees shall be permitted consistent with the approved development plan.

2.1-3 Only one sign or nameplate shall be permitted. The size of the sign shall be determined in the development plan. It shall give the name only of the organization within the tract. It shall be in general harmony with the architectural design of the principal structure on the property.

2.2 Automobile Parking and Loading Facilities. Automobile parking and loading facilities shall be provided as permitted and required in Section 10. An O-R District will be subject to the requirements imposed on Business and Manufacturing Districts by that Section.

2.3 Heights Regulations

2.3-1 Principal buildings shall not exceed three stories and shall not be more than forty-five feet in height.

2.3-2 Accessory buildings shall not exceed forty-five feet in height; and for every foot in excess of 35 feet in height one foot shall be added to the depth of the front setback line.

2.4 Yards. All buildings within the O-R District shall be subject to the following setbacks, side yard and rear yard requirements.

2.4-1 Setback. All buildings in this district, except as otherwise provided by ordinance of the Village of Arlington Heights establishing setback requirements for major and primary thoroughfares, shall have frontage on either a private or public minor street or interior, access road having the minimum requirements of the subdivision regulations of the Village of Arlington Heights. All buildings shall be set back a minimum of seventy-five (75) feet from a thoroughfare designed as a major street, primary street, parkway, or secondary street unless otherwise subject to greater requirements by ordinance of the Village of Arlington Heights establishing setbacks for said thoroughfares. Buildings with frontage on minor streets shall be set back fifty (50) feet from the right of way line of public streets or fifty (50) feet from the outside line of any easement for private streets.

2.4-2 Side Yards. Side yards shall be provided that are at least fifty (50) feet in width on each side of a principal building or accessory building on lots adjacent to residential districts, and at least twenty-five (25) feet in width on each side adjacent to a commercial or industrial zone.

2.4-3 Rear Yards. A rear yard shall be provided for each principal building that is at least fifty (50) feet in depth, except as provided by sub-section 2.4-5 below.

2.4-4 Yard Areas for Accessory Buildings. Accessory buildings shall be built only in the rear yard of a principal building and shall be at least 25 feet from the rear and side property lines, except as otherwise provided by sub-section 2.4-5 below. When the rear or side property lines are also the street property lines and are not the boundaries of residentially zoned districts, the required setback shall be 50 feet.

2.4-5 Yard Areas for Buildings on Sub-lots. Any principal building located on a sub-lot as set forth in sub-section 2.4-7 below, which has no direct frontage on a street or private interior access road, shall set back at least fifty (50) feet from any property line which constitutes the rear property line of any adjoining sub-lot. Where a principal building on a sub-lot faces a rear yard of an adjoining sub-lot through which access to the principal building is provided, such rear yard shall be at least 25 feet in depth and any accessory buildings located in such rear yard shall be located at least 25 feet from the rear line of the sub-lot Side yards for buildings on Sub-lots shall be the same as required in sub-section 2.4-2 above.

2.4-6 Lot Area.

2.4-6.1 Principal Building Site Lots. Each principal building shall be situated on a lot with a net area of at least two acres. The net area of any lot shall be the area bounded by the lot lines, the right-of-way line of any street adjoining the lot, and the center line of the right-of-way line of any private access road adjoining the lot. Except as otherwise provided by sub-section 2.4-7 below, each principal building site lot shall have a minimum frontage of 150 feet on a designated trafficway or trafficways or 150 feet frontage on a private interior access road when principal building sites are to be served by such interior roads as proposed in a development plan.

2.4-7 Sub-Lots on Principal Building Sites. Any lot of a principal building site which is platted on the preliminary plan with a net area of four or more acres, may be further subdivided in the final plan into not more than two sub-lots, each of which shall have an area of at least two acres, measured to the center line of private access road rights-of-way, and to the right-of-way line of public streets, and each may be used for a principal building and its accessory building. Any building site lot so divided into sub-lots shall have direct access to a trafficway or private interior access road as required by sub-section 2.4-6.1 above. However, any sub-lot within the principal building site lot may have access by means of a private easement drive through the adjoining sub-lot, to be made of record as set forth in sub-section 2.4-8 below under the provisions for interior access roads.

2.4-8 Interior Access Roads.

2.4-8.1 When the approved plan includes private roads to serve as access to building site lots in the interior of the district, such private roads shall be established by easements, to be made of record. Where serving less than six (6) interior building site lots within the district, such private access road shall provide a pavement width of not less than twenty-four (24) feet, and where servicing six (6) or more interior building site lots within the district, shall provide a pavement width of not less than thirty (30) feet. In addition to the above minimum pavement widths, such private roads shall provide easement for an additional ten (10) feet of right-of-way on the side of the pavement toward any interior building site lot served by a private road. Any such private road shall provide access from only a Major Thoroughfare or trafficway bordering the district into the interior of the district. Where drives are not continuous, the minimum diameter of culs-de-sac shall be seventy (70) feet.

2.4-8.2 Any building site lot which is divided into sub-lots, as set forth in sub-section 2.4-7 above, under height, yard and area regulations, shall provide when necessary, within the interior of the building lot area, a private easement driveway, to be made of record, and with a pavement width of not less than twenty (20) feet, to serve as access to any sub-lot. Such private easement driveway shall provide access to any sub-lot from only a major thoroughfare or trafficway bordering the district or from a private access road within the interior of the district.

2.4-9 Parking and Loading Regulations. Off-street parking shall be provided on the basis of at least one parking space for each two employees. Such off-street parking shall only be provided in a side and rear yard and the parking areas shall not extend closer than six (6) feet to the side or rear property lines, except in a situation where the side or rear line is also a street property line. In this case there shall be a setback from such street property line of at least twenty-five (25) feet.

Parking compounds may be provided to serve more than one principal building, if they are located within the O and R District and within six hundred (600) feet of the principal building or buildings they serve. All such parking compounds shall meet the required setbacks enumerated above.

The parking areas shall be hard-surfaced and surrounded on all sides where visible from a residential district, with a fence, wall or hedge at least three (3) feet in height and shall be well maintained. All lights in said parking areas shall be so situated as to reflect light away from residential property.

Loading space shall be provided in the side or rear yards only.

SECTION TWO:

Section 4. Use Districts of the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Arlington Heights, adopted by the President and Board of Trustees on December 21, 1959 as amended is further amended by adding to the enumeration of use districts in sub-section 4.1 the following sentences to follow the enumeration of business districts.

"OFFICE AND RESEARCH DISTRICT
O-R ..... Office and Research District
Floor Area Ratio according to approved Planned Development."

Sub-section 4.6 of said Section 4 is hereby amended by adding to the enumeration of zoning districts therein contained the following sentence to follow the description of the B-3 District:

"Office and Research District ..... 4 acres.

SECTION THREE: Section 3.2-109 of the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Arlington Heights is hereby amended to read as follows:

3.2-109 Planned Development. A tract of land which is developed as a unit under single ownership or control, which includes two or more principal buildings, and which is at least 2 acres in area, except manufacturing planned developments which shall be at least ten acres in area, and Office and Research Planned Developments which shall be at least 4 acres in area.

SECTION FOUR: This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval, and publication as provided by law.

An Ordinance

AMENDING THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILLINOIS:

SECTION ONE: Section 7.2 of the Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Arlington Heights, as amended, is hereby amended by adding to the enumeration of Special Uses therein contained the following subsection to be inserted following Subsection 7.2-13:

"7.2-13. Professional Offices in any use district when located with frontage on a primary or major thoroughfare as designated on the official plan of the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois, or with frontage or sideage adjacent to or abutting a non-residential district, where not otherwise permitted in this ordinance, when said office use is by a licensed physician, surgeon, dentist, lawyer, clergyman or other licensed professional person for the general practice of the profession in contradistinction to consultation or emergency treatment as defined under "Home Occupations." Nothing herein contained shall affect the status of non-conforming uses heretofore established under the terms of Section 6.8-7.3 of this ordinance," and the succeeding enumerated Special Uses are hereby renumbered from 7.2-14 through 7.2-22.

SECTION TWO: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication as provided by law.

PASSED & APPROVED this 14th day of May, 1962.

Notice of Public Hearing

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Public Hearing will be held before the Planning Commission of the Village of Wheeling on a Petition to amend the official plan of the Village of Wheeling, at 8 P.M. on May 31st, 1962 at the Village Hall, Wheeling, Illinois.

The property involved consists of approximately 10.59 acres bounded on the north by Dundee Road and on the east by the Subdivision known as Dunhurst Unit No. 4, and on the west by the Subdivision known as Hollywood Ridge Unit No. 2, and legally described as

The North 601.73 feet (as measured along the West Line of the East ½ of the Northwest ¼) of the West 630.00 Feet of the East Half (E½) of the Northwest Quarter (NW¼) of Section 10, Township 42 North, Range 11, East of the Third Principal Meridian. Also the West 630.00 Feet (as measured along the South Line of the SW¼) of that part of the Southwest Quarter (SW¼) of Section 3, Township 42 North, Range 11, East of the Third Principal Meridian lying south of the original Centerline of Dundee Road and East of the West Line of the East Half (E½) of said Section 10 produced North of the Centerline of Dundee Road and lying West of the Knittle Farm Subdivision, all in Cook County, Illinois.

The amendment as proposed seeks to rezone the Southerly 314 feet as "R2" Residence District and the Northerly balance fronting on Dundee Road as "B1" Business District.

All persons interested should attend and will be given an opportunity to be heard.

News Of Prospect Meadows

Amidst a frenzy of cleaning and painting, some of the Meadowites managed a little sociability. The Prospect Meadows Mixed Bowling League banquet was on Saturday at the Americana Motel. The Bob-o-links, the team of Joyce and Bert Ruther, Eddie Kunz, Skeets Hoglund and Mary Mayes, received their first place trophies. Joyce also received a trophy for the most improved average. Trophies for the high game with handicap went to Lynn Coopmans and Eddie Kunz, and Kay Wilson received a pin for high game scratch.

On Sunday, Lynn and Dick Coopmans and Jake and Joyce Jacobsen took their children to Hawthorn-Mellody Farms, and picknicked on the way home.

The Carleus had Herb McKenzie of Chicago as a weekend guest, and Hattie and Ernie Walz, 625 Bunting, entertained Hattie's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dahl of Oak Park.

Everyone in the Meadows extends their deepest sympathies to the Henry Orlowski family, 621 Bunting, on the death of Hank's mother, Mrs. Angeline Orlowski.

Jim and Kay Wilson and Myrtle Stickrod, 628 Bunting, entertained Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Stickrod, Skokie and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stickrod, Wheeling, on Mother's Day.

SUE AND BILL Appleby, 415 Bob-o-link, saw Sue's mother, Mrs. Tom Schuster of West Bend, Wis., off at O'Hare Field for a week in Las Vegas.

Sunday the Chuck Durec family, 401 Bob-o-link, had dinner with Rita's mother, Mrs. J. Milewski of Chicago, and stopped in Park Ridge for a visit with Blanch and Buzzie Busas.

Guests of Anne and Vic Incinelli, 608 Bob-o-link, were Ray and Ethel Larson and Ethel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haas of Des Planes.

Diane and Jim O'Connor visited Jim's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clement of Glenview, on Saturday to help celebrate Eileen Clement's First Communion. On Sunday the O'Connors and Jim's mother and sister, Mrs. Loretta O'Connor and Kathy, had dinner at Wenzlaff's Restaurant in Wheeling.

Anne and Dave Swanson, 608 Bunting, entertained Mrs. Charles Gould from Seattle, Wash., recently.

Rosemary and Bill Vosburgh, 419 Larkdale, had dinner at Hapsburg Inn, Des Plaines, then on to the home of Rosemary's mother in Oak Park for a light supper on Mother's Day. Wednesday guests of Rosemary were Ruth Larson and Charlene Hampe of the Meadows, and former Meadowites, Fern Waldron, Mary Jane Schmitt and Lois Hearl.

GEORGE AND Charlene Hampe visited Charlene's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brey in Chicago. And on Sunday the Breys returned the visit, along with Charlene's father, Fred Kestner, another sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cipriani, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bjorgo of Arlington.

Betty Halabrin, 616 Oriole, attended a club meeting in Des Plaines, then on to the Wagon Wheel for Luncheon. Saturday she attended a luncheon and fashion show at the Elmhurst Country Club for the Taft High School Women's Alumni. On Wednesday she was a guest at another luncheon-fashion show at the Elks in Des Plaines.

Population Explosion

Population of Yukon Territory in Canada is 14,628, an increase of 60.8% during 1951-61.

THOMAS E. GAUSE, director of the American Association of the United Nations, will speak on "The United Nations Today" at tonight's (Thursday) meeting of the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights at the Old Orchard Country Club. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Women interested in attending may telephone Mrs. Dennis Moore, CL 5-3602.

Korean Nurse to Speak to Presbyterian Women

Mrs. Howard Moffett, the wife of a physician and a nurse and teacher in the Presbyterian Hospital in Taegu, Korea, will be guest speaker Wednesday, May 23, when the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights holds its monthly meeting at 12:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

The speaker has done medical missionary work in China and Japan where her family was stationed between unfavorable postwar conditions in 1947 and during the Korean campaign. Since returning to Korea in 1956, she and Dr. Moffett have been active not only in the Presbyterian Hospital but also in the Orphans Hospital and Leprosarium.

MRS. MOFFETT is a graduate of Wheaton College and participated in YMCA and medical school work at Northwestern University before her marriage to Dr. Moffett, who is the son of former missionaries to Korea.

Coin containers for medical mission offerings will be passed out at May circle meetings, with donations going to medical aid in 56 hospitals, village health centers, dental clinics and mobile health centers in Latin America, India, Iran, Pakistan, Korea and West Africa.

The musical portion of the monthly meeting will be provided by the Freshmen Boys' Chorus of Arlington High School and the devotional, "Even So," will be presented by Mrs. N. T. Burfiend.

The Women's Association welcomes all women interested in hearing Mrs. Moffett and reservations may be made by calling the church office, CL 3-0492. (AK

Adopt 2-Year Program At League Convention

Mrs. Louis Nye, 503 S. Waterman, Arlington Heights, president of the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters, recently returned from the national convention of the League, which was held this year in Minnesota.

Mrs. Nye reports that the following two-year program was adopted:

1) Continued support of the United Nations and an evaluation of means to strengthen it under present-day conditions.

2 Continued support of U. S. policies to promote world economic development and an evaluation of opportunities to expand regional cooperation.

A THIRD main agenda subject was proposed, but league delegates were unwilling to adopt too many major study and action projects and turned down the proposal, Mrs. Nye said.

This subject concerned a far-ranging probe of the huge cost of agriculture in the federal budget and nagging surpluses.

Five items were adopted for sustained attention and support, having been studied in past years by the League and agreement reached. They are:

1)Water resources: support of national policies and procedures which promote comprehensive long-range planning for conservation and development of water resources.

AMONG THESE policies are: a) better coordination and elimination of conflicts in basic policy at the federal level; b) machinery appropriate to each region which provides coordinated planning and administration; c) cost sharing by government and private interests in relation to benefits received and ability to pay.

2) Support of standardized procedures, "common sense" judgment, and greatest possible protection for the individual under the federal loyalty-security programs; opposition to extension of such programs to non-sensitive positions.

3) Support of self-government and representation in Congress for citizens of the District of Columbia.

4) Opposition to constitutional limitations on tax rates.

5) OPPOSITION to constitutional changes that would limit the existing powers of the Executive and the Congress over foreign relations.

Heading the League of Women Voters of the United States as president for a third successive two-year term is Mrs. Robert J. Phillips of St. Charles, Ill.

Women in Arlington Heights are invited to call Mrs. Dennis Moore, CL 5-3602 for further information about the League of Women Voters. (ACM

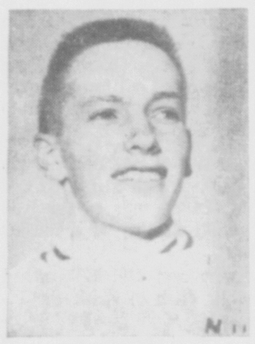
KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

THE BIG TEN TENNIS championships, slated for the University of Minnesota courts this weekend, will serve as a reunion for three former Arlington High School standouts who currently are displaying their talents in the collegiate ranks.

Ticketed for action in the Big Ten net finals are Jim Erickson of Northwestern University, Thurston Brown of the University of Illinois, and Keith Butterfield of Purdue University. All are products of the Ken Schaller-guided tennis program at Arlington High School.



JIM ERICKSON

Erickson, who teamed with Bob Inman for a runnerup slot in state doubles play, is one of the top performers on a powerful Northwestern squad. A junior letterman, Jim has compiled a 12-2 singles record at the No. 6 position and has a 12-2 doubles record, playing with four different partners as the Wildcats have rolled to 17 victories in their first 18 meets.

Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Erickson, 911 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, may team with Wildcat star:, Marty Riessen, in doubles at the Big Ten meet. Together thus far they have compiled a 5-0 record.

Riessen has picked up where he left off in high school. State champ for four years running at Hinsdale, Marty was unbeaten after Northwestern's first 18 matches. Through that period he didn't lose a set in college competition.

Thurston Brown of Prospect Heights will be one of four seniors who will compete for the University of Illinois tennis team in the conference championships.

This is Brown's first year with the Illini varsity. He compiled a 3-5 record playing in the No. 5 spot during Illinois' first eight meets.

As a senior at Arlington High School, Brown and Keith Butterfield advanced to the semi-finals in state doubles before losing. Thurston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown, 100 Elmhurst Road, Prospect Heights.

Butterfield isn't an Arlington High graduate, but he did learn most of his game under the guidance of Schaller. Keith was a standout with the Cardinals for three years before his family moved to Minnesota. He captured a Minnesota state singles crown as a senior and has been playing some solid tennis for Purdue, mainly in the No. 3 singles position.

Erickson, Brown, and Butterfield . . . we'll be watching their progress in the forthcoming Big Ten championships.

A SURVEY OF 700 GAMES played at 128 centers during the Illinois state basketball tournaments by the Illinois High School association showed these facts:

Total scores for both teams dropped from an average of 119.11 last year to 115.37. Twenty-five years ago the average was 52.7.

An average of 33.17 fouls was called a game, about the same as last year, but far under the record 39.80 in 1952. Thirty-two technical fouls were called on coaches and other bench personnel.

REPLACING BROKEN BATS has become a major expense in all baseball circles. That's why we were interested in a recent item in Newsweek magazine on how magnesium is out to win a place in the lineup on baseball teams across the nation.

The Newark, Ohio Processing Co., according to the article, is marketing unbreakable baseball bats made of magnesium alloy coated with a tough plastic. The maker claims that the magnesium clubs weigh, look, feel, and perform like their ash counterparts.

The sound of bat meeting ball is the same, and the old horsehide, the company says, will travel just as far when hit by a wood bat, but no farther.

Marketing target for the metal bat will be school, amateur, and sandlot baseball and possibly the major leagues for batting practice. Some 6.6 million baseball bats were sold last year.

Price of the magnesium bat: $14 vs. $3 to $5 for the wooden kind.

Action in Two Classes

Interim League's Golf Meet At Chevy Chase Club Monday

Chevy Chase Country Club will be the site of the Interim League varsity and frosh-soph golf meets next Monday with stiff battles for team and individual honors expected in both divisions.

Located on Milwaukee Avenue one mile north of Wheeling, Chevy Chase should furnish a stiff challenge for the league linksmen with competition slated to get under way at 8 a.m.

The conference championships are based on both the dual meet standings and finish in the league meet.

Glenbrook and East Leyden are the defending champions on a varsity level with Wheaton heading the sophomore class in 1961. The three units are formidable again this spring with Glenbrook an early favorite for the varsity title.

WSC Tennis

Conference preliminaries in West Suburban Conference tennis will be staged at Hinsdale and La Grange next Wednesday, May 23, starting at 1 p.m.

The finals will be held at York on Saturday, May 26, at 1 p.m.

Arlington's varsity Cardinals will carry a 7-0 league record into the WSC meet. The frosh-sophs stand 6-1.

THE SPARTANS flashed their strength in the Waukegan District and still failed to earn a state berth. Glenbrook posted a 309 at Bonnie Brook and finished third, five strokes behind champion Waukegan.

Prospect will send two creditable teams into action Monday with coach Bill McMillip working with Chris Bersted, John rause, Don Feige, Bob O'Day, and Warren Luebcke on a varsity level and Norm Miller, Don Campbell, Bob Robertshaw, Dave Huntley and Mike Seleski with the frosh-sophs.

Five boys compete for each team with the four low scores figuring in the final total. Prospect carded a 338 in the conference tourney last spring in varsity competition with a 373 in the frosh-soph meet.

The young Interim league has staged two golf meets with Wheaton winning in 1961 and 1962. The Tigers posted a 315 medal score in the initial competition and came back with a 320 last spring.

East Leyden, Glenbrook, and Prospect have finished in that order in each of the first two varsity meets.

Jamboree Slated for Saturday

This week is the last chance for all youths 10 through 15 years of age to register for the big track meet being held at Prospect High School on Saturday, May 19.

The Jamboree is being cosponsored by the Mount Prospect Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Mount Prospect Park District.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Lions Park Swimming Pool office. Entrants are limited to one track and one field event plus the relay. Field events will begin at 12:30 p.m. and Track Events at 2 p.m.

Winners of each event will be eligible to compete at Evanston in the Regional event. Transportation will be furnished by the JayCees.

Kedzie, Wolf Qualify

Pirates Top District; State Tourney Next

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

The 1961-62 school year has been one characterized by several athletic "firsts" for Palatine High School.

Palatine's basketball team captured its first regional title, while the Pirate wrestlers claimed the school's initial district and sectional mat crowns.

And now the golfers have earned a place for themselves in Palatine's athletic history.

Coach Gary Clendenny's powerful crew won the big one Friday—the IHSA District tournament held at Mount Prospect Country Club.

SCORING a low four-man team total of 312, the Pirates thus qualified for a trip to the state finals at Champaign this weekend.

Team Results

Palatine	312
Maine East	318
Maine West	322
Elmwood Park	326
Lake Park	327
Notre Dame	329
Niles West	331
Prospect	333
West Leyden	338
East Leyden	339
Arlington	342
St. Patrick	347

In comparison to past meets in this area, Friday's affair was pretty much of a one-team show. Maine East pulled up a distant second with a 318-total, a full six strokes off Palatine's victorious pace.

Maine West placed third at 322 followed by Elmwood Park (326), Lake Park (327), Notre Dame (329), Niles West (331), Prospect (333), West Leyden (338), Eas tLeyden (339), Arlington (342) and St. Patrick (347) in that order.

DESPITE their last place finish, the Shamrocks of St. Patrick claimed the first place individual medal as Jim Kedzie defeated Lake Park's Randy Wolf in a thrilling sudden death playoff.

Both Kedzie and Wolf, however, will join Palatine at Champaign.

For the second consecutive year, Wolf set the pace at the completion of the first nine holes of play only to run into trouble on the final nine.

Going out on the back side, Randy fired a torrid, even par 35. He ran into putting troubles on the road home, however, and carded a five-over 40 on the second nine.

THREE-PUTT greens on no less than three holes hurt Wolf's chances considerably.

Kedzie, on the other hand, came out of nowhere. Chalking up a four-over 39 on the front nine, Jim fired a steady 36 on the back side to tie Wolf at 75.

Two other early leaders, John Sweazy of Maine East and Cal Koeppel of Elmwood Park fell apart on the back nine and hereby missed out on the coveted trip to Champaign.

BOTH BOYS fired one-over 36's going out before ballooning to 41's on the way back. Oddly enough, double bogeys on the 18th killed the chances of both.

The sudden death playoff between Wolf and Kedzie for the first place medal was an exciting battle with a Frank Merriwell finish. Kedzie blasted off the tee first on the 485-yard, par five first hole and placed a beautiful drive over the trap on the left side of the fairway.

Wolf, on the other hand, drove poorly and then got himself into trouble with a second shot that came to rest dangerously close to an imposing elm.

KEDZIE's second shot placed him in good position for an approach to the green and he promptly dropped that approach about eight feet shy of the pin.

Wolf refused to quit. With only inches of daylight separating his ball from the tree, Randy blasted out into the middle of the fairway—a truly magnificent recovery shot.

After rolling his approach about 20 feet past the cup, Wolf proceeded to can his putt for a par five.

THE PRESSURE now rested squarely upon Kedzie. Resolutely, he addrdessed his putt, stroked and the medal was his on the birdie four.

Another playoff was necessitated to decide the winner of the third place medal, and opponents in this contest were

CONGRATULATING ONE ANOTHER on a couple of fine rounds are Jim Kedzie of St. Patrick (left) and Lake Park's Randy Wolf. Both boys carded 75's to tie for number one medalist honors at the Mount Prospect District Golf Tournament, although Kedzie won a sudden death playoff.

Golf, Tennis, Track Finals

by BOB FRISK

A banner weekend of Illinois high school athletics will unfold Friday and Saturday in Champaign-Urbana as schoolboy standouts in track, golf, and tennis battle for individual and team championships.

Competition will get under way at 8:30 a.m. Friday with the first round of the golf finals at Urbana Country Club. The tennis action will open at 9 a.m. at the First Street, Library, and Memorial Stadium courts.

Preliminaries in the track and field meet are slated to get under way at 1 p.m. Friday in Memorial Stadium.

FINALS in the three sports will be staged Saturday with the golf action again at Urbana Country Club with an 8:30 a.m. starting time. Semi-finals and finals in tennis will be held at the First Street Courts starting at 9 a.m., and the track finals will begin at 1 p.m. in Memorial Stadium.

Area schools will be well represented in the state action with competitors in each sport.

Arlington's Tom Benson is the lone area netman slated for state action, but Benson could pick up a few points in singles play. Tom finished in the runnerup slot in the district meet, bowing to Evanston's highly regarded Dave Power, and Power is the boy to beat.

THE EVANSTON standout won the state singles championship last year, and he's expected to lead the Wildkits to their third straight team title.

Power's stiffest competition could come from Downers Grove's talented junior Tony Ivins. Ivins is the defending West Suburban Conference singles champ, and he won the Hinsdale district with relative ease.

Defending champ Hinsdale is a slight favorite for a repeat in golf although the Red Devils aren't a sure thing by any stretch of the imagination. Waukegan and Palatine from the suburban area are two other highly regarded outfits.

PALATINE WON the Prospect District last Friday with a fine 312 total over the challenging Mount Prospect Country Club course. Waukegan fired a 304 over an easier Bonnie Brook layout, while Hinsdale's 306 was achieved at Timber Trails.

Leading the Palatine contingent will be senior John Seehausen. Seehausen posted a 76 in district play, but is capable of a better effort. If John is on his game, he could be in the running for the individual crown over the weekend.

Lake Park's Randy Wolf recorded a 75 in the Prospect District to tie for low honors, and the Lancers' senior could show well over the Urbana Country Club course.

State Finals

FRIDAY, MAY 18

8:30 a.m.—Interscholastic Golf, Urbana Country Club

9:00 a.m.—Interscholastic Tennis, First Street, Library, and Memorial Stadium Courts

1:00 p.m.—Interscholastic Track and Field. Preliminaries, Memorial Stadium

SATURDAY, MAY 19

8:30 a.m. Interscholastic Golf, Urbana Country Club

9:06 a.m.—Interscholastic Tennis, Semi-Finals and Finals, First Street Courts

1:00 p.m.—Interscholastic Track and Field, Finals, Memorial Stadium

PALATINE will have the most representatives among area schools in the state track meet with Andy Merutka heading the North Suburban Conference entry.

Merutka, who qualified for the state in both the shot put and discus, will be shooting for his own statemark of 59-5½ with the 12-pound iron ball. Andy has topped that standard on several occasions this spring.

In addition to Merutka, five other state champions will be in action Friday and Saturday. Titlists in 1961 who will be shooting for more honors are Theo Cox of Zion-Benton in the 100, Warren Hampton of East St. Louis in the 120 yard high hurdles, Barney Peterson of Proviso West in the 880, Jim Weinert of Highland Park in the mile run, and Tom Atkinson of LaGrange in the broad jump.

ARLINGTON will send three boys into the cinder show with Prospect qualifying four in its district meet Monday. Willowbrook will have hurdler Rick Fornear and its mile relay unit in action in Champaign.

Downstate and Chicago-area high schools have equal representation among favorites for the team title in the track and field meet.

Last year's co-champs, Rock Island and LaGrange, appear to have power to repeat in 1962. Moline and Alton among downstate schools, and Highland Park and Phillips from the Chicago area also have strong support.

Arlington's LL to Open This Saturday

The Arlington Heights Little League program will get under way this Saturday, May 19, with the opening contests in the Junior, Intermediate, and Major Divisions.

The Varsity and Senior leagues will open two weeks later on Saturday, June 2.

Ken Hood, league president, indicated this week that registration has reached an all-time high with approximately 1400 boys playing on 84 teams.

The league has worked out a number of improvements, particularly in umpiring scheduling, and all feel that this will be a banner season.

Cards Suffer 1st Dual Loss Since April 7

The defending state champs from Evanston High School warmed up for the forthcoming IHSA tennis finals with a convincing 4-1 victory over Arlington's Cardinals Monday afternoon.

Bob Bohac was the only Cardinal able to manage a triumph against the perennially powerful Wildkits. Bob whipped Evanston's Versteeg in No. 3 singles 6-4, 6-1.

In No. 1 singles Dave Power whipped Tom Benson for the third time this season 6-0, 6-0. Jerry Noyce stopped the Cards' Jim Jakubiec in No. 2 play 6-3, 6-1.

EVANSTON took both singles matches in straight sets. Bob Scott and Steve Atlas bumped Chuck Close and Dave Wollerman 7-5, 6-0 in first doubles with Dave Crook and Bob Emory stopping Rusty Walters and Rick Wollerman in second doubles 6-2, 6-2.

The varsity setback was Arlington's first in dual competition since April 7.

However, it was a different story in the frosh-soph meet as Coach Rog Steingraber's Cardinals avenged a previous setback with an impressive 4-1 victory.

Arlington swept the three singles matches and topped first doubles in the triumph.

IN SINGLES Bob VonBoeckmann whipped Bill Robb 6-8, 6-4, 6-3 in No. 1 play, and Mirrel Kephart handled Bill Mowry 6-8, 6-4, 6-3 in No. 2. Pete O'Neil completed the singles sweep with a 6-4, 6-3 triumph.

In doubles the No. 1 unit of Greg Inman and Bob Schuldt collected Arlington's fourth point with a 5-7, 6-4, 6-2 triumph over Jim Ewing and Reynolds Hadley. Dave Clough and Pete Loris dropped their encounter in straight sets.

In exhibition matches Steve Carns and Randy Blaisdell teamed up for a 6-0, 6-1 victory, and John Stevens and Ulrich Geissler triumphed 6-3, 6-2.

Elk Grove League Opens; 3 Squads Record Victories

Klehm's Nursery, Salt Creek Divots, and Charing Cross Chargers each posted victories in opening action of the Elk Grove Village softball league.

Klehm's pounded the Black Cats 31-3 with Chuck Stromberg slapping two homers. Also contributing circuit clouts were Al Hamacek, Bob Vormittag, Bill Heyne, and Gerry O'Connell.

Salt Creek whipped the Ramblers 25-8 with Bill O'Connell hitting a homer. Jom Gaynor turned in a standout performance in left field.

THE CHARGERS recorded a 25-19 victory over Joe's Colonial Inn with Tom Malone rapping out five hits in six trips to the plate. Paul Savino, Bob Pruitt, and Ken Shipley slapped homers.

The Elks and Lucky Seven battled to a 10-10 deadlock in the final game.

Standings:

Klehm's Nursery	1 0 0
Salt Creek	1 0 0
Cross Chargers	1 0 0
Lucky Seven	0 0 1
Birchwood Elks	0 0 1
Black Cats	0 1 0
Joe's Colonial Inn	0 1 0
Ramblers	0 1 0

Prospect Knights Rout Niles West In Varsity Track

Prospect High's varsity trackmen concluded their dual meet campaign Tuesday afternoon with a convincing 98-19 victory over host Niles West.

The Knights won 12 of 14 events and posted sweeps of the scoring positions in six.

The victory was Prospect's third in five outdoor duals for 1962. Coach Bob Scott's Knights stand 9-2 in duals in both indoor and outdoor competition.

Pat O'Keefe was the only double winner for Prospect. He won the broad jump and tied for first in the high jump.

OTHER WINNERS for Prospect were Bruce Andrise in the shot put; Tony Inzerello in the discus; Dave Gobeille with a tie in the high jump; Dan Price, Dan Johnson, and Dick Westergaard with a tie in the pole vault; Jim Anderson in the high hurdles; John Carsello in the 100; Joe Councill in the 440; Terry Sietmann in the low hurdles; Jim Freyer in the mile; and Gary Marks in the 220.

Prospect also won the 880 yard relay with a 1:36.9 clocking.

Lions Head Qualifiers At York Test

The mighty Lions of LaGrange tuned up for the defense of their state track crown by capturing top team honors at the York District Saturday.

Torrential rains forced a transfer of the meet from York High to the Proviso West track in Hillside. The sloppy conditions didn't seem to bother the cindermen however, as several outstanding individual efforts were recorded.

LaGrange chalked up 47-1/5 team points, while second place York finished well back with 36 counters. Proviso West placed third with 30 1/5 tallies followed by Oak Park (29 1/5), Proviso East (15), Morton West (11 1/5), Riverside-Brookfield (11), Willowbrook (7), Immaculate Conception (6½), Argo (5½), Morton East (4), Reavis (2) and East Leyden (1) in that order.

HIGHLIGHTING LaGrange's success was the double victory by Tom Atkinson. A two-time state champion in the broad jump, Atkinson won his specialty with a magnificent 24-1½ jump and took the 100 in :09.8.

Atkinson's broad jump mark is the best recorded in the state thus far and ranks second among the all-time performances in Illinois. That :09.8 clocking also equalled this spring's fastest clocking in the 100.

LaGrange's depth and power were readily apparent. Craig Boydston took the mile in 4:23.9 with his partner, Wally Richter, hitting 4:32.6.

BOYDSTON'S time is tops in the state this spring.

The Lions also captured the 880-yard relay in a snappy 1:30.9 and qualified their mile relay squad.

Top honors in the mile relay were claimed by Proviso West, which clicked off an outstanding 3:23.8. Chasing the Panthers was Oak Park with a fine 3:25.1.

Barney Peterson of Proviso West showed his championship form in the 880 by winning the event in 1:56.8. No less than seven boys qualified for the state in the half.

IN THE closest race of the meet, Proviso West's Herb Steinraus nipped Claud Grace of Proviso East in the high hurdles. Both were given a :14.7 time.

Willowbrook's Rick Fornear earned a trip to Champaign by placing third in the highs. The Warriors also qualified their mile relay squad.

Fenton High of Bensenville failed to earn a spot on the contingent headed for Champaign this weekend.

Arlington Netmen Handle York, 5-0

Arlington's varsity and frosh-soph tennis squads rolled past visiting York squads last week in West Suburban Conference competition.

Both Ken Schaller's varsity and Rog Steingraber's frosh-sophs claimed 5-0 decisions.

In the varsity meet Tom Benson, Jim Jakubiec, and Bob Bohac claimed singles triumphs with the units of Chuck Close and Dave Wollerman and Russ Walters and Rick Wollerman heading doubles.

BENSON stopped Jimmy Dawson 6-3, 6-0 in No. 1 singles with Jakubiec bumping Eliason 6-2, 8-6 in second singles. Bohac rounded out the singles sweep with a 6-2, 6-0 victory over Fitzgerald.

In the frosh-soph meet Bob VonBoeckmann, Mirrel Kephart, and Pete O'Neil won in straight sets in singles with Dave Clough picking up an exhibition triumph.

Greg Inman and Bob Schuldt and Pete Loris and Steve Carns picked up triumphs in first and second singles.

Prospect's Golf Squad Tops Leyden

Prospect High's varsity golfers posted a four-stroke, 166-170 victory over East Leyden in a recent league match.

The victory gave Prospect a split in the week's varsity action with a ten-stroke, 324-334 setback to Niles West also included on the record.

The Knights' frosh-sophs and Niles West 348-361.

Further information on the meets was unavailable as of the Tuesday deadline.

Glenbard Edges Cards In 10th, 7-6

Glenbard West came up with a run in the home half of the tenth inning for a thrilling 7-6 victory over Arlington High's frosh-soph baseball team last week.

The Cardinals of coach "Bus" Ormsbee had battled back from a 5-1 deficit to knot the count in the sixth, and both clubs scored single runs in the seventh, sending the contest into extra innings.

Steve Martin worked on the hill for Arlington and absorbed the setback. Mundell got the win for Glenbard.

Ken Peters and Mike Frase rapped doubles for the Cardinals who dropped their second one-run decision to Glenbard this season.

Score by innings:

Arlington	011 003 100 0—6
Glenbard	010 040 100 1—7

Cards' Sophs Beaten

La Grange's frosh-soph baseball team exploded with 12 runs Tuesday afternoon in rolling to a 12-8 victory over host Arlington High School.

The visitors scored in every inning and hit the Cards with four runs in the second.

Steve Martin, Dick Anderson, and Paul Splittorff toiled on the mound for Arlington with Martin absorbing the loss. Splittorff provided the highlight offensively with a grand slam homer in the sixth frame.

Splittorff had three hits for Arlington with Bob Benavides slapping out a pair, including a double. Mike Frase rapped a double in the fourth.

Score by innings:

District Baseball

Pirates Rout Cards; Maine tops Prospect

Palatine and Maine East moved into the Prospect District baseball finale with explosive victories Tuesday afternoon in the opening tournament contests.

Coach Claude Bailey's Pirates of the North Suburban Conference leveled Arlington 18-10, and Maine East bombed Prospect's Knights 14-3.

With the victories Palatine and Maine were slated to meet in the championship encounter yesterday (Wednesday) at Recreation Park in Arlington Heights.

THE WINNER of Wednesday's contest will move into the Elgin (H.S.) Regional and meet the St. Charles District titlist in the second game of the tourney next Tuesday, May 22.

Palatine and Arlington put on a real slug-fest in Tuesday's game at the Prospect High School diamond. The two clubs combined for 26 hits and 28 runs, and the victorious Pirates failed to score in only one frame. Six homers were produced, four by Palatine.

In a mild first inning neither club scored off the slants of Palatine's Wayne Kehe and Arlington's John Lane. Then the Pirates found the range.

SINGLES BY Mel Helms and John Roberts and a homer by third sacker Tom Dettinger brought in three runs, and the Pirates held a quick 3-0 lead. Hits by Ken Petke and Wayne Lewin, two walks, and an error led to Palatine's fourth run in the third.

Arlington got to Kehe for six runs on four hits in the third to take a 6-4 lead. With one out Lane and Ray Miller singled and Joe Wertheimer pounded a home run, bringing in the Cards' first three markers. With two outs and two on Rog Lindstrom tagged Kehe for another homer to give Arlington a two-run lead.

JIM DONAHOE

Palatine pushed over four runs in each of the next three frames with homers by Petke and Jim Donahue and a triple by John Roberts the long blows. The Pirates pounded out ten hits over that span as they moved out to a comfortable lead.

ARLINGTON ADDED single runs in the fourth and sixth and two in the seventh to conclude its scoring in the wild tourney opener.

Donahoe and Mel Helms had three hits each to spark the Pirates, while Joe Mueller, Lindstrom, Vince Furlong, and Lane collected two each to pace Arlington.

Score by innings:

Palatine	031 444 2—18-16
Arlington	006 101 2—10-10

IN THE OTHER contest Tuesday Maine East scored in every inning and put the game away with a five-spot in the fifth frame for a 14-3 win. Under tournament rules any game in which one team has a lead of ten or more runs at the end of the fifth inning or at the end of any frame thereafter shall be terminated by the umpire.

Over-all, the Blue Demons exploded for 14 hits with Dave Johnson and Larry Eichler, the first two hitters in the order, combining for seven of those safeties.

Johnson rapped out three hits, and Eichler lined four straight singles.

PROSPECT'S KNIGHTS were able to reach Larry Fersch for only four hits, two by reliable Mike Francek. Also collecting safeties for Prospect were Hank LaRocco and Dave Leekley.

Maine's decisive inning, the fifth, started with three straight singles by Johnson, Eichler, and soph Jim Spiggos. The Blue Demons rapped out five safeties in that stanza.

Prospect scored a single run in the first with Ron Aukamp counting and added two in the fifth on two hit batsmen, a double by Leekley, and sacrifice fly.

Score by innings:

Prospect	100 02— 3- 4
Maine East	342 05—14-14

Prospect Netmen Handle East Leyden

Prospect's varsity and frosh-soph tennis squads journeyed to East Leyden Tuesday afternoon and came home with effortless victories.

Rick Farris' varsity toppled the host Eagles 5-0, and Don Arseneau's frosh-sophs claimed a 4-1 victory.

In the varsity encounter Lothar Hansen, John Heuer, and Bob Gewecke rolled to singles triumphs and Newell Krogmann and Scott Campbell and Gordon Hunt and Ed Topolski teamed up for doubles victories.

Gewecke, playing in No. 3 singles, maintained his unbeaten record with his impressive triumph.

In the frosh-soph test only Scott Paris bowed and his defeat came in first singles. Larry White and Mike Duda claimed wins in singles for the Knights, and Prospect won both doubles matches.

Steve Kretchmer and Ken Rozek worked in first doubles and Guy Jensen and Wade Schutze won in second doubles for Prospect.

With his victory in No. 2 singles White rolled along unbeaten for the 1962 season.

Riverside Shades Cardinal Golfers In League Action

Arlington High's varsity golfers suffered their second West Suburban Conference setback last Thursday afternoon when Riverside - Brookfield fashioned a one-stroke, 333-334 decision at Golden Acres.

The visiting Bulldogs were sparked by Marv Rezabek's 77. Rezabek was medalist in the frosh-soph division of the WSC last spring.

Soph Fred Devin paced coach Ralph Meyer's Cardinals with an 81 on nines of 41 and 40. Jerry Peterson was next in line with an 83 and Mike Heyl and Doug Wiborg fashioned 85s.

HEYL STARTED off with a solid 38 on the first nine but mushroomed to a 47 and had to settle for an 85.

Arlington's frosh-soph linksmen had little trouble with the visiting Riverside crew, claiming a 358-371 victory.

Peter Johnson posted an 87 to pace the Cardinal frosh-sophs. Backing Johnson were Darryl Burkett with an 88, Walt Bray with a 91, and Rog O'Neil and Bob Armour with 92s.

Jirka was low for Riverside with a fine 85.

Golf Meet

John Seehausen and Norm Olson, both of the championship Palatine squad. The match went six holes with Olson the eventual winner.

An unfortunate two-stroke penalty actually cost Seehausen the first place medal. John inadvertently hit the wrong ball on the back side and a 74 turned into a 76.

OTHER PIRATE scores in addition to those of Seehausen and Olson that figured in the winning total were a 77 by Way Thompson and an 83 by sophomore Jimmy Arendt.

Backing up Wolf for fifth place Lake Park were Dan DeMay with an 82, Jack Thomas with an 84 and Dave Shellenbarger with an 86.

Scoring for Prospect were John Krause (80), Warren Luebke (83), Chris Bersted (84) and Jim McAndrew (86). Figuring in Arlington's total were Mike Heyl (84), Fred Devin (84) and Tom McGrath (86).

Cardinals Terry Peterson and Rusty Blix both fired 88's, although only one figured in Arlington's scoring.

Maine E. Golfers Triumph

Maine East's varsity golfers handed Arlington its third West Suburban Conference setback Monday afternoon with a 323-329 decision at Golden Acres Country Club.

Pete Fortune's 77 paced the Blue Demons with Mike Heyl and Ken Seeger coming in with 81s for Coach Ralph Meyer's Cardinals.

Also scoring for Arlington were Fred Devin with an 83 and Tom McGrath with an 84.

Arlington posted a 353-375 victory in the frosh-soph division with Bob Armour's 83 leading the way. Backing Armour for the Cards were Darryl Burkett with an 88, Pete Johnson with a 90, and Garrett Shawhan with a 92.

Cards Bump Lions, 4-1; 7th Straight

Seven down and one mighty big one to go — the crucial West Suburban Conference meet!

Arlington High's powerful varsity tennis squad rolled past its seventh straight league opponent Tuesday afternoon, bumping LaGrange 4-1, and now coach Ken Schaller's Cards will carry a 7-0 record into the conference tournament next week.

The final conference standings are determined on both the dual meet record and conference meet. The Cardinals will carry the only unbeaten standard among the eight schools into the league action.

ARLINGTON IS in a good position to snap Hinsdale's seven-year reign as king of West Suburban tennis, but only time can tell. Preliminaries in the league meet will be held on Wednesday with the finals on Saturday at York in Elmhurst.

So convincing was Arlington's march to a perfect season in league duals that three matches were decided by 5-0 counts, three by 4-1 scores, and one by 3-2. Downers Grove was the only unit able to pick up two points against the Cardinals.

For the season Arlington now stands 15-4-1 in dual meets with one remaining next Monday against Elgin's Moroons. Two of the Cardinal losses have been to defending state champion Evanston.

IN TUESDAY'S action only Tom Benson in first singles suffered a setback. Benson was upset by Jay Sikes 6-4, 6-1. Tom had whipped the LaGrange standout in an earlier meeting 6-0, 6-1.

Jim Jakubiec and Bob Bohac wrapped up singles victories for Arlington and Chuck Close and Dave Wollerman and Rusty Walters and Rich Wollerman won in doubles.

In the frosh-soph meet Rog Steingraber's Cardinals won their sixth league match with an impressive 4-1 victory. Bob VonBoeckmann, Mirrel Kephart, and Jim O'Neil won singles and Dave Clough and Pete Loris teamed up for a doubles triumph.

ANDY MERUTKA (left) of Palatine High School receives the first place trophy from Prospect Principal Alvin Kulieke after the Pirates won the Prospect District track meet Monday afternoon with 37 points. Merutka won the shot put and finished second in the discus for Palatine.

Maine East Gains 2nd

Palatine Captures Prospect District Track Championship

Palatine High School just keeps rolling along in its greatest athletic year in history.

The North Suburban Conference Pirates swept to the Prospect District track championship Monday afternoon three days after the golfers had picked off the Prospect District golf title.

During the 1961-62 school year Palatine has won district titles in wrestling, track, and golf and owns a regional championship in basketball and sectional crown in wrestling.

COACH RON Helberg's trackmen piled up 37 points Monday in heading the district cinder test that was orginally scheduled for Saturday. Heavy rains forced a postponement on Saturday.

Maine East claimed a second with 29¾ markers, and host Prospect posted an impressive third with 20½. Maine West and Woodstock tied for fourth with 16 points each, and Barrington's 13½ counters edged Arlington by one-half point for sixth.

Seventeen of the 23 competing schools managed to score in the first district meet ever staged at the Foundry Road track. Each winning height, time, and distance established a record.

PALATINE'S champions landed four firsts during the afternoon. The Pirates headed both the 880-yard and mile relays and picked up ten more points thanks to sophomore Duane Brooks' snappy 10 flat clocking in the 100, and Andy Merutka's toss of 59-7½ in the shot put.

Brooks proved to be the surprise of the meet with his solid efforts in both sprints. The fleet soph also placed fourth in the 220, and his :22.0 clocking earned him a berth in the state finals.

Palatine's Gene Meyer posted a second in the 880 yard run to qualify for the state finals, and Gene also ran a leg on the victorious mile relay unit. Joining Meyer in the mile relay were Larry Travis, Bob Frost, and Ron Frost.

MERUTKA BACKED his first in the shot put with a second in the discus, and he will be shooting for state points in both events this weekend. Jim Gow, a junior at Palatine, also qualified in the discus with a third place effort of 152-1.

In one of the day's most exciting races Arlington's Jim Hendricks topped Palatine's Bill Hartman in the mile run by one-tenth of a second. Setting a school record in the process, Hendricks turned in a 4:36.4 standard. Both boys qualified for the state meet.

In addition to its winning effort in the mile relay, Palatine also headed the half-mile event with the team of Jerry Olson, Ken Stahl, Dick Sundling, and Brooks.

JOINING HENDRICKS among Arlington's state qualifiers are John Latta in both hurdle events and Bob Laughlin in the pole vault.

Latta placed sixth in the 120 yard highs but his :15.4 clocking equalled the state qualifying standard, and John came back for a snappy :19.7 effort in winning the lows.

Laughlin finished in a five-way tie for first place in the pole vault at 11-0.

PROSPECT'S HOST Knights turned in an impressive performance during the afternoon with their 20½ points and third place. In addition, four Knights earned berths in the state finals.

Jim Anderson lunged to a sparkling second in the 120 yard high hurdles with his best clocking of the season at 15 flat, and Jim came back for a third place in the lows. He qualified in both events.

Tom Bremner backed Anderson in the highs with a :15.3 standard good for fifth, and Dick Westergaard and Dan Johnson tied for first in the pole vault at 11-0.

OTHER FIRSTS during the meet were recorded by Bob Auer of St. Patrick's in the high hurdles, Lee Wolf of Maine West in the 880, Don Johnson of Mundelein and Dave Bremer of Barrington with a tie in the high jump, Larry Reinofer of Round Lake in the broad jump, Lane Newman of Woodstock in the 440, Steve Smith of Maine East in the discus, and Bob Konkos of St. Mel in the 220.

Smith's 165-9 flip in the discus was one of the top marks of the afternoon. The 6-foot-5 Maine East senior has been more noted for his work in the shot put this season, but his throw Monday was the second best recorded in the state this spring.

Konkos sped to a snappy :21.4 victory in the furlong with eight boys qualifying for the state finals in the wind-aided 220. A substantial wind from the south aided the sprints and hurdles.

THERE WERE some near-misses from among the local entries. Palatine's Frost ran fourth in the 880 and his time was two and two-tenths second shy of qualifying, and Prospect's Dave Gobeille missed qualifying in the high jump by one inch.

Prospect landed a third in the 880 yard relay but its time failed to qualify, and Palatine's Travis was third in the 440, one-tenth of a second behind St. Mel's Konkos.

Prospect's Bremner missed qualifying in the low hurdles by one-tenth of a second.

St. Viator's Lions Record Diamond Split

St. Viator's baseball Lions claimed a split in their latest diamond action with three encounters cancelled due to the weather.

Coach Frank Mariani's aggregation, now 4-10 this season but still hooking up against several varsity squads, avenged an earlier loss to Fenton with an impressive 7-1 victory over the Bisons.

Checked with a no-hitter in the first encounter, Mariani's club exploded with 11 hits in posting its easy victory.

Jim Vidt twirled a neat three-hitter, fanning seven and walking only four. The Lions played errorless ball behind Vidt, and Jim helped his own cause with two singles driving in two runs.

Mike Graczyk blasted two doubles and Tim Walinski and Don Kundson collected a pair of singles. Also recording base knocks for St. Viator were Ron Rose, Chuck Heinrich, Ron Bakalar, and Rick Ulbrich.

EARLIER IN the week St. Joseph, behind the one-hit pitching of Nick Abruzion, stopped the Lions 1-0.

Rain cut the contest short after five innings.

Vidt turned in a solid six-hitter but didn't get any offensive support. Ulbrich's single was the only hit off Abruzion.

St. Joseph scored its single run in the second inning on a single by Salvinlo, error, and double by Sisul.

Score by innings:

St. Viator	000	00—0-1-2
St. Joseph	010	00—1-6-0

The Lions stand 4-10 for the season but six of those losses have been to varsity teams. Heinrich is the leading hitter with a healthy .357 average and Ulrich and Graczyk are also above .300.

25-Mile Race

1st Paddock-Triangle Roller Derby Slated

Paddock Publications, Inc. and the Triangle Roller Rink of Arlington Heights will co-sponsor the First Annual Paddock-Triangle Roller Derby, it was officially announced this week.

Scheduled for Sunday morning, July 8, the outdoor roller skating race will cover 25 miles and will start at the Triangle Roller Rink on Northwest Highway in Arlington.

The race will be run from Triangle to Pepper Road beyond Barrington and back. Highways will be policed, patroled, and escorted.

THE 25-MILE race will be open to members of the Roller Skating Rink Operators Association of America with an age limit of 18 and up. Entries are expected from throughout the middle west although anyone in the United States and Canada who has an amateur card with the RSROA is eligible.

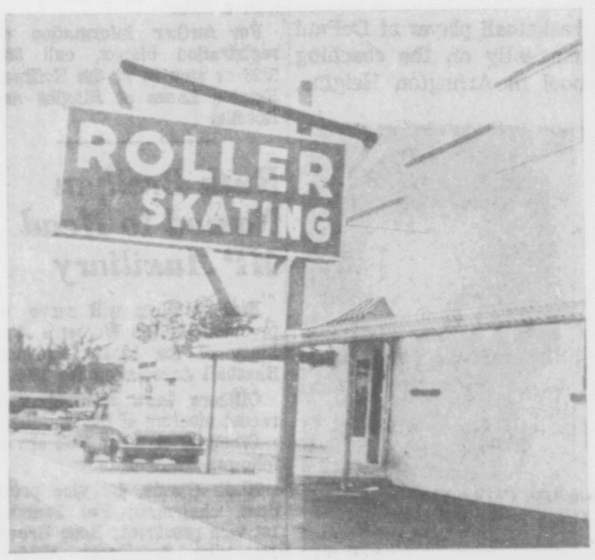
Anyone who is an amateur and is in need of an RSROA card may purchase one at a nominal cost.

Abe Linderman, co-operator of the Triangle Roller Rink, has indicated that he will provide a training track on the parking lot west of Triangle. The lot will be available at posted times.

Negotiations are going on with leading roller skating wheel manufacturers to supply outdoor wheels to the skaters.

Anyone interested in learning more about the Roller Derby may contact Abe Linderman at CLearbrook 5-3316.

Additional information will be included on these sports pages in succeeding weeks.



TRIANGLE ROLLER RINK on Northwest Highway in Arlington Heights will serve as the starting place for the First Annual Paddock-Triangle Roller Derby on Sunday, July 8. The outdoor roller skating race will cover 25 miles with trophies for the first, second, and third place finishers.

Glenbrook's Tennis Team Tops Knights

Prospect High's string of dual meet successes in varsity tennis came to a skidding halt last Thursday afternoon as a powerful Glenbrook squad handled the Knights, 4-1.

The loss was the second of the season for coach Rick Farris' Prospect outfit but the first since April 10 when it fell to Maine West, 3-2.

Since that opening setback the Knights had rolled to six straight victories.

Glenbrook gained victories in two of the three singles tests and both doubles matches in claiming its 4-1 victory. The only Knight able to post a victory was sophomore Bob Gewecke in third singles.

Enjoying an outstanding varsity season for just a soph, Gewecke kept his unbeaten record intact wth a 6-3, 7-5 triumph over Steward.

Glenbrook's Manning whipped Prospect's Lothar Hansen in first singles 7-5, 6-2, and Rupp bumped John Heuer in second singles 6-3, 6-2.

IN FIRST doubles Taylor and Richards of Glenbrook beat Gordon Hunt and Newell Krogmann 5-7, 6-4, 6-1. Facmeric and Mackie stopped Ed Topolski and Scott Campbell 8-6, 6-2 in second doubles.

Prospect did manage to stop the Spartans in the frosh-soph competition as Coach Don Arseneau's squad posted a 3-2 victory.

Claiming wins for the Knights were Scott Paris and Larry White in singles and Guy Jensen and Wade Schutze in doubles.

Paris whipped Bremm 1-6, 6-1, 6-4 in No. 1 singles and White stopped Weight 6-1, 6-0 in second singles.

Jensen and Schutz combined talents for a 6-1, 4-6, 6-1 victory over Christy and Rodge in second doubles.

Prospect's Sophs Top West Leyden

Coming up with two big innings, Prospect High's frosh-soph baseball team roared past West Leyden last week, 9-5.

Coach Lou Schairer's Knights tallied four runs in the third inning and five in the sixth in posting their fourth victory of the season.

West Leyden had jumped off to a 4-0 lead after the first two frames but could counter only one marker in the final five innings.

Tom Wilkes worked on the mound for Prospect with Russ Barter behind the plate.

Ridgewood Linksmen Top Lions

Ridgewood High School posted a 175-216 victory over St. Viator's golfers at Mohawk Country Club in Bensenville.

Tony Sadler recorded the young Lions' best score with a 48, but he lost his match to talented Bob Augustine who carded a 37.

Augustine was frosh-soph medalist in the Tri-County Conference last spring as a freshman.

Other St. Viator scores were a 51 by Gregory Cryns, 57 by Marty Serbins, and 61 by Dennis Zitzer.

Evanston Wins Soph Invitational

Evanston's young Wildkits piled up 48¾ points Tuesday afternoon and rolled to the team title in the North Shore Frosh-Soph Invitational track and field meet at Maine East in Park Ridge.

Evanston headed runner-up New Trier which totaled 42½ in the battle for team supremacy. Host Maine East was third with 37¼ and Waukegan posted 32 for fourth.

Area entries Palatine and Arlington recorded 21 points each for a fifth place tie.

Team Results

Evanston	48¾

SLIDING SAFELY into third base during Friday's Fenton-North Chicago baseball battle is Warhawk Alex Rowell. Awaiting the late throw is Phil Floring of Fenton. North Chicago bumped the Bisons, 10-3 ,and thereby virtually sewed up its fifth consecutive Tri-County Conference diamond crown.

Pirates Suffer Third Setback; Fall to Zee-Bees

Zion-Benton jumped on Palatine starter Mike Timmins for five runs during the first three innings last Wednesday and coasted to an 8-1 conquest of the Pirates in a sophomore baseball game played at Palatine.

The setback was the second of the season suffered by the Pirates at the hands of the Zee-Bees. For the year, Coach Jim Bragiel's crew has won 10 decisions as opposed to three setbacks and a tie.

Jerry Nelson started for Zion and hurled five shutout innings before an injury forced him to retire in favor of Charlie Crow in the sixth. Nelson got the win, his seventh of the season.

TIMMINS SETTLED down after the third and pitched three scoreless innings before Bill Betke took over in the seventh.

The Zee-Bees opened the top of the first with a pair of runs as Smith led off with a walk and stole second. Mike Senter grounded to the mound, but Jack Spencer lined a single scoring Smith.

Young knocked Spencer around to third with a single from which point he scored on Timmins' throwing error.

Zion picked up two more in the second when Timmins got himself into trouble with wildness. With one gone, Barnes and Smith walked and scored on back-to-back singles by Senter and Spencer.

A TRIPLE BY Jeff Crider and Terry Pearce's single produced Zion's fifth run in the third.

After three scoreless innings, the Zee-Beees broke loose again in the top of the seventh for three final runs. Senter was safe at first on Dick Olson's error and stole second.

Spencer walked and Young sacrificed both runners along with a perfect bunt. Crider then lashed out a single that scored both runners. Betke walked Rymer before Crider stole third and scored on a wild pitch.

Hopelessly behind at this point, the Pirates ruined the shutout with a consolation run in the bottom of the seventh. After two outs, Ed Hennessy drew a walk, moved to second on an error and scored on Timmins' single.

Arlington Frosh Nine Wins Sixth

Arlington's red-hot frosh "A" baseball team rolled to its sixth straight victory Monday afternoon.

With Jim Kroll fanning 14 and hurling a nifty six-hitter the Cardinals of coach Bob Rees dumped Barrington's host Bronchos, 4-2.

Arlington came up with four runs in the first inning and held on for its victory. Key hits by Larry Wagner and Jeff Galyon drove in markers in that initial frame.

Barrington used two extra base hits in the fifth for its two runs.

Score by innings:

Arlington	400	000	0—4-6-2
Barrington	000	020	0—2-6-3

St. Viator Tennis Unit Falls, 3-2

St. Viator High School's tennis team, riddled with ineligibility but showing steady improvement, dropped a 3-2 decision to St. Joseph in its only action last week.

Posting victories for the Lions of Arlington Heights were Kevin Mahoney in singles and the team of Paul Weirich and Mahoney in doubles.

Mahoney won his test 6-0, 6-0, and the Lions' doubles unit posted a 6-0, 6-2 victory.

Weirich didn't fare as well in singles, falling 6-0, 6-2, and Mike Nelson also dropped his singles encounter 6-3, 6-2.

Nelson and Bob Galizia teamed up in doubles but fell 6-1, 6-0.

Registrations Accepted for New Day Camp

Attention all boys ages five through 12.

Registrations are now being accepted for the Ron Feiereisel Day Camp.

A former All-American basketball player at DePaul University in Chicago and currently on the coaching staff at St. Viato High School in Arlington Heights, Feiereisel will conduct his camp on the grounds and facilities at St. Viator.

This includes the outside play and athletic fields, and the large olympic size swimming pool. The campers will have use of the pool each day.

The camp activities will be conducted on the St. Viator grounds four days a week. These activities include swimming, softball, baseball, low organized games, group singing, horse shoes, track, volleyball, basketball, movies, soccer, and tumbling.

In addition, there will be excursions to such points of interest as the Museum of Science and Industry, Planetarium, Riverview, Wrigley Field, and many others.

RON FEIEREISEL

THE CAMP will be conducted in four two-week periods, starting June 18 to June 29. Other periods will be from July 2 to July 13, July 16 to July 27, and July 30 to August 10. They will run five days per week, Monday through Friday, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Tuition is $40 per period with rates graduated according to length of time involved.

Prizes and awards will be given at the end of each period through a point system. Points will be given for promptness, cleanliness, game participation, skill, order, generosity, neatness, honesty, industry and accomplished improvement.

ALL ACTIVITIES will be conducted and supervised by competent and experienced men. Minimum degree for an instructor will be a Bachelor of Science degree.

Swimming program will be conducted in the modern St. Viator pool with daily lessons by experienced personnel.

Feiereisel is married and the father of six children. He served in the athletic programs at De-Paul Academy and DePaul University before coming to St. Viator. He was named Chicagoland Prep Coach of the Year while at DePaul Academy.

Any further questions on the Ron Feiereisel Day Camp should be directed to Clearbrook 5-8161.

Registrations Picking Up For Tourney

The 1st Annual Hoffman Estates Bowling Tournament got off to a slow start on Mother's Day.

However, registrations for May 20 are picking up. If you haven't yet registered, now is the time to do so.

D. Totten holds high series in the Men's Division with a 775 (including handicap). Pat Vancel leads the Women's Division with a 536.

For further information or registration blanks, call 529-7226 or stop in at the Hoffman Estates Lanes at Higgins and Roselle.

Ruth Breihan Named to Head MP Auxiliary

Ruth Breihan will serve as president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Mount Prospect Baseball Association for 1962.

Officers were selected at a recent meeting of the Auxiliary.

Other officers for 1962 are as follows:

Hilda Harris, 1st vice president, chairman; Pat Trandel, 1st vice president; Rose Urban, 1st vice president; Mildred Borg, 2nd vice president; Jean Crawford, secretary; and Betty Dancer, treasurer.

Jesse Owens To Speak At Fenton

Jesse Owens, one of the greatest athletes of the 20th century, will be the featured speaker at the 22nd annual Lions Club Athletic Awards Banquet at Fenton High Monday.

The dinner, honoring Fenton's athletes for the 1961-62 school year, will begin at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Most coveted of the awards to be presented Monday is the Lions Sportsmanship trophy, which will go to the outstanding senior athlete.

TOM SEMPER, now enrolled at the University of Illinois, won the award last spring.

A senior cheerleader also will be honored at the banquet.

An outstanding back and lineman from last fall's football team will be cited for special awards by the Fenton High Booster's Club.

"F" Club awards honoring the Most Valuable Player in the five major sports of football, basketball, wrestling, track and baseball also will be presented at the banquet.

ALTHOUGH THE last of his long-standing world records was finally erased last year by broad jumper Ralph Boston, Owens will forever be remembered as one of the greatest track and field performers of all time.

Owens still holds a national high school interscholastic record in the 100-yard dash. Jesse covered the 100 in a snappy :09.4 while attending East Tech High in Cleveland, Ohio, back in 1933.

Long since retired from active competition, Owens is now a prominent civic leader in the Chicago area.

Six Area Entries In Kart Victories

Six area entries are included on the complete list of winners in the first International Kart Federation "Kart Meet" for Illinois staged at Joliet.

There will be three more meets of this type followed by the state championship. The winners then go on to a territorial meet and finally the Grand National in Denver. Colo.

The winners receive points for their placings in the different races, and the competitors with the greatest number of points earn berths in the Nationals.

THE INTERNATIONAL Kart Federation pays mileage to the individual winners to defray travel expenses. Classes are set up as to age, engine types and weight of the driver.

Winners from the Paddock Publications area are as follows:

Mickey Yaeger of Palatine, first in A Bushing Jr.; Kevin O'Nel of Mount Prospect, first in A Stock Jr.; Rick Holzrichter of Mount Prospect, third in A Modified Jr.; Bob Yaeger of Palatine, first in A Bushing Heavy Sr.; Arlene Berry of Buffalo Grove, first in A Stock Light; and Bob Berry of Buffalo Grove, first in A Modified Medium.

Brooks Win in District

Kenny Leppla had pitched a no-hitter and one-hitter in two recent West Suburban Conference baseball games for York, but the senior was no problem for Willowbrook's Warriors Tuesday afternoon in the second game of the Glenbard East District tourney.

Willowbrook tagged four York hurlers for eight hits and 13 runs and was aided by a shoddy Duke defense in posting a 13-8 district victory.

The Brooks pushed across nine runs in an explosive sixth inning after York had taken a 7-4 lead in the visitor's half of the same frame.

WILLOWBROOK scored two runs in the first and single runs in the third and fifth en route to the victory. The Warriors also employed four pitchers with Harlan Krafft starting.

With the victory Willowbrook moved into the championship encounter slated to be played yesterday (Wednesday). The winner of that game will meet the Naperville District winner in the second game of the Wheaton (Comm.) Regional next Tuesday.

Score by innings:

York	201	004	0— 7-9-5

Lancers Post 1st Net Win

Lake Park High School rolled to its first varsity tennis victory last Thursday, edging a visiting Mundelein squad, 3-2, at Medinah Country Club.

The triumph snapped a string of five consecutive Lancer setbacks. Coach Dan Hildebrandt's crew will entertain Elmwood Park this afternoon (Thursday).

THE LANCERS managed only one singles decision against the Mustangs, but swept both doubles matches. In number one singles, Lake Park's John Widzisz routed Ron Kline, 6-0, 6-0.

Dons, Warhawks Handle Fenton's Freshman Nine

Notre Dame and North Chicago handed Fenton's freshman baseball squad its sixth and seventh consecutive setbacks of the season last week.

Sparked by the no-hit pitching of Al Goodwin, the Dons of Notre Dame blanked Coach Bob Appleby's Bisons, 5-0, at Bensenville last Wednesday.

The Bisons then journeyed to North Chicago Friday and came home on the short end of a 7-3 decision.

GOODWIN set down seven Bisons on strikes while walking only five. His teammates, meanwhile, gave him all the offensive support he needed with two runs in the top of the first.

Butch Ruppert went the route for the Bisons against Notre Dame and was tagged with the loss.

Fenton jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead at North Chicago Friday with a pair of runs in the opening frame. McKoaski walked, but was erased on a force play at second by Stuart.

Stuart stole second and scored on Dave Tice's single.

AL PLASKON got on thanks to an error by Johnson at third, Tice racing to third on the boot. The two Bisons then pulled off a double steal with Tice scoring on the lead end.

Mundelein Sophs Whip Lake Park

Mundelein's Gene Scott placed first in no less than five events last Thursday to spark the Mustangs to a 76-42 victory over Lake Park in a frosh-soph track meet at Mundelein.

Scott won both the high and low hurdles, high jump and shot put, and additionally shared the top prize in the 100-yard dash along with teammate Gary Ganek.

In all, the Mustangs won 12 of the 14 events contested. Only Lancer winners were Don Scott in the pole vault and Tom Dixon in the quarter.

Prospect Sophs in Easy Win

Prospect High's frosh-soph track squad rolled to an 85½ to 32½ victory over Niles West Tuesday afternoon in the final dual meet of the 1962 season.

The young Knights dominated the hurdles and 440 and posted eight points in both the mile run and 100 yard dash.

Larry Bogart and Jim Renner were double winners for Prospect. Bogart won both hurdles with creditable clockings of :16.3 in the highs and :21.6 in the lows, and Renner topped the 100 and 440.

Also scoring firsts for Prospect were Smith in the discus, Hogarty and Hawk with a tie in the high jump, Larry Fisher in the pole vault, and Gary York in the mile run.

The Knights also topped the 880 yard realy in 1:41.9 and the mile event in 3:53.5.

Canoe Race Scheduled For Sunday

Scores of mid-westerners will man canoes in competition for trophies in the 1962 Mid-American Canoe Race, to be run Sunday, May 20 on the Fox River in northern Illinois.

A 22-mile course between Elgin and Aurora will include give portages and will pass between banks and under bridges expected to hold tens of thousands of spectators.

One of the most highly organized sporting activities of its kind, the race will be run under the supervision of Illinois Department of Conservation officials. Continuous reporting of race progress to crowds and officials along the entire route will be made by a team of ham radio operators.

Arlington Falls

Glenbard Posts 10th League Victory, 6-0

Glenbard West's league-leading Hilltoppers claimed their tenth victim last week at Recreation Park in Arlington Heights.

With reliable Dick Watkins turning in another strong performance the Glenbard nine, now possessing a 10-1 mark in the West Suburban Conference, bounced ed the host Cardinals, 6-0.

Watkins, who topped Arlington 2-1 in an earlier meeting, was at his best in latest stint, fanning 14 and walking only one over the seven frames. Dick yielded five hits and scattered them over five innings.

JOHN LANE worked on the hill for Arlington and absorbed his third league setback. Seven was the magic number for Lane as he allowed seven hits, fanned seven, and walked seven.

Glenbard did all its scoring in the first four innings in handing Arlington its sixth league loss and dropping coach Bob Baker's nine from a second place tie in the WSC.

With two outs in the opening frame the Bards put together a single, error, single, wild pitch, and interference call on Arlington for two runs. Tom Wingader, one of the top hitters in the Chicago Suburban area, led off the assault with the first of his three hits.

IN THE SECOND stanza the Hilltoppers again waited for two outs before initiating their offensive attack. Lane got the first two batters on infield outs before Dave Moeller rapped a single.

When the dust had cleared in the second Moeller had ridden home with Glenbard's third run of the contest.

The powerful West Suburban entry changed the script in the third by starting its outburst with no outs. Two safeties, two walks, and a stolen base led to two more runs, and the visitors from Glen Ellyn were coasting home with their tenth decision in 11 league encounters.

TWO WALKS and Dave Palmer's single brought in the sixth and final run in the fourth. Lane settled down after that and checked the Bards with one hit and no runs over the final three stanzas.

From the outset it appeared that the Cards were going to have trouble with the talented Watkins. The senior fanned the side in the first three innings although the Arlington nine did reach him for two hits in that span.

Rog Lindstrom stroked a single with one out in the second and Ken Layden collected a one-base knock in the third. Arlington failed to score in either frame although it did have runners on second.

THE CARDS pounded out singles in the fourth, fifth, and seventh but Watkins was tough in the clutch. Erv Gramit had two of those safeties with one-base blows in the fifth and seventh and Ross Retterer recorded the other.

Lindstrom was the only Cardinal escaping the Watkins strikeout pitch.

Prospect's Knights Top West Leyden

Jim Hogarty twirled two-hit baseball and was backed with a 14-hit attack last week as Prospect High School's varsity Knights crushed West Leyden 10-0 in an Interim League encounter.

Bouncing back after three straight loop reversals, the Foundry Road outfit clubbed two West Leyden hurlers for three runs in the first and third and two each in the sixth and seventh.

Eight boys contributed hits to the Prospect attack with Tommy Thomas rapping out three. Dave Leekley, Ron Aukamp, Mike Francek, and Chuck Halverson collected two each and Bob Geller slammed a home run.

Hogarty fanned 11 but had some trouble with his control, walking nine.

PROSPECT PUSHED over three runs in the first on hits by Thomas, Aukamp, and Halverson, a stolen base, passed ball, error, and walk and used Geller's homer and Francek's triple for three more in the third.

Aukamp initiated the outburst with a single and he rode home on Francek's three-bagger. Geller then delivered his four base clout, sending home two more,

In the sixth Tom Cross, Hogarty, and Leekley contributed the base hits as coach Chuck Aldrich's outfit scored two more. Halverson, Thomas, and Leekley blasted the safeties as a pair scampered across in the final frame.

The victory was Prospect's fifth in 12 Interim League games.

Tigers Post Second Win Over Lancers

Ron Lewis twirled a one-hitter Tuesday to spark Elmwood Park to a 7-1 conquest of Lake Park in an important Tri-County Conference baseball game at Elmwood Park.

By virtue of the victory, the Tigers supplanted the Lancers in third place in the Tri-County Conference diamond chase. Elmwood has now split even in six contests, while Lake Park has dropped five of nine encounters.

Dennis Gieseke opposed Lewis on the mound for the Medinah outfit, but was forced to take cover in the fourth inning as reliefer Fred Picket took over.

THE TIGERS crashed into the scoring column in the bottom of the first with a single run. Kip Jensen singled and moved along to second on a walk to Mike Bertolani.

Jensen and Bertolani then executed a double steal with the former scoring moments later on Phil Akley's perfect squeeze bunt.

Elmwood hiked its advantage to 3-0 with another pair in the second. Ray Skol led off with a walk and raced to third when Gieseke threw wildly to first on Otto Krueger's tap.

GEORGE STUMP'S boot on Mathis' smash to short allowed both baserunners to score.

Gieseke's wildness in the third led to another Tiger tally. Ron Nuti went down on strikes, but walks to Frank Delorto and Krueger along with Skol's single filled the bases.

Gieseke then passed Mathis to force in Delorto before retiring Lewis and Jensen on infield pops.

Lancers Fall To Mundelein Thinclads

Capturing firsts in nine of 14 events, Mundelein's varsity track squad racked up a 76-42 decision over Lake Park in a Tri-County Conference dual meet held at Mundelein last Thursday.

Terry Celba, a senior, sparked the Mundelein triumph by personally picking up 12 points. Celba ruled the high hurdles in :17.3 and the quarter in :55.1, and additionally tied for second in the high jump.

Another substantial contributor to the Mustang cause was sophomore Don Johnson, who gathered 11 points with a first in the high jump and high hurdles. Johnson's winning height in the high jump was 5-10

MUSTANG BILL Dortch also scored 11 individual points. He topped the broad jump with a leap of 19-10, and placed second in both the 100 and 220.

Dan Stewart of Mundelein whipped Lancers Rick Brems and Jerry Sullivan in the lows. His winning time was 23 seconds flat.

Mundelein scored a sweep in the mile run. Dick Walker won the event in 5:02.9, followed by teammates Bob Garcia and Dave Dietz.

Other individual winners for Mundelein were Dave Hamm in the pole vault and Bill Dausman in the discus. Dausman's toss of 131-5 ranks as one of the best in the conference thus far this spring.

Reedy Sparks Kiczula to League Lead

Jack Reedy, subbing for Harry Grover, turned in another sterling performance last week to lead Kiczula Insurance in a fourteen and one-half point victory over Higgins Shell in the Hoffman Estates golf league.

Jack scored three points, defeating Dave Basch; Harvey Goetsch took two from Roy Jenkins and Scott MacEachron took two and one-half from Jim Gannon. Paul Kiczula defeated Bill Ross and Dick Moon whipped Bill McMahon each adding three points to the grand total.

Roselle State Bank climbed to second by soundly trouncing Schaumrose Inn. Capt. Roy Palmer whipped Schaumrose' Capt. Dick Thompson taking three. Jim Brewner took match from Tom Glessner scoring two, while Tom won medal for a point. Bob Tuttle added three by running away from Art Thorp for a point. Bob Tuttle just as Hal Gillespie did to George Davis. Tony Montikas scored the only match win for the losers, defeating Bill Hanson.

CAPT. RED LARSON led the way for Tony's Sinclair's victory over Roselle Ace Hardware. John Rosenberger won three from Jack Sheridan and John Warnock and George Cadotte followed his lead, scoring smashes over Carl Schenk and Joe Gilmore respectively. Capt. John Aquino saved the day for Ace Hardware with a decisive win over Paul O'Dea.

Snyder's Hoffman Drug slipped to third despite a ten point win over Roselle Color Center. Capt. Bob Powell played his usual steady game and defeated Color Center's Capt. Chuck Pugh easily. Herb Keesee, last year's Most Valuable Player, continued his winning ways by defeating Bob Mann. Chuck Camel won decisively over Lou Stolz, scoring three. Don Sprecht turned in a brilliant 38 for the losers to whip Earl Conrad and sub Joe Ryan edged John O'Connell to reduce the severity of the loss.

ANGIE PATEL'S Rainbow Inn tumbled last week's leader, Plaza Liquors, to the fourth spot with a nine-seven victory. Angie whipped Art Murphy for three points and Don Love took two from Dave Powers. Bill Bailey scored an easy win over Chuck Davey to round out the winner's match victories. Frank Marek turned in a win for the losers, taking three from George Robb and Jim Lemar defeated Sandy Cameron by a hair.

The tightest match of the day was between Harve's Foods and Jupiter Cleaners with Harve's coming out on top by a point. Jules Swerdlow defeated Tony Manfrin and Norm Groneman bested George Whitaker for the winners. Capt. John Milke defeated Bob Rivenes and Joe McGibbon best Newell Mann for Jupiter. Dick Krey added three by taking Lindy Clark.

Stearns Golfers Take Early Lead In Rob Roy Loop

The Rob Roy Tuesday night golf league finally was able to open its season after a washout last week. The course was in excellent condition and very much to the liking of the John Stearns & Co. team who captured the lead by shellacking the Webber Paint crew to the tune of 6½-½. John Stearns led his team to victory by snatching low net with a 48-9-39 in this match.

The runnerup spot went to Kelter Realty with a 6-1 triumph over C. P. Floor and Wall Covering. Low net honors were divided between No. 1 man, Bob Cook, and No. 4 man, Pete Schenk, with 37's.

Ray Statz & Associates hung on for third place honors with a 5½-1½ victory over Rodewald Farms Dairy withh Vince Hoffman snagging low net honors in the contest with 44-5-39.

Low gross honors for the evening went to Dick Craig with a fine round of 39 in the frigid atmosphere. Chuck Van Boxtaele shooting in the No. 2 slot for Henry Rand Sunoco Station and Berney Magneson, also No. 2 man for the Gunnell's Restaurant team, tied for league low net honors with 36's.

Beisler-Griffith Golfers Triumph

Beisler - Griffith Insurance Center continued its onslaught Friday night by scoring 11½ out of a possible 12 points over Arlington Heights National Bank in the Arlington Twilight golf league. Dale Wilson led the attack with a scorching 33 net.

New Emerald Cleaners picked up momentum, scoring 10 out of 12 points over Stan's Standard Service. Ralph Panek continued his whirlwind play with a net 34. This moved New Emerald Cleaners from seventh to fourth position.

Lauterburg & Oehler won easily over Lohr's Pharmacy which enabled them to move into a tie for second place with Arlington Structural Steel.

HARRIS Pharmacy maintained its hold on fifth place with Koops' Mustard and Crest Heating and Air Conditioning tied for sixth place. Horcher Decorators dropped to ninth place only a half point ahead of Lohr's Pharmacy. City Welding Sales and Stan's Standard Service are fighting for last place.

In spite of some of the resounding victories by some of the teams only three birds were scored. Bill Schoepke, Ralph Panek, and Len Haines, Jr. were the fortunate ones and will be awarded golf caps for their efforts.

Sorry, No Pics

There are too many bowling leagues in the area served by Paddock Publications to consider taking pictures of the numerous team champions. Pictures taken by various league publicitors and submitted to the sports department will not be used under any circumstances.

The phenomenal growth of bowling in this area and the numerous teams in actual competition have necessitated this policy.

Strom Cops Feature At Waukegan Plant

The 1961 Waukegan Speedway champion, Bill Strom of West Allis, Wis., had things his own way again Sunday as the 1962 season of modified and sportsmen stock car racing had its season of modified and sportsmen stock car racing had its seasons debut before 2,450 enthusiastic fans.

Strom driving a 59 Buick powered, 1935 Chevrolet, took the lead on the 7th lap and was never again headed.

Favorite driver, Bob Karry of Waukegan and Lindenhurst, driving his familiar number A-5, a '62 Chevy powered, 1934 Ford was involved in one of the Speedway's most spectacular crashes during the running of the 25-lap feature event.

KARRY'S mount was involved in an entanglement with Milwaukee driver Doug Bandle while the two were coming out of the south turn in the ninth lap. Karry's car came sideways, and started to barrel roll, rolling at least eight times down the back chute before settling to a stop at the center of the chute. The car landed on its side and Karry was shaken and bruised.

The event was restarted after the track was cleared of debris, and Strom went on to win the event at an average speed of 49.67 m.p.h. Jack Radtke of Grayslake finished second an eighth of a lap behind Strom, while 1958 and '59 champion Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee took a close third.

RADTKE, driving a '62 Chevy powered, 1934 Ford, set a new ten lap track record in winning the third heat event of the night at an average speed of 52.79 m.p.h. erasing the former mark of 51.58 m.p.h. set last year by Miles Melius of Slinger in the same car that Radtke is now driving.

Jim Ouellette of Hales Corners won the first checkered flag of the season in copping the first ten lap heat event of the night and of the year. The night's fastest qualifier, Don Sorce of West Allis, (53.16 mph) had the misfortune to tangle on the first lap of the feature and hit the wall, placing eighteenth at the final tally.

Rod Fuller of Racine took top first semi-feature event at an average speed of 49.68 m.p.h. Fuller took advantage of some other driver errors and went on to an impressive victory finishing over ½ lap ahead of second place finisher, Ollie Wergin of Milwaukee.

The second Sunday evening program of modified and sportsmen Stock Car racing will be held May 20 with time trials beginning at 7:15 and the first of the racing getting under way at 8:30. Bill Strom of West Allis, winner of Sunday's opening program and the 1961 Waukegan Speedway champion, will be back to protect his slim point lead in the new battle for the track championship.

A top notch field of cars and drivers, some 50 in all, will again be expected for the competition. The Speedway is located on West Washington Street, just west of Waukegan.

Tight Race Develops in Friday Loop

After the second week of play in the Arlington Friday Golf league, only 3½ points separate the first eight teams. Tom Durand again captured the low gross with a nifty 37. Durand shared the low net with Charlie Kelliher with 32's.

Birdies were as follows: Kreb's on 12, Barnett 13, Jauman 15 and Shaffer on the 16th.

Event of the day in the Tri-City ladies golf league was Low Putts.

Winners of the 18-hole competition were as follows:

Class A—Margie Holda (29); Class B—Anna Lee (33); Class C—Peg Buckstaff (33).

Winners of the nine-hole league were:

Class A—Dorothy Arndt (16); Class B—Alice Blacksom (16); Class C—Barbara MacKimm (14).

Birdies were registered by Margie Holda and Anna Lee on No. 7, a par three.

Old Orchard Ladies League

Event of the day in the Old Orchard ladies golf league was "Guess Your Score."

Winners were Mrs. Theodore Mendl on the first nine and Mrs. John Sullivan on the sporty nine.

Annen and Busse Takes Early Lead In Twilight Play

Struggling against 45 degree temperatures and strong winds which were much more formidable than their opponents Annen and Busse Realtors last week took the first night lead in Mount Prospect Twilight League play with a ragged 8½-1½ victory over Kersting's Garden Center.

Ken Sophie, class "A" player for the Realtors, was the big factor in the victory as he took three points from Gene Raasch of the Gardeners. Sophie was ably assisted by Olaf Carlson who won 1½ points from Art Skelton, and George Laubenheimer who took two from Jim Kutill. Class "E" player Bob Carncross contributed one point to the total as he split with Russ Holmes. Annen and Busse took the final point for low team net. Out of charity the scores of the players will not be published.

Closely pressing the Realtors came the perennial challengers, Wille Lumber and Fuel, who scored eight points on Kruse's Tavern. Tied for third place were Mount Prospect State Bank and Mount Prospect Electric Construction Co. who both took 5½ points from their respective opponents, Keefer's Pharmacy and Golden's Food Shop.

Lowest score for this windswept first night was a neat two-over-par 37 posted by Len Johnson. Jim Driscoll of Wille Lumber and Fuel came home with a 39.

Birdies were posted by Len Johnson on 11 and 17, and Glenn Adams on 13.

League standings, May 8:

Annen and Busse Realtors	8½
Wille Lumber and Fuel	8
Mt. Prospect State Bank	5½
Mt. Prospect Elec. Con. Co.	5½
Kirchoff Insurance	5
Licht's Paint Store	5
Phil's Pure Oil	5

Double Feature Cards at O'Hare

Another big weekend of stock car racing thrills is coming up with big double feature cards slated Saturday and Sunday nights at popular O'Hare Stadium Mannheim and Irving Park Roads. Gates open at 6 p.m. with the first race at 8 p.m.

In O'Hare's exclusive New Car division Chevrolets have had things pretty much in hand in victories to date, but will now be met by the challenge of a corps of Fords with drivers headed by two-time and defending champion Roy Czach of Chicago as well as Kenny Paulsen of Stone Park and Ray Berry of La Grange. Czach and Paulsen are driving new '62 models.

Featured with the New Cars are O'Hare's ever popular and crowd pleasing amateur Cadets with a number of area drivers entered including Bob Wawak of Villa Park, Ron Hieber of Elmwood Park, Don Purkie of Des Plaines and Bill Cofer of Wheeling.

Each evening's program is headlined by a 25-lap main event for the New Cars as well as the Cadets, heat races for both groups, a trophy dash plus qualifying runs. O'Hare is high-banked, quarter-mile asphalt track with wide, sweeping turns for the utmost in speed and competition.

Lohr's Claims 5½ Points in Scratch Golf

Lohr's Pharmacy collected 5½ points last Friday on wins by league president Bill Schwerin, Kasper, and Moore while sponsor Joe Lohr halved his match with Gordon Meling in the Old Orchard scratch league. Bill Schwerin won his match with a bye, while Kasper had to birdie the 415 yard seventeenth and par the long eighteenth to close out his opponent Magneson who had seven pars in the first 8 holes and still found himself one down on the ninth tee.

The Kasper-Magneson match was one of the two best encounters of the evening. Moore contributed to the team total by dropping a birdie on the 11th and easily winning his match. Joe Lohr went one up on Gordon Meling by dropping a birdie on the 16th but while he bogied the 17th and parred the 235 yard 18th, Meling made hay by parring the last two holes to even the match.

BOB BLESSING and Bob Reiland matched tee shots but the story of win or lose was in the second shots and the putting. Blessing took a quick lead of 2 up by dropping a 15 foot putt on No. 1 and setting his second shot on No. 2 close to the pin. Reiland then settled down to a consistent close game when he snuggled an approach up on No. 3 and closed Blessing out with a birdie, par. birdie on the 7th, 8th and 9th.

Reiland's birdie on No. 7 was the result of a nice downhill putt and on No. 9 he placed his second just beyond the pin. The scores were Reiland 36 and Blessing 38. Clancy Kelly supplied the necessary margin for his team's best total by stroking a 38 also with birdies on the 485 yard 5th and 440 yard 9th.

This seemed to be a night for 'Roberts,' for the evening's most unusual round was turned in by Bob Stverak whose total of 36 on nine was made of 3 birdies, 3 pars and 3 bogies. Stverak birdied the 14th, 15th and 17th with two 10 foot putts and a 4 foot putt. He parred the short holes 12, 16, and 18 and bogied 10, 11, and 13. This is what's called bowling over the hard holes, working on the average holes and bogeying the easier holes.

EITHER WAY it was a nice round and with the aid of Dan Musser's 39, including a birdie on seventeen, they carried their team to victory.

John Keeley made the only birdie on the long 235 yard water hole 8th when he drove the ball just short of the green and it rolled up to the left about 16 feet from the pin. He dropped the side hill putt for his birdie, and finished out with a fine 38.

Old "Steady Eddie" Len Arnold came through with birdies on 15 and 16 and won his match with a 38. Ralph "Trustee" Neubauer dropped a nice tee shot close to the pin on 4 and sunk his putt for a 2 while alternate Howard Haire contributed to the birdie parade by downing the 14th and 15th holes.

DuPage Extension Unit

Roselle Homemaker Is Youngest Prexy

by BETH WEIR

Expert leadership, an ability to work with people and a drive to reach set goals in record time are necessary qualifications of club presidents if organizations are to function successfully.

All these attributes, and many more, belong to the youngest Homemakers Extension Unit president on record in Du Page County, Mrs. Charles Bloomberg (Carol) of Roselle.

Just 22, her talent for directing club activities was noted not too long after she assumed the presidency of a local group, the Keeneyville Homemakers Extension Unit, last June.

CREDITED TO Mrs. Bloomberg is the sharp rise in membership of younger women, the encouragement of white elephant sales and the purchasing of a 30-cup coffee dispenser, under the "earn an urn plan."

And although the cooperation of every woman is essential in club work, members salute their young leader with pride and admiration for outstanding past achievements.

The young homemaker, who became a member of the local unit in January of 1960 because "it sounded interesting," will serve her 2-year term of office until expiration next year.

EVERY DAY is a busy one for Mrs. Bloomberg, mother of two children, for it means caring for Cathy Jo, 4 months, and 2½-year-old Carrie Lyn, pictured above.

But there are other chores, too, in the home she and Mr. Bloomberg share at 25W241 Lake St. Aside from the usual, there is book work for her husband, owner of a local service station.

Active in other groups, this community-minded woman also allows time in her busy schedule for another job, that of secretary of the Keeneyville Fire Auxiliary.

MRS. CHARLES BLOOMBERG, shown here with her two children, is the youngest Homemakers Extension Unit president on record in DuPage County. (SF

MRS. BLOOMBERG is one of 28 area unit presidents heading club programs under the direction of the Du Page County Homemakers Extension Association located in Wheaton.

The programming, carried out over an active 10-month period, is guided by the Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, which trains University of Illinois women for home advisor posts.

Advisors, specialists in the field, give lessons at local unit meetings on every subject, ranging from culinary art to sewing, home decor, infant care, nature study, wills and inheritance laws.

EACH UNIT has a monthly session, and every other month welcome a visit from the home advisor, well versed in presenting a program planned a year in advance.

Repeated 28 times, the timely topics eventually reach 900 unit members throughout Du Page County alone.

A well known personality in the area is Mrs. Elsie Ross Butler, Du Page County Home Advisor. Assisted by Mrs. Rachel Crabb, she works out of the Wheaton office on speaking, training assignments.

THEIR EDUCATIONAL lessons, planned by and for homemakers, are anxiously awaited by local groups, including Mrs. Bloomberg's, which meets in various homes during the club year.

Unit gatherings are an enjoyable time for both members and their guests, for at this time business and pleasure are combined in an afternoon of sparkling conservation, kaffee klatsch and educational advancement.

New Hair Color Is Exciting Surprise

by MARIANNE SCOTT
Women's Editor

It was all in the line of duty when Alice Terrill of Paddock Publications' editorial staff reported to a local beauty shop last Friday, the day after Miss Clairol sponsored a full page promotion in the Suburban Living section offering a free introductory hair coloring to any woman who had never tried the product. In need of a subject to experiment with, the Paddock women's department selected Mrs. Terrill as its "guinea pig."

A faded blonde for several years, Mrs. Terrill had often considered coloring her hair, but "somehow just never got around to it. She was also mistakenly convinced that her husband wouldn't sanction such a transformation. But a phone call to Mr. Terrill knocked out her last "crutch" when he said, "Of course she can color her hair—as long as she doesn't come home with it green or purple!"

ARNOLD Dunsmore of Arlingington Beauty Service helped Mrs. Terrill select a champagne beige which very nearly approximated her own natural color of a few years back. As he pre-bleached her hair, he explained that as one gets older, lighter shades are usually more flattering.

Several hours later a blonde Mrs. T. returned to the office with a perky new hair style and looking years younger. Fellow office workers were pleasantly shocked and so was her husband who seemed genuinely pleased when recalling the whistles and admiring glances directed at his wife when she arrived at a party that evening.

"When it was all finished," said Mrs. Terrill "I could hardly believe my eyes and the color was just as natural as I had hoped it would be."

INTEREST IN hair coloring is soaring to new heights every day and is now the fastest growing service offered by the beauty shops. Coloring to most women has become as matter of fact as lipstick and whether "only her hairdresser knows for sure" or whether it's common knowledge among her friends really doesn't matter, for today's progressive minded women say, "Why keep it a secret? I love pretty hair!" (SF

THURSDAY ALICE TERRILL of Paddock Publications' editorial staff looked like this. A petite, pretty woman, her faded, lifeless hair did nothing for her.

FRIDAY ALICE TERRILL looked like this, a sparkling blonde with a fresh lively hair style. She was one of the first area women to take advantage of Miss Clairol's free hair coloring offer.

Nike Wives Honor New Club President

Mrs. Charles W. Hoffman of Arlington Heights, president of the 45th Brigade Women's Club, was presented with a silver tray by Mrs. Kermit L. Davis, honary president of the club at the April 5 coffee held in the Officers's Open Mess, Arlington Heights.

Hostesses for the coffee were Mrs. Jerry T. Steele and Mrs. George D. Baker.

AT THE APRIL 26 board meeting, Mrs. Hoffman appointed the following chairmen:

Hospitality, Mrs. Vincent Vinci, Roselle; social, Mrs. Robert Bauers, Palatine; telephone, Mrs. John Crater, Hoffman Estates; nursery, Mrs. Rolland Anderson, Palatine; bridge, Mrs. James McCarthy, Palatine; program, Mrs. Paul Gravel, Palatine; and publicity, Mrs. Mervin W. Miller, Rolling Meadows.

Wig Prevue Party Set

The chamgagne party promised to area women interested in viewing and learning more about the newest beauty aid, real human hair wigs, is set for Wednesday, May 23.

Featuring 32 wigs in various styles and colors, the party will be held from 2 to 5:30 p.m. in the salon of Martin's Hair Fashions, 23 S. Main, Mount Prospect, where Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Martin will be hosts.

HELPING WITH the showing will be William Clark, internationally known wig expert who has introduced many stars of cinema, stage and TV to the glamor of Tres Chic fashion wigs.

Martin regrets that he is unable to include minors at his champagne party.

Membership Campaign For Concerts to Open

Final details are being completed for the membership campaign of the Arlington Heights Community Concert Association beginning Monday, May 21, according to Mrs. Clayton Sauers membership chairman.

About 125 reservations for the campaign dinner to be held at the Faith Lutheran Church May 21, have been made by the dinner chairman, Mrs. Stephen Jurco. Gordon Bengston of New York City, Community Concert representative, will address the meeting and be present for the entire week to assist in the campaign which will close on Saturday, May 26, at 5 p.m.

DURING THE past 14 years, such well-known artists as Ivan Davis, Gladys Swarthout, the Obernkirchen Children's Choir, and the St. Louis Symphony have appeared on stage in the Arlington High School auditorium. Already under contract for the coming year is Rise Stevens star of the Metropolitan Opera Company. In addition, two or three other concerts will be presented.

All music lovers in the northwest suburban area are invited to join. Memberships are available from any Community Concert worker at a cost of $8 for adults and $4 for students. Those who are not contacted by the volunteer workers may obtain a membership during the week of May 15 at the Paint Spot, 11 W. Davis, Arlington Heights, or at Olsen's Musicland in Palatine. (SF

Art Fair to Exhibit Work of Area Artists

Seven area women will be exhibiting Sunday, May 20, when the Arts and Crafts Department of Barrington Woman's Club sponsors its Outdoor Art Fair of 1962 in the Jewel Tea parking lot, Main Street.

An Arlington Heights artist, Joan Wayne, will do on-the-spot finger painting while Carolyn Ahrens, Vee Powell and Cleda Birmingham of Palatine and Shirley Erickson of Mount Prospect will exhibit water color and oil paintings.

CAROLE KOMAREK of Arlington Heights will show her woodcut prints and paintings while Mrs. Joseph W. Wanner of Roselle will display jewelry she has fashioned.

Twenty-seven professional and 50 amateur artists have entered the show which will also include three school exhibits. Among the art on exhibit will be a 10-foot giraffe sculpture by Forrest Morrow of Elgin, tiny, hand-carved rooms by Leander Hvale of Lake Bluff and wall mural demonstrations by Artaco.

From Liberia, Africa comes R. Van Richards, sculptor, who will demonstrate native drums in the afternoon. Marvin Bradley will display one of his Dr. Rex Morgan strips and two professionals will do pastel portraits of fair visitors.

'May Walk' Set By Gardeners

Members of seven garden clubs in the Paddock area have been invited to attend a "May Walk" Wednesday, May 23, under the sponsorship of the Town and Country Garden Club of Libertyville.

The event, a tour of five homes in the locale, will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., with luncheon and gift items available at one of the stops. Potted plants and flats will also be sold.

Proceeds go to Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville. Tickets, in map form for travelers' ease, may be purchased from Mrs. George Simmons, Rockland Lane, Libertyville.

Quite Contrary by Mary

And What's So Funny?

There are some things that I think are funny and therefore I laugh. But, I fail to see what is so earthshakingly amusing about a bunch of girls (I use the term loosely) getting ready to go out and play golf. We feel that we are quite sedate and businesslike about it. Our husbands think we're a riot.

MARY

They think we are such a show that not one of them gets to his office on time the morning the golf league is due to tee off. A couple of our group feel that all is not right if they do not wave to Daddyo on his way to earn the daily bread, this tends to make us nervous. According to my informant whose lair I share, this is where we get really riotous.

I will admit that not a one of us likes to get what is termed an early start on things. We are inclined to shuffle through breakfast and well into the third cup of coffee before our eyes are really open and we can cogitate. Or, even face the day. On golf day our tee-off time is eight in the a.m. This brings us spouting from our beds like little Old Faithfuls.

We have breakfast on the table, full make-up jobs on, complete golf outfits on our frames before the rest of the family has taken that final leisurely morning stretch in their beds. We clap our hands and run through the house shouting "Up, up and everybody out, Mommy is going golfing." A couple of us pigtail some heads of hair each morning. I have been known to try and pigtail a head of hair that was still on its pillow.

Like jack-in-the-boxes, we emerge from our various abodes trundling our golf carts behind us and with our shoes tucked underneath our arms. Every driveway has its completely equipped golfing female. Then we start waving and shouting about whose car we are going in. By this time anyone who has decided to sleep in might just as well get up. The din is terrific.

This goes on every week. And, there the fellas stand roaring at us. Thinking about it objectively, maybe we are rather amusing at that. But, surely not THAT funny. Every week? (SF

Men Dominate Play In Bridge Tourney

Men dominated the action in the Northwest Suburban YMCA's bi-weekly duplicate bridge tournament Friday night.

Winners of the 17 table game were Andy Szoeke and Robert Doughtly, Chicago; Dallas Erickson and Ed Bodenstab, Prospect Heights; Jack Martin and Chester Rumpf, Arlington Heights; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gonzales, Park Ridge.

Second place awards went to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kaye, Arlington Heights; Alice Miller and Mrs. Charles Froula Sr., Mount Prospect; Nelson Hammond and John L. Wismar, Palatine; and Frank McAndrew, Park Ridge, and Robert Cohen, Des Plaines.

NEXT GAME at the "Y" will be master point night, May 25. This Friday night is master point night at the Arlington Heights game in Pioneer Park's field house.

The "Y" will feature a special master point charity game June 8 to benefit the YMCA building program.

All games are open to the public. (B8

BETA SIGMA PHI

The presentation of awards and degrees was one of the highlights April 25 when Lambda Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its 31st annual Founders Day dinner in Farmans Hotel, Lake Zurich.

"Girl of the Year" award was received by Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin of Palatine and the "Ritual of Jewel's" degree was conferred upon Mrs. Herbert Cunniff and Mrs. Richard Erickson, both of Palatine. Mrs. Lester Turman of Mount Prospect received the "Ritual of Affirmation."

THE ANNUAL message was read by Mrs. William Valiant of Prospect Heights.

Service projects were reported at the May 2 meeting of the group held in the Palatine home of Mrs. Norman Fletcher, and the chapter welcomed a new member, Mrs. John Balky of Arlington Heights who was given the "Pledge Ritual."

Plans were discussed for a birthday party to mark the last meeting of the season and for a couples' barbecue to be held Saturday, June 9. (S

How to Plan Color Schemes for Rooms

URBANA—Pleasing color schemes for rooms usually don't just happen. They need to be planned, says Willis Kauffman, professor of home furnishings at the University of Illinois.

Of course, there is more than one good way to arrive at an attractive color scheme, according to Kauffman. In a recent class project report, Ellen Reimann, a home economics stu- some of the steps in traditional planning:

First, choose the mood you wish to express. Second, consider how you can achieve the desired characteristics of the room in a practical manner. For example, if you want the architectural features of the room to stand out, you can paint them in contrast to the rest of the room. If you want to minimize these features, you can paint them the same color as the rest of the room.

FROM THE COLORS picked by steps one and two, decide on a dominant color. With this color in mind, plan a tentative color scheme with respect to hues, lightness and darkness. It's preferable to have three levels of color value in one room. Unintere sting color schemes usually have insufficient contrasts.

Sketch or mentally plan the places where the colors will be located. It is usually best to have the darkest value on the floor, medium values on walls and large upholstered pieces, and a pale ceiling.

CHOOSE THE specific colors for the room in this order: (1) carpet, (2) walls, (3) draperies and (4) principal pieces of furniture. Finally, plan the foreground colors for accents and contrasts. These are the colors to be found in small chairs, pictures and accessories.

Kauffman emphasizes that homemakers should keep planning flexible and go by "what's best in my situation."

We recently initiated our new Suburban Living—Especially for Women section in our newspapers, combining the interesting women's and food features and ads into one, easily-read part of the paper. We'd appreciate your comments. Please circle the bold face answers in the questions that best express your thoughts, and return to us.

Do you test the recipes of some of your neighbors as presented in Lois Seiler's recipe column Often, Now and Then, or Rarely?

Do you agree with Mary in her Quite Contrary column each week All the Time, Now and Then, or Rarely?

Do you agree with your husband's selection of his clothes Every Time, or just Now and Then to let him think he is making the selection?

Patty McArdle discusses Raising Kids, Art Shows and Family Trips in her Just Around the Corner column. Which do you find most interesting?

Some issues of our paper are quite large. Do you read it all at just One Sitting or Keep Referring to it as the week goes by?

Are Women Becoming Too Independent

Is 'Chivalry' Being Hurt?

by BETTY AINSLIE

Could it be that women are becoming too independent? Brought up with theh idea that we're just as intelligent and just as able to handle well-paying positions as men, are we through our own flaunting of the equality of the sexes stepping on the neck of masculine chivalry?

Even though we may rant and rave when our husbands hop into the car without making certain we're established in our seat first, or if we get no rise out of the men when we enter a room, or are forced to light our own cigarettes we really have only ourselves to blame.

We were bringing a neighbor home from the train one night when he mentioned an incident that had happened to him that day.

SEEMS A well-dressed young woman and he reached a revolving door at the same time, automatically and really without thinking he stepped back to let her go through first. But the woman stopped dead in her tracks, turned angrily to him and said, "If you think I'm going to go in that revolving door first so you can go through on my push you're crazy.

Our neighbor said he had never given the fact that she'd have to do the pushing a thought, he was merely being polite.

"Men just haven't any manners anymore," I heard a woman declare firmly, but if politeness is a rare commodity these days is it because women have lowered their standards in what they expect and accept as chivalrous?

"CHIVALRY IS dead" someone said and it must have departed from this world about the same time we gals got the vote. Almost overnight we outgrew the role of the pampered and protected household ornament, bobbed our hair, shortened our skirts and moved into the male business world.

The masculine population was also set back on their heels by women being allowed to and welcomed into the previously male havens of barbershops and taverns. But once we got our spike heels in the door we changed the names to beauty parlor and cocktail bar.

The fair sex became athletic too and could vie with men in most of the for-fun sports.

"FRAILTY THY name is woman" said Shakespeare and he was proved a downright liar when women took the places of men in factories during World War II. It was at this same time that we adopted the more comfortable men's clothing too; in fact according to a well-known sports magazine, women in 1960 bought for themselves a third of the slacks purchased.

So we did it, girls, we made ourselves man's equal and now we're stuck with it when underneath it all we still enjoy being pampered, spoiled and catered to — so how come?

Our daughter, who is majoring in psychology at college and of course knows all the answers to everything, has the whole matter figured out. According to her, little girls would rather be boys because boys seem to have all the fun and can do so many more things. They continue to compete with boys until they fall in love and decide being a girl has its compensations at that; now they switch to wanting this courtesy they scoffed at as youngsters.

BUT THE boy is bewildered by this chameleon about face. The girl that can beat him swimming the length of the pool suddenly wants help with her coat, needs the chair pushed out for her at the table and demands to be seated in his jalopy. So if he treats her as the equal she has been demanding should he still give out with the extra courtesies?

That is the answer why American males lag behind their foreign contemporaries in this business of courtesy and gallantry straight from three years of psychology.

Now, personally, I bet it's just that we gals have plain forgotten to show appreciation to the man who holds open the door for us and we just take for granted other ordinary courtesies.

I HEARD one man who had just helped a woman wheel a heavy basket through the door of a supermarket without so much as a thank you declare; "gosh, you'd think this courtesy business could work both ways."

I don't believe male manners have really degenerated, maybe slipped a bit because we gals forget to be grateful for small favors ourselves, and are so busy making certain we remain on this equality footing with men that we light our own cigarettes, pull out our own chairs and don our own coats before our male escort has time to do the honors for us.

No, courtesy isn't dead at least not yet, but if the female sex keeps on forgetting her own manners and accepts without so much as a smile or thank you these favors performed with politeness, the gentlemen certainly will object and call a moratorium on manners.

But honestly, fellows, keep on pulling out our chairs, telling us we look nice, holding open the doors and picking up the things we drop. Making us feel fragile and feminine only makes you feel gallant and strong and remember — we like it, we like it. (Soc

Dwarf Citrus Trees Set New Home Decor 'Trend'

URBANA—If you're looking for an ornamental house plant that is easy to grow and yet is a conversation piece, dwarf citrus trees may be the answer.

G. M. Fosler, University of Illinois floriculturist, points out that the American wonder lemon, dwarf otaheite orange, Meyer's lemon and calamondin, are some of the varieties best suited for container-growing.

THESE TREES stay attractive for many years, bearing both blossoms and colorful fruit. The fragrant flowers usually appear in winter, soon after the first of the year, but there are often more during the summer.

Sometimes several crops of fruit remain on the tree at one time.

Insect pollination in the warm months insures fruit set. But in the winter you may need to artificially pollinate the flowers.

The trees are not troubled by many insects and disesases. An all-purpose-type aerosol houseplant spray will control the few pests that do appear.

TO GROW these trees, use a potting mixture, such as three parts loam, two parts organic matter and one part sand. Be sure the container has good drainage.

Fertilize with a complete soluble fertilizer every four to six weeks in summer and less frequently during the cool months.

Keep the plant in a sunny, south window, preferably in a moderately cool room. In summer, take it outside to a lightly shaded, somewhat protected location, and sink it well into the soil. Keep it watered and fertilized. As the frost approaches, return the plant to a sunny window indoors.

DWARF CITRUS trees will stay small and compact with only a small amount of pruning.

The trees are available from many florists and mail order nurseries.

Fosler points out that you can also gets plants by planting fresh, undried seeds from citrus fruits that you buy.

But these plants seldom bloom or set fruit under pot culture. They do, however, have glossy, attractive foliage.

Eatable Mushrooms— Safe Hunting Hints

URBANA — It's mushroom season again. And anyone who uses common sense can gather mushrooms with safety, says O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois extension safety specialist.

The main guide for safe hunting is: learn to identify the "big four" eatable kinds of mushrooms.

The giant puffball is white, round and conspicuous. It cannot be mistaken for any other mushroom, as there is no stem running through it. If a puffball is white all the way through and no stem runs through the meat, it is safe to eat.

THE MEADOW mushroom is grown commercially. You can learn more about this mushroom by buying a few at the store and examining them.

The morel mushroom, better known as the sponge mushroom, is the most commonly hunted. Once you have seen this sponge-like mushroom, you can distinguish it from the common toad stool at a glance.

The last of the "big four" is the oyster mushroom, so called because of its shape. It isalso called the log or wood oyster

LIKE OTHER varieties, it is easy to identify. The stem is not attached to the center of the cap, but on one side. Its most distinctive features are the gills that run down into the stem. (S

Exchange Night For Bethel 103

May 9 was Exchange Night for Bethel 103, International Order of Jobs Daughters, Arlington Heights. Miss Marilyn Cook, Honored Queen of Palatine Bethel 107, served as Honored Queen for the evening. Other officers of Palatine Bethel served in all the other stations.

Next meeting of Bethel 103 will be Wednesday, May 23. On this night, there will be initiation, the books will close, and there will be election of officers for the coming year.

Violet Club Installs Officers

A display of May baskets filled with African violets was the setting May 2 for installation of officers for the Suburban Saintpaulia Society of Arlington Heights. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Haywood Miller, 19 S. Kerwood, Palatine, with Mrs. Frank Straha as co-hostess.

Installed as president of the group was Mrs. Clarence Paeglow, 2703 Meadow Drive, Rolling Meadows. Vice president is Mrs. Ossian Oberg of Palatine and secretary and treasurer are Mrs. Michael DeMet and Mrs. John F. Lemmer, both of Prospect Heights.

COMMITTEE heads are Mrs. Laddie Poduska, social and program; Mrs. H. Schroeder and Mrs. H. Miller, ways and means; Mrs. R. Helgesen, publicity and good cheer; Mrs. F. Silha, library; and Mrs. G. Vogeler, historian.

The new president gave a report on the State Violet Convention held recently in Evanston for which she, Mrs. DeMet, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Walter Hensel, Mrs. Oberg and Mrs. Helgesen served as guards. The local club donated a cash award for one of the best pink violets at the show.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

Decorateacupcake Party

By Dolores Haugh

No, this is not a foreign language, and not a typographical error, although the last time I made that statement there was one. It is a party idea for the pretty month of May birthday girl.

INVITATIONS

Cut construction paper cupcakes, double fold, in spring colors of green, yellow, pink and, of course, chocolate, and top all of them with red cherries cut from shiny red shelf paper. Paste a white paper on the bottom of the front cupcake for the paper holder and then on the squiggle that some cupcakes have in the center, write the following:

There's going to be a party and
A BIRTHDAY one, 'tis true,
We're going to have a lot of fun
So won't you join in too?
There'll be cupcakes by the dozen,
And frosting and the like,
In pretty colors just like this
And then we'll have a bite.
So wear a pretty apron, that mother will agree
Will keep your dress presentable, just you wait and see.

State time, place and RSVP so that you can have the dozens of cupcakes promised.

DECORATIONS

Actually a lot of pretty paper cups and napkins and a well-prepared kitchen table covered with newspapers is all you need but if you want to make it "special" then set a merry-go-round table. Tie streamers of crepe paper from a ceiling fixture and tie one end to the chair of each guest. Flowers, bows and a special crown will be for the little hostess, topped with a white baker's hat for the birthday girl.

The undecorated cupcakes can be decorated in the kitchen and carried into the room where the table is set up. Oh yes, have a punch bowl too as this adds a very grown up flavor to the party. Mixed pink lemonade or other fruit juices make pretty punches especially with real flowers frozen in a piece of ice which is made in a fancy jello mould. Tiny baking utensils would be appropriate take home prizes or aprons and cook books if the girls are a little older.

One point to make however, limit the number of guests so that you can supervise closely.

GETTING THE set-up ready for the decorations is simple. Have colored sugars, and any other pretty colorful decorations available at any stores, cherries in red and green and then lots of nice fluffy frosting. The children may want to make faces on the cupcakes so have chocolate chips and coconut for hair, candies and animal crackers, peppermint sticks and ribbons for maypole cupcakes but let the children make up their own.

If the children are old enough you can have them vote for the prettiest, funniest, or most clever cupcake and, of course, award a prize but generally just making their own cupcakes is prize enough. Let them do more than one and send some to an old folks home, orphanage, or hospital. This is a good idea for girl club leaders to note; fun and service all in one.

SO WHIP UP a batch of cupcakes, place them in spring color cups and stand back for compliments, and then wind up the party, if a birthday, with the opening of the gifts, which may also be trimmed in cupcake colors if you so stipulate on the invitation.

Colorful, lots to eat, lots to do and lots of goo. So off for a happy DECORATEACUPCAKE party. (S

Schaumburg Juniors View Film, Hear Ann'l Reports

"Time and Two Women," a film from the American Cancer Society, was shown at the May 7 general meeting of the Schaumburg Junior Woman's Club. After the film, Dr. Richard E. Howell of Hoffman Estates, gave a talk on cancer and answered questions from the club members.

The annual reports were also given at this May 7 meeting. Schaumburg Junior Woman's Club is now on year old and in the past year the Juniors have provided the volunteer workers for the TB mobile unit in Hoffman Estates, sold $476 worth of Trick-or-Treat candy for the Brain research Foundation, given $329 to the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association via fund drive and club contribution, helped with the Girl Scout Fund Drive, and planted flowers around the village sign.

LAST CHRISTMAS the club donated 17 baskets of food and clothing to the needy. At Easter-time members held a party for children at Herrick House. Being a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the Juniors have also contributed to federation projects.

At the May meeting the membership voted to contribute $280 to Campanelli School for playground equipment and $120 to the Schaumburg Junior High School for library books. These contributions are in keeping with the Juniors' community improvement project which pledged them to help Schaumburg Schools in whatever way possible.

A SPECIAL dinner meeting was held May 15 at the Evergreens Restaurant in Dundee to install the following new officers for the coming club year:

Mrs. Leonard Newendorp, president; Mrs. Joseph Spero, first vice president; Mrs. Toni Recello, second vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Wollenberg, recording secretary; Mrs. Dalton Ulmer, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Kenneth Moffat, treasurer.

Out-going officers are Mrs. Earl Lind, president; Mrs. Robert Kathe, first vice president; Mrs. Leonard Newendorp, second vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Hall, recording secretary, Mrs. Walter Struckman, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Leon Dennison, treasurer.

Escorted Tour Pays Off: Cartan Travel

Don't turn up your nose at the escorted tour, exclaims a veteran traveller, for rarely can you get so much service, more vacation time, plus companionship and enjoyment for your travel dollars.

"And contrary to some popular misconceptions, groups travel in a pleasant, coordinated and leisurely manner," added Edward J. Hennessy, vice president of Cartan Travel, one of the nation's largest tour operators.

Hennessy, an Arlington Heights resident, said the economies of a tour are the result of "group buying," plus many months of carefully arranging an itinerary planned by a team of experts.

"TOUR members also receive a bonus of from two to four hours of extra vacation time per day," he said, "because the operator assumes all the myriad details of travel such as tickets, reservations, bills and luggage."

Hennessy said groups are comprised of couples, single persons travelling together, and single people alone, with three out of four being either business or professional people, and the remainder retired persons.

He suggests group travel for the following individuals:

1. Virtually everybody who is making a first visit to any place around the globe.

2. UNESCORTED females who are anxious to have a good time and are not at all interested in spending their evenings in their hotel rooms addressing postcards of sunset scenes.

3. Busy professional and business people who want to see as much as they can within a limited span of time.

4. The aged, who find it increasingly difficult to handle their luggage, physically.

5. THE SHY and diffident who find security, peace of mind, and happiness through the presence of others, and

6. The people who just plain like to relax, have fun, and not bother with "details." (Tr

Some Flowering Annuals Grow Well in Shade

URBANA—Many home gardeners ask, "What flowering annuals can be grown satisfactorily in the shade?

G. M. Fosler, University of Illinois floriculturist, emphasizes that the choice depends on the degree of shade you have.

A few varieties do fairly well in light shade, such as from a distant tree. Or they perform satisfactorily if they receive full sunlight for just a few hours each day. In this category are petunias, alyssum, balsam, snapdragons, spiderflower, salvia, periwinkle, aster, verbena, annual phlox, cockscomb and flowering tobacco. Remember, however, that all of these will flower much better in full sun.

FOR FLOWER beds in moderate shade, the list is shorter. Fosler gives impatiens or sultana as his first choice. Also satisfactory are pansies, lobelia, violas, torenia and balsam. Brilliant color effects can also be achieved with various coleus varieties, grown from seed.

Other shade-loving flowers are fibrous and tuberous-rooted begonias. In the midwest these usually do poorly in full sun. The caladiums (elephant's ear), available in many dwarf-growing forms, and fuchias can add colorful and exotic touches to your shaded flower beds.

Your local florist, greenhouse or garden center operator will be glad to help you select plants suitable for shaded areas in your garden.

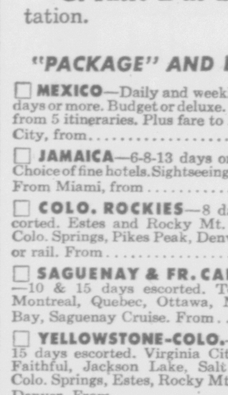
CARTAN Vacations

Whatever your tastes, whatever your aspirations, your vacation dreams and desires come alive on carefully arranged escorted vacations and "packages" by Cartan, which has arranged travel throughout the world for a half million Americans since 1899.

Two centuries of combined travel experience are represented in Cartan vacations. One of the largest and most respected travel operators, Cartan offers hundreds of departures each year to Europe, Mexico, Hawaii, Canadian Rockies, California, Caribbean, National Parks, South America, Jamaica, French Canada, Middle East, and Orient.



The heart of Cartan quality, integrity and service, is reflected in the fact that 8 out of 10 of our clients are either repeat or recommended by former customers and travel agents.

Cartan's pleasant, coordinated and reasonable-priced vacations are tailored to satisfy your every whim. Here are only some of the many advantages of a Cartan vacation.

1. Hotel selections are considered tops in housekeeping, decor, management, service and location.

2. Experienced escorts look after tickets, transfer of baggage, room registrations, sightseeing, and arrange free time suggestions such as night club and theater parties.

3. You know exactly what your trip will cost before you even start, thus avoiding the pitfall of the individual traveler whose budget does not work out, causing omissions, economies and embarrassment.

4. Single men and women, as well as married couples, have the vacation of a lifetime while traveling with a limited size group.

5. You are assured 2 to 4 hours of extra vacation time per day on details we handle for you.

6. Everything is arranged for your pleasure, smoothly and unobtrusively.

7. You are a welcomed expected guest everywhere you go because hotels, transportation, sightseeing and entertainment reservations are planned in advance.

8. There is no herding, noisy direction or regimentation.

Week's Best Food Buys

"It's an odd year," is probably the understatement of the season, if not the kindest comment to make, in the face of current food situations. Some suggest nature might have forgotten that this is supposed to be a period of seasonal bloom.

Here's what the weekly University of Illinois consumer service survey shows:

Cattle marketing may have peaked, but appears late. Even so, total beef and pork supplies are more than ample and retail bargains abound. Lamb is caught between heavy weight fall supplies and extremely scarce spring kinds. In any event, lamb and veal supplies are less than normal.

FRYERS ARE so cheap retailers can hardly price much closer to cost, causing operators to hold back (hoping for lower wholesale) until the last moment before breaking with inevitable Memorial Day fryer promotions.

The once-low 27-29 cents is hard to find as bottom quotes persist at 25 cents, within a fraction of current wholesale. Despite this, don't expect last spring's low of 19 cents to reappear. Turkeys are in a 17 million pound storage bulge over year-ago and inactive.

Egg costs tumble another 2½ cents to set lower retails again. Demand lags and storage stocks of shell eggs exceed year-ago levels. An active government purchase program is under way.

FRESH PRODUCE markets are low in supply, poor in quality and high in price, to illustrate cumulative effects of market troubles.

Examples: Lettuce quotes 35-39 cents a head, cauliflower 49 cents a head, green beans 39-59 cents a pound, acorn squash 19 cents a pound, and even seasonal asparagus jumps to a new range of quotes.

Apples average 25-30 cents a pound. The better deals are in fresh, canned and frozen citrus, and frozen vegetables.

The latter, however, dropped below the billion pound level for the first time in a year, but continue well above average supply. The processed line wholesale index is lower than last year.

FATS AND oils are ample to tremendous in supply, offering many discount opportunities. But no improvement is seen in canned fish stocks, even with the new season pack outlook for salmon and shrimp.

The U of I consensus value column for the marketing period ending May 19 includes: meats - pork loin roast, picnics, bacon, beef chuck and rump roasts, sirloin and porterhouse steaks; poultry - large eggs and fryers; produce—strawberries, oranges, avocados, bananas, tomatoes, spinach, greens and celery.

An early week cost increase in hogs was reversed by larger late week supplies. Heavy buying at wholesale sent quotes soaring 3 cents, highest since mid-March, ribs and butts climbing ¼ cent and ¾ cent respectively from week-ago.

RETAILS responded with rib portions quoting 29-39 cents, loin portions 39-49 cents, center chops generally 79-89 cents (but 65-69 cents on promotion), fresh butts 45-49 cents and steaks a higher 55-59 cents.

Some promotions surround bacon, but first lines generally show 65-69 cents and second line brands 49-59 cents. Picnics are steady at prevailing weaker levels, 33-39 cents, and smoked butts, also continuing weak, are occasionally 55 cents but mostly 69 cents.

HEAVIER cattle receipts broke live costs. Lower grades predominated to widen the cost between grades, prime and high choice up ½ cent, others steady to off ¼ cent. Wholesale loins were in best demand. Chucks moved well with cooler weather.

Prices were steady to up as much as 1½ cents. Seasonal price spreads occurred at retail, blade cut pot poasts 39-55 cents, round bone 49-63 cents, rump roast mostly 98 cents, with sirloin tips $1.09, although some quote lower. Round steaks ranged 79-95 cents, sirloins 85 cents-1.09 and porterhouse 95 cents-$1:35.

LIVE LAMB, anticipated small supplies clearly evident now, went up ½ cent. Wholesale ranged steady on fall supplies to a full 2 cents higher on scarce spring supplies. Retailers, with both kinds from which to pick, tagged leg roasts 69-75 cents, shoulder roasts 49 cents, and shoulder chops 69-79 cents.

Fryers take the full retail range of 25-35 cents as operators wait and see for the next holiday. Turkeys, also involved in this holding session, prevail at 39-45 cents competitively.

Eggs, reflecting the most recent round of lower wholesales, post a new, lower 43-47 cents for large size grade A. (SH

Big Treat, Little Work—Chocolate Banana Pops

It's hard to believe anything so simple to make could be so downright delicious as Chocolate Banana Freeze-Pops, but you'll see.

All you do for this delectable treat is take half a ripe banana, put a stick in it, freeze the banana, and then coat it with melted semi-sweet chocolate morsels.

ALMOST BY magic, it seems, the chocolate hardens around the banana.

Then you wrap each Chocolate Banana Pop in foil, and put back in the freezer, to be ready at a moment's notice with the most delicious and refreshing of all summer treats.

Setting your teeth into that smooth, rich chocolate around the icy cold bite of mellow banana is just pure eating joy.

The reason why these Chocolate Banana Freezi-Pops are so easy is because they are made with melted semi-sweet chocolate morsels, so complete you can eat them "as is," like dandy.

Just melt them, and your chocolate coating is ready!

CHOCOLATE BANANA FREEZI-POPS

1 6 ounce package (1 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels
6 fully ripe bananas

Peel bananas; cut in half crosswise. Insert a wooden stick into the end of each. Place in shallow pan; freeze 2 to 3 hours.

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Spread melted chocolate with spatula or knife over each banana.

Chocolate will harden immediately. Wrap each banana in aluminum foil; store in freezer.

Yield: 12 chocolate coated bananas. (SH

Perky Short Cakes For Company Meals

Spring is springing! Pussy-willows, narcissus, fresh asparagus, first robins, the budding of the trees—all are signs of that glorious time of the year.

In tune with the season are these delicious ham, ripe olive and asparagus Spring Short Cakes.

They are pretty and tasty enough for a company meal, and a good way to use left-over ham.

The short cakes sport perky bonnets of fresh asparagus spears; filling is a well-seasoned cream sauce livened up with chunks of delicious ripe olives.

SPRING SHORT CAKES

¾ cup ripe olives
¼ cup butter or margarine
1/3 cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash cayenne
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
2 cups diced, cooked ham
6 baking powder biscuits
Cooked asparagus tips

Cut olives into large pieces. Melt butter and blend in flour, salt, mustard and cayenne.

Add milk, onion and Worcestershire sauce, and cook and stir until mixture boils and thickens. Add ham and ripe olives.

SERVE SHORT cake fashion over hot baking powder biscuits which have small hole in center of top.

Insert 3 asparagus spears in center of each biscuit and garnish with ripe olive. Makes 6 servings. (SH

Swedish Specialties Favored In Oberg Home

SWEDISH RYE BREAD

4 cups water
2 teaspoons fennel seed (or caraway) crushed
¾ large cake yeast or 1½ packages dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
½ teaspoon sugar
4 tablespoons lard
4 tablespoons dark Karo syrup
1 tablespoon salt
1 level cup light brown sugar
3 cups rye & wheat flour
8 cups white flour

Heat water and let come to a boil; add fennel seed and let steep about 15 minutes. Dissolve yeast in the ¼ cup warm water with ½ teaspoon sugar and set aside.

To the steeped fennel seed add lard, Karo syrup, salt and brown sugar. Gradually add the rye and wheat flour and beat well. Gradually add 6 cups white flour and beat until smooth. Add yeast and mix well.

PLACE IN greased bowl, cover and let rise in warm place for about 45 minutes or until double in bulk. Then knead about 8 minutes with remaining 2 cups white flour. Place in greased bowl again and let rise until double in bulk.

Divide dough in four parts and shape into loaves. Place in greased bread tins. Allow to rise again for the third time. About 10 minutes before baking, brush the loaves with beaten egg.

Bake in a pre-heated 350 degree oven about 45 minutes or until well-baked, depending on oven. Yield: 4 loaves.

SWEDISH COFFEE CAKE

½ large cake yeast or 1 package dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
½ teaspoon sugar
2 cups milk
¼ pound butter
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar
1 egg yolk
½ tablespoon rum (optional)
10 whole cardamon seeds, crushed fine
6 cups white flour
Raisins (optional)

Dissolve yeast and sugar in warm water; set aside.

Heat milk a little warmer than lukewarm. Add butter, sugar and salt. Then add 4 cups flour to make a soft dough and beat well. Add egg yolk, rum, cardamon seed and yeast; beat.

Place in a greased bowl, cover and let rise about one hour or until double in bulk. Then add remaining 2 cups flour and knead about five minutes.

RETURN DOUGH to greased bowl and let rise again until double in bulk. Divide dough into two or three parts, depending on whether you wish to make two large or three small coffee cakes.

Roll out each part, cut into three strips and braid. Place in greased baking tins and let rsie the third time. About 15 minutes before baking, brush with slightly-beaten egg and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Bake in a pre-heated 350 degree oven for about 30 minutes or until done.

THIN SWEDISH PANCAKES

2 eggs
2½ tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
7 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
¼ cup cream or half and half
1 tablespoon melted butter

Beat eggs and add remaining ingredients. Mix well to make a smooth batter. Fry in butter on a griddle. Serve with syrup, jelly or preserves. Serves 2.

RICE PUDDING

1 cup rice, thoroughly washed
2 cups water, salted
3 cups milk
¼ pound butter
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
Grated rind of one lemon
4 eggs, well-beaten

Let rice and water boil slowly until water has been absorbed. Then add milk and cook slowly until milk has been absorbed. Add butter, sugar, salt, grated lemon rind and eggs. (Raisins may be included, if desired.)

Turn into buttered casserole; sprinkle top lightly with cinnamon. Bake in a pre-heated oven, 350 degrees, for 40 to 45 minutes. Makes large casserole and serves about eight.

COCONUT OATMEAL COOKIES

¼ pound butter
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup white sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup flour, sifted
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 cup dry oatmeal
1 can coconut (moist Southern style)
½ cup pecan or walnut meats

Cream together butter, brown sugar and white sugar. Add egg and vanilla and beat well.

Sift flour, baking powder and soda together and add to above mixture. Blend in oatmeal, coconut and nuts.

Drop by small teaspoonsful onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in pre-heated 350 degree oven about 12 minutes. Cookies spread large and flat. Remove from sheet while still warm as they are crisp and will stick if cold.

Yield: about 75 cookies.

SMOR BAKELSER

½ pound butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg yolk
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon almond extract

Cream butter and sugar together. Beat in egg, flour and extract. Form into small balls and place on greased cookie sheet. Press down with a fork. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 12 minutes. Makes about 60 cookies.

This recipe may also be used to make spritz cookies.

Foods Date Back To Grama's Time

by LOIS SEILER

A Swedish heritage plays an imprtant role in Mrs. Oscar G. Oberg's culinary endeavors.

"Both of my parents were Swedish and my husband came to America from Sweden as a young boy," Mrs. Oberg said in explaining her extensive collection of excellent Swedish recipes. "However," she hastened to add, "we both like all types of food, from Italian spaghetti to German potato salad."

But the recipes she chose to share with us are primarily Swedish specialties which she and her husband have enjoyed through the years.

One of their favorites is a Swedish Rye Bread which is somewhat on the order of a Swedish Limpa. Mrs. Oberg has memories of both her mother and grandmother preparing this bread, but as neither had ever written down the recipe, Mrs. Oberg comprised one which approximates as closely as possible the bread which her ancestors made.

"My grandmother always used fennel seed," said this good cook, "although caraway may be used as a substitute." Both rye wheat and white flour are listed in the ingredients, while lard is used as the shortening.

Dark Karo syrup and light brown sugar contribute color and a sweet flavor to this bread, which has a light and even texture. Swedish Rye Bread is a delicious dinner bread, and Mr. Oberg likes it as a sandwich bread for lunches, too.

Another recipe which has been in Mrs. Oberg's family for years is a Swedish Coffee Cake. This is a versatile recipe which can be used to make either coffee cakes or rolls.

FLAVORED WITH crushed cardamon seeds and a bit of rum, this cake may be varied by adding raisins or mixed glazed fruit to the dough.

After two risings, the dough is divided to make two large or three small braided coffee cakes. Before baking, they are brushed with beaten egg and sprinkled with cinnamon and sugar (and chopped nuts, if desired.)

The Obergs like this cake best with coffee, either for breakfast or in the afternoon or evening. It can be served with butter or jam.

ANOTHER of their breakfast favorites is Thin Swedish Pancakes which they especially enjoy on a leisurely Saturday morning. Mixed together in a jiffy, these thin and light pancakes are delicious served with syrup, jelly or preserves. Mrs. Oberg always accompanies them with small sausages, bacon or ham.

Smorgasbords have always played an important role in Swedish social gatherings, and often a rice pudding is served as dessert. "On such occasions our family usually serves the pudding in sauce dishes topped with lingonberries," Mrs. Oberg said. "On other occasions we serve it with cream."

MRS. OBERG'S good pudding recipe is flavored with tangy lemon rind, and raisins may be included. It is baked with a light sprinkling of cinnamon on top, and is a nourishing and appealing dessert.

The pudding can be accompanied with a crispy cookie, and this capable cook suggests Coconut Oatmeal Cookies or Smor Bakelser.

Oatmeal, coconut and chopped nuts give flavor and texture to one cookie, while almond extract is used as a flavoring in the other butter cookie. The Smor Bakelser recipe can also be used to make spritz cookies. Both these and the oatmeal cookies are delightful taste treats.

Mr. and Mrs. Oberg moved from Chicago to Arlington Heights eight years ago. They reside at 404 S. Mitchell Avenue.

THE VARIOUS ITEMS in this appealing array of baked goods have one thing in common: they are all made from authentic Swedish recipes. The good cook who has prepared these delicacies is Mrs. Oscar G. Oberg of Arlington Heights, who is shown slicing a loaf of Swedish rye bread. Also featured in her assortment are a Swedish coffee cake, rice pudding, sweet rolls, Smor Bakelser and coconut oatmeal cookies. (SH

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Not any old Aladdin's lamp works in losing weight even if you say words like, "calories don't count."

Only the genuine article—energy balance—and its golden rule, "eat less, exercise more," can give you the results you want.

The latest false Aladdin's lamp for reducing—a revival of the high fat, low carbohydrate diet—has been studied many times in the past 30 years.

MOST RECENTLY, doctors in London, Copenhagen, and at Columbia University ganged up on the question through experiment and reported these results:

Patients gained weight when they were able to tolerate a diet high in fat and low in carbohydrate.

Only those who could not eat the diet lost weight. They complained of nausea, huffed and puffed on little exertion, were tired and irritable.

BECAUSE FAT is not burned completely when a diet furnishes too little carbohydrate, abnormal end-products of fat build up within the body to cause acidosis.

For this reason, persons on a high fat, low carbohydrate diet need close medical attention.

For weight control, most doctors pick out the only Aladdin's lamp that works. The magic words, they say:

Add extra physical activity, each day. A walk may do.

Eat less of all food. But include, daily—four ounces of lean meat or its alternates, two servings of skim milk or low fat cheese, four servings of enriched or whole grain bread and other cereal foods, four servings of vegetables and unsweetened fruits. (SH

Badgered by economic worries, harassed by failing health, the aged for the most part are in dire need. They are, almost without exception, cruelly lonely, suffering from feelings of rejection and neglect.

Dr. Daniel Haffron, Superintendent, Elgin State Hospital: "Until we determine the cause of mental illness and emotional problems among older people, there is little we can do with diagnosis and treatment. The core of the problem is a lack of knowledge about causation; this means more research and study are imperative."

Behind the Bylines . . .

The writer-photographer team of Charles E. Hayes and Larry Cameron first gained prominence with the award-winning newspaper series, "The Poor."

"These Lonely Rooms," their current project, took them on a 2,000-mile junket throughout the state during a four-month period.

Charles E. Hayes is Executive Editor of Paddock Publications, Inc., and has been associated with the 14 suburban newspapers since 1954. Graduate of Wittenberg University, he earned the M. S. in Journalism degree from Northwestern University. He is winner of nine state and national press awards.

Larry Cameron, Chief Photographer for Paddock Publications, has been on the newspapers' staff since 1956. He is winner of several awards for excellence in photojournalism.

CAMERON

Reprints of this six-part report on the aged of Illinois are available from Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Temple Irwin-Grout, Scott County Superintendent of Public Aid: "We need to work WITH the aged, not FOR them. The older person needs to be as self-reliant as possible."

A Report on the Aged of Illinois

These Lonely Rooms

A revolution in aging is taking place. Our entire thinking on the subject of aging and the aged must be as dramatic and forward-looking as the revolution itself. We dare not cling to the old perspective of neglect and injustice . . .

By CHARLES E. HAYES • Photographs by LARRY CAMERON

(Last in a Series)

Janet Burgoon, director, Winnetka Senior Citizens Center: "A big problem with aged people is loneliness. They are so eager for companionship, someone to talk to. We must help them to find their niche of usefulness."

Accompanied by photographer Larry Cameron, I spent 18 weeks criss-crossing the state looking for the aged. I visited 20 communities and talked to more than 50 experts on the aged; I traveled 2,000 miles into desolate mining hamlets, deserted farming communities, industrial river towns, the big cities and the suburbs of Illinois.

And I found them, armies of them . . . old pioneers still living in cabins with tin-types on the walls . . . quiet hotel dwellers getting hungrier as the rents go up . . . the aged and ailing in nursing homes, in hospitals, in homes for the poor, in mental institutions. I found them isolated and forgotten in slum rooming houses and ramshackle dwellings.

I learned that our senior citizens are being literally starved into a corner of despair through neglect and injustice. Mired in poverty, the aged suffer from poor health, poor housing, low income.

Typical of thousands was the 83-year-old spinster who sat quietly in her slum cottage. Weak, worn hands lay useless in her lap. Eyes downcast, she confessed: "I think it's terrible to get old."

Or the 67-year-old jobless workman who noted bitterly: "I guess when you get to my age everybody expects you to go on charity to scratch out a living."

Or the 70-year-old widow who lives with a married daughter and feels that she is a burden on her son-in-law. "But where can I go? What can I do? What is my place?"

These are the aged of Illinois . . . a million of them and many more to come. Most of them face almost hopeless problems:

—Poverty has magnified the problems of age. One-fifth of the elderly have no income whatsoever. More than 60 per cent of the aged have less than $1,000 a year income. For a half million Illinois citizens drawing Social Security, the average monthly benefit is $78; for 68,491 old age relief recipients, the average benefit is $36 a month, plus $30 for medical expenses.

—Prejudice against hiring older workers has created human waste and neglect; capable older people, once out of work, just do not get another job. More than 300,000 men and women over 65 are unemployed in metropolitan Chicago alone.

—Throughout the state, the million aged are harassed and bewildered by lack of income, poverty, despair, sub-standard housing, unemployment, the constant fear of chronic illness and the burden of costly medical care. Above all, the aged of Illinois are lonely; they dread the coming, empty years of boredom and idleness.

The enormity of these problems has been detailed in recent weeks; only the question — what are we doing about it? — remains unanswered.

As grim as old age is in Illinois, the state is regarded as one of the most progressive in the nation in terms of services for the aging.

Much of the credit for this initial progress must go to the Illinois Public Aid Commission, whose section on services for aging is the only state agency concerned with the over-all needs and problems of old people.

Explained Mrs. Elizabeth Breckenridge, supervisor of the section and assistant to the secretary of the Illinois Advisory Council on Improvement of Economic and Social Status of Older People:

"The aged have been neglected because we have not recognized the depth or multitude of their problems. The place of the older person in our society must be reestablished through the conscious effort of the community. The meaning of life for anyone cannot long be built on artificial roles artificially assigned. The older person must see purpose in his life."

As the state's most knowledgeable authority on the general problems of the aged, Mrs. Breckenridge has been striving since 1947 to implement this philosophy and to develop an awareness of the problems confronting our older population.

With the support and encouragement of Peter Cahill, IPAC executive secretary, she has — despite limited budget and personnel — been able to show progress.

Industries and labor unions have started to develop education for retirement programs. Formation of local, self-supporting programs and community councils, such as the Mayor's Commission for Senior Citizens in Chicago, has been stimulated. Advice and counsel to scores of public and private groups have been given on housing, services, and programs for the elderly.

Through its information, consultation, and referral services, the IPAC section is processing thousands of inquiries every year, either answering or finding the answer to all types of questions on aging.

Under Mrs. Breckenridge's leadership, the section has done a pioneering job in development of two experimental demonstration projects which have thus far helped more than 10,000 older people. The Geriatric Rehabilitation Program, initiated in 1955, and the Rehabilitation Education Service, started in 1957, are now both part of the regular operation of the Illinois Public Aid Commission. They have shown the rehabilitation potential of older people.

Now under consideration is a new project which has the approval of the State Medical Society. The proposed Psychiatric Extension Program would determine major health needs in institutions for the aged and develop practical therapy techniques. If approved, it would restore increasing numbers of elderly to an independent status and relieve the growing patient load on public and private institutions.

Other state agencies concerned with the aged include the Department of Public Health, which enforces standards of care in institutions for the aged; the Department of Labor, charged with responsibility for re-training and finding jobs for older workers; the Department of Mental Health, which devotes special attention to geriatric research at two of the state's 13 mental hospitals; the Department of Education and Registration, now exploring a program of adult education for older people.

As hopeful as these preliminary steps forward may be, I found that they are mere beginnings. To seriously tackle the problems of the aged and aging will require a concerted state-wide effort, including:

—Abolishment of fixed retirement ages.
—Provision of transportation old people can afford.
—Low rental housing.
—Visiting nurse services, home care programs, home helps.
—Revision of the public assistance programs, particularly at the township level, and including review of the residence requirements.
—Improved vocational rehabilitation, part-time employment, and expansion of the State Employment Service's programs for older workers.
—Some kind of health insurance for the aged.
—More activity programs, such as Golden Age Clubs and day centers.
—More local coordinated planning, information, and referral services with state consultants on a regional basis to assist local communities.
—Revision in commitment procedures for state mental hospitals with better pre-commitment diagnosis and consultations by social workers.
—Adequate budget and personnel at both state and local levels to implement proper programming for the growing aged population.

The challenge facing Illinois was best summarized by a Perry County delegate to the 1960 conference on aging:

"We know how to treat diseases but we will never be able to treat the illness of loneliness, rejection, or the absence of useful things to do. Every human being needs something to live for. He needs to be useful and to have his contributions appreciated; he needs a helping hand and not a hand-out; he needs encouragement and a will to live like any other. Although medical science has helped bring longer life, something must surely be done to make these added years a blessing rather than a reprieve."

(Copyright 1962 by Charles E. Hayes, Larry Cameron)

Dr. William Gellman, director, Jewish Vocational Service: "Work is the best thing you can do for the older person. But the aged are competing against youth and the image of youth in a culture which has done away with the values of experience."

Mark Hay, Administrator, River Bluff Nursing Home, Rockford: "Our aged no longer have a place in society. We need to be creative and find them a useful role in the social order."

The Way We See It

Hospital Expansion Becomes Imperative

The pace at which Northwest Community Hospital will be expanded can be traced back, in part, to the rate at which hospital contributors honor their pledges.

Fund drive pledges, which have been slowly filtering in, are being used to retire the hospital's debt of $500,000 incurred for opening-day expenses of supplies, medicines and equipment.

The hospital's mortgage is being paid off by operating revenues.

Now, plans are being formulated to expand the hospital to approximately double its existing size of 110 beds. This is not an example of shortsightedness or slipshod planning. When the hospital, whose extreme need made its construction in 1958-59 imperative, was first conceived, it was with the view of eventually creating a 300-bed hospital.

So the announced expansion plans are only an expression of the orderly growth of the facility which is envisioned to reach its ultimate size by means of a three-stage building program.

While it is still too early to do much more than estimate, officials feel that stage two of development will cost approximately $2½ million. Not only will the number of beds be increased, but X-ray, laboratory, emergency room and surgery room facilities will also have to be expanded to meet growing needs.

These needs are outdistancing available resources. For instance, Northwest Community Hospital is now performing surgery equivalent to that undertaken by the average 200-bed hospital.

Since construction costs rise on an average of five per cent a year, it would be in the interests of protecting a sizable community investment if contributors pay their pledges as soon as feasibly possible so that the expansion program can be launched on a debt-free basis.

Methods of financing the expansion are still being studied, but there will no doubt be some federal aid forthcoming for the project, as well as other sources of support.

The hospital, located at 800 W. Central Road, Arlington Heights, serves a substantial area of northwest Cook County. The facility was built through the countless efforts of citizens representing every community throughout the northwest suburbs.

It is their support which is most important to the future expansion and success of the hospital their contributions of time, talent and energies constructed.

Why 'Yes' Vote Is Needed

The resident of Rolling Meadows might wonder if it is any concern of his whether a bond issue to build a new high school at the intersection of Rt. 83 and Hintz Road passes.

The success of the bond issue, however, is of direct concern to him. Unless voters of High School District 214 approve $4,900,000 at the polls this Saturday to construct the new facility, a serious overcrowding of present classrooms could result. An independent study shows an increase of 3,100 students expected in five years, from a present enrollment of 6,500 to 9,600.

So the Rolling Meadows resident has a direct interest in the passage of the bond issue. He has a selfish interest. His property value rises in proportion to an adequate school system. A school district that suffers from overcrowding does not attract home buyers. It is also shunned by competent teachers, so that the net result is that property values slide along with the excellence of educational instruction.

Large portions of the tax dollar are assigned to education. But to turn down a fourth high school for the northwest suburban area at this time would be to destroy, in effect, the sizable investment taxpayers have already made in the education of their children.

The bond issue proposal for the high school which would serve the Wheeling-Buffalo Grove-Prospect Heights area is an economical one. The cost of $4,900,000 would provide for 2,500 students and be ready for occupancy in 1964, if there is a favorable vote and ground can be broken this summer.

The Niles School District built a high school at the same price back in 1958 — when construction costs were considerably cheaper — to accommodate 2,000 students. Willowbrook High School has the same student capacity as the proposed new school, but cost $7,900,000 to erect back in 1959. The Maine School District is planning another high school for a 1964 opening whose capacity would be for 2,400 students, but whose cost stands at $6,800,000.

Construction costs for District 214's school figure out to $13 per square foot, $3 lower than the national average. While this school will cost more than the District's Forest View High School which will open in the fall, it still reflects an audit of every penny to be spent.

A citizens committee which has studied the proposal calculates that due to the increase in assessed valuation in the district, the individual cost to the taxpayer will actually be less for this particular issue. Where the Forest View High School cost the individual taxpayer with a $25,000 home about $11 annually, the committee figures this fourth school will add some $5 to his tax bill.

In fact, the rise in assessed valuation has even led officials to place on a separate ballot a proposition for providing two swimming pools, one at the new high school and the other at Forest View High, at a cost of $700,000. This seems to be a rather incongruous move on the school board's part, for while they are stressing economy in the high school bond issue, they are linking it with a request for two swimming pools.

The swimming pool proposition has wisely been placed on separate ballot, for needed bond issues often fail when they are tied to more extravagant financial requests. The argument used in advancing the proposal is that it should be up to the people to decide whether or not they wish to have swimming pools in their high schools. The pools would also be made available for use by the communities evenings and during summer months.

This is a matter they can decide Saturday. We personally don't see how the pools' approval or rejection will vitally affect the education of youngsters attending High School District 214. But passage or rejection of the $4,900,000 bond issue for construction of a fourth high school certainly will. We recommend its approval.

He Sniffs at

Suburb Status 'Scrambling'

by DICK HOFFMANN
Associate Editor

Being a beer drinker and owner of a hand lawn mower, I've felt qualified to sniff at status scrambling in the suburbs.

While the first consideration may be a matter of preference and calorie-counting, where else is status seeking more obvious than in the acquisition of a power mower?

I'll concede that there are lawns of sufficient girth to require the services of these mechanical locusts. But most lawns don't maintain enough grass to give a grasshopper indigestion. (They seem to be shrinking in direct proportion to the steady increase in greedy builders and corrupt zoning bodies.)

HOFFMANN

Yet even the yards that require no more than a few turns of a lawn mower—and they are in the majority—are clipped by power mowers. The homeowner spends 15 minutes fueling the beast and getting it started to take a couple of spins about the yard behind his wailing banshee.

THIS IS because you can't own a home in the suburbs without a power mower; they're the indispensable accessory—like the patio, coach light, and 6 o'clock martini.

The power mower, of course, is a time saver. A number of swoops around the premises and you're free for some creative leisure time: watching television, griping about the deplorable physical condition of America's youth or any number of drinks to take the cotton out of your mouth after that exhausting trek behind the shrieking gas gulper.

For those of you who are fond of oneupmanship, I suggest the next time you become bored at the neighborhood cocktail party with the pretentious chatter about earning power, the backyard swimming pool or the best way to charcoal broil a steak, that you announce you are the owner of a hand lawn mower. This will place you among the avant garde who read Henry Miller before police raided suburban book stores to confiscate his early works. You'll be cataloged as an earthy type.

CONSERVATIVES will feel a kinship for you because you are returning to the past; liberals will lionize you as a friend of the working man; women will flutter over this display of virility.

It might even start a run of sales at the hardware store. Since the new hand mowers being manufactured cost almost as much as the cheaper power mowers, it makes them eligible as a status symbol.

If enough people bought hand mowers, think of the consequences. Manufacturers of power mowers would come out with a new model, featuring an economy motor, that was not only a gas saver but harder to push.

BUT I SUPPOSE power mowers will prevail. It's the thing to own, along with a house mortgage, credit payment books, a barbecue grill, and membership in the PTA or Newcomer's Club.

For it's not really the thing to own but the thing to do. Status seeking is no more than conforming. Usually, it's agreeing to the lowest common denominator. Conformity is the enemy of variety. It's giving in to the mythical neighbor, Jones, and letting him determine your tastes for you.

I remember a man in one tract development in the northwest suburbs who turned his lawns into a rock garden. His neighbors reacted as if he'd created a scene from Purgatory. They howled to the building inspector; they became zoning experts; they informed each other of the possible effects on property values. But not once did they apply the old standard, a man's home is his castle.

IF IT HAD been old Jones, upon whom his neighbors are so dependent, who had started landscaping his lawn with rock, why the dash to the stone quarry would have rivaled the gold rush.

I'm for starting a Down-With-Jones Club. We'll own hand lawn mowers. We'll feel sorry for homely women. We'll wish we could take some of the orphans around for a weekend outing to one of the lakes up north or Lake Michigan, and maybe we will. We'll feel a sense of guilt when a Negro baby is born into the world. We'll order beer when someone starts to describe the intricacies of mixing a drink. We'll get mad as hell about the slums nearby, and we'll raise crab grass.

We know this guy Jones now. He's but a caricature of great expectations. We know that our strength—and the genius of America—is in variety, and the non-conformist. We know that we must replace Jones' status with substance.

Critic's Corner

The Boss Speaks Up

by STUART R. PADDOCK
Editor-in-Chief

We believe in the freedom of speech as we do in the Freedom of the Press. When we gave over a column on our editorial page to our news editors for expressions of their opinions, there were no strings attached.

They have been writing what they thought and we have been publishing their thoughts regardless of whether we agreed with them or not. Their thoughts are not necessarily the opinion of the editor-in-chief, or this newspaper.

WE ALSO have opinions of our own. We disagree with a number of statements made in the issue of May 3 by Dan Pribilski, about which we hold opposite views. Dan's a good newsman, but we challenge some of his opinions.

We think the economy of this country can be best served by a strong business stability and without the coercion of the government.

We favor a minimum wage law, but it must be recognized that its operation threatens employment of men and women who cannot compete physically with the productivity of younger persons.

IT IS TOO bad when members of the legislature fall to pressure groups, but we recently read a magazine statement by an authorized lobbyist that members of legislatures do not have the time to thoroughly digest all the measures before them and depend upon lobbyists doing much of the work for them. When the average voter recognizes his responsibility for good government and tells his legislator how he feels on legislation, the influence of the lobbyist will mean less and less.

We agree with our local editor that some of our state department needs cleaning up. We are unwilling to throw out all our statesmen or charge that they are making deals with reactionary governments.

President Roosevelt and others made a lot of mistakes at Yalta.

We think Kennedy is making a lot of mistakes that we attribute to some of the advisors with whom he has surrounded himself. We think much of it is ill-advised. If so, it is to be regretted that Kennedy is the "fall guy" for some of the advice he is receiving.

WE DO NOT think that big business or our politicians are using the "green stuff" in order to stay in power. Our attorney general is not hesitating to use his power to keep business in line. We do not know how far the politicians will go, but as long as we have the free press with us at least the voters will know what is happening—such as Estes expose.

We agree with the local editor that no person should be compelled to mortgage his life to pay for medical care, but even that suggestion is obnoxious to us. We are against the health program proposed by Kennedy. It is really an enlarged and more costly socialized medicine which has been a failure in England.

Today the low wage earner is being taxed over 7 per cent of his earnings for social security and sales tax until his earnings surpass $4,800, which is more than many wage earners receive.

WE FAVOR the plan of the American Medical Association which does not force the wage earner into an insurance plan which will be too costly for him.

Many small business firms are incorporated. They are not waxing rich and driving Cadillacs. Neither are any of those we know operating sweat shops. They are fighting to keep their businesses alive. The doubling or tripling of the corporation tax in order to stay in business will be just another "nail in their coffin lid."

We are not in favor of our government recognizing Red China. We do not like the corrupt government in Iran or the charged dictatorship by "feudal lords in Spain," but that is no reason why we should refuse to recognize they are in existence. We can't expend the lives of our soldiers to coerce them into living in a different life.

WE THINK America must hold Guantanamo and the Panama Canal. We need those bases to properly police communistic influence on our borders. The Organization of American States or the UN has not shown that they are able to do a police job anywhere.

We differ with many actions of the present national government and President Kennedy, but we do not think that he is going to stay in power forever.

We do know that there were a lot of people who paid $100 a plate the other night to hear Vice President Johnson. That is the American way of raising funds to pay the costs of a political party. Our politicians, whether we agree with them or not, at least do not rob the government's treasury to pay for their dinners.

The administration spent a lot of money to provide Jackie with a trip around the world. They may call it good public relations, but the Internal Revenue department is frowning on public relations expenditures of the business man.

THERE WILL be some readers who will charge us with ultra Conservatism because we do not agree with the New Frontier. Maybe this is true. We are making no apologies for the above. We are just letting our readers know how we feel on some of the things that were espoused by our news editor, Dan Pribilski, and that we also are not hesitant about "speaking up" on how we feel.

'A High Wind in Jamaica'

A Shocker in Content

by MARTIN E. MARTY

Some weeks ago I received Richard Hughes' "Fox in the Attic." Inside its dust jacket was the note that in 1928 he had written "A High Wind in Jamaica." Moved by his style I put it on my list of books to read sometime. Now Signet Classics has made this a simple matter by putting the early Hughes book out in paperback.

MARTY

It is a brief novel, though one is likely to spend considerable time over it so as not to miss a line. Again, it was a moving experience stylistically — but even more, it is quite a shocker in content.

HUGHES HAS some private theories concerning the world of children which are, to say the least, disturbing. The plot is simple: a group of English children from Jamaica are sent by their parents to school in England Their ship is taken over by pirates. The children do not at first recognize the pirates for what they are; they think the transfer of ships was planned.

As the trip proceeds, it turns out that the pirates are for the most part an incompetent, humane, relatively mild and innocent group. It is the children who are twisted, perverted, cruel in their sense of values.

BEFORE THE children are safely to school in England, numbers of nightmares have occurred — most of them are covered up on silence and placidity by the children. One brother falls to his death: none of the children mentions this — they act as if he never existed.

A girl is "coerced" by the pirate captain. Another little girl slashes to death, without provocation, an innocent hostage aboard the vessel. When the pirates are in custody at last, they appear to be the innocents, while the "guilty" children are off at school.

Observing one of them at play the book ends, "Listening to the ceaseless, artless babble of chatter rising, perhaps God could have picked out from among them which was Emily: but I am sure that I could not."

A typical conversation of innocence (the book was titled The Innocent Voyage, in America) after the children are captured and as they spent their first night on the pirate ship:

LAURA: I haven't said my prayers.

Emily: Well, say them lying down.

Rachel: She mustn't, that's lazy.

John: Shut up Rachel, she must.

Rachel: It's wicked. You go to sleep in the middle, then. People who go to sleep in the middle ought to be damned, they ought. Oughtn't they? (Silence.) Oughtn't They? (Still silence.) Emily, I say, oughtn't they?

John: No!

Rachel (dreamily): I think there's lots more people ought to be damned than are. (Silence again.)

That's about the mood of this eerie, nervous, twisted, topsy - turvy, trans-valuing book. Inconsequential? Only a novel? I wonder. Has anyone, any parent, any psychologist, probed as well as the novelists into the 'innocence' of children to the complex world they all inhabit. Do they inhabit it? Any doubts? Remember, observe. Then, for an interesting experience, read this classic novel in a new time. Who wins? The pirates, the children? The adults, the young? The guilty, the innocent? Richard Hughes lets you play the game.

Teen Praises AFS Program

Anyone doubting the worth of American Field Service should have been present at the Dempster Junior High PTA meeting last Thursday evening when Asad Khawaja spoke on his experiences as a foreign exchange student.

American Field Service is a program of student exchange. Under its auspices foreign students are brought to the United States to study for one year. During this period the student lives with a "foster" family. The United States also sends its students to foreign lands in the reciprocal trade. At the present time Tom Gewecke of Mount Prospect is returning home after a year's study in Solothurn, Switzerland.

PROSPECT High School has been very fortunate to have Asad Khawaja in its student body during the past year. Asad's home is in Lahore, West Pakistan. He studies at the university in that city and is interested in political science as are, he related, many young Pakistani students.

After hearing this intelligent, alert young man speak on the problems of his country and his impressions of the United States, one cannot help seeing the value of the AFS program.

Many misconceptions about America dissipate as the foreign student is projected into a home situation. By living, talking, laughing, and learning with other American students, the foreign exchange student forms lasting opinions which will be very effective in checking adverse propaganda abroad.

ONE OF THE most important things that foreign exchange brings is a better understanding of all peoples of all colors, cultures, and creeds. This I feel is the biggest "lesson" students connected with AFS learn—Brotherhood.

Protest Closing Of Home Shops

This is a letter of protest against the closing of all home beauty work.

Why a clean profession such as hairdressing should not be permitted, I don't understand. There are many home businesses in Hoffman Estates that are permitted, and they certainly are no ad to the residential section of Hoffman Estates.

I CAN truthfully say the beauty operators had not done anything to make their homes unresidential. There are no trucks, tractors or signs around their homes. Can this be said of some of the businesses that are permitted in Hoffman Estates?

The operators are willing to pay for permits as do these other people.

Let's be fair; close one operation, close them all.

Swimming Pool Has Supporter

Members of the School Board of District 214 are to be commended for their economical planning of the proposed Wheeling School. The referendum Saturday deserves every voter's support.

Swimming pools should be included in every plan for a pool is a community asset. The high school pool in the community in which we formerly lived was in use seven days a week all year long. Adults had the use during the evening hours, as part of the adult education program. Swimming is one of the few life-long recreational opportunities. It is also a necessary skill to save lives.

WE HAVE spent many times the one dollar yearly cost of these proposed pools in gasoline to find winter swimming for our children. All nearby pools are crowded, too. We are happy to commit ourselves to that small amount in taxes so that many more children and adults may swim more often all year long. Although our own children will never attend a pool-equipped high school. Swimming can be an exciting spectator sport, too.

The opportunity to swim on a high school team has been a wonderful experience for our son. We have two coaches of high ability and character at Arlington and Prospect. We appreciate the physical and personal development gained this year.

Let's build some modern year-'round "swimming holes," for you'll never find a cleaner bunch of kids than swimmers!

Team Selection Angers Parent

It isn't what you know, but who you know has finally reached the youth of our country. By youth, I don't mean the teenagers. I mean the boys from 10 years old on, who are eligible to play in the Little League. You don't even have to know the Rockefellers or the Astors. All you have to know is the fellow who is the manager of the team.

In far too many cases, it doesn't take any ability for a boy to make the team. He does not have to know how to field or catch. Live near the manager, be related to him, hope your parents and he are friendly, and the numerals for the uniform are yours.

A LOT OF good talent in youngsters is gone to waste and a lot of spirit broken by the honest selection of our adult leaders. It's too bad all fathers can't be managers. Some boys have no fathers, or their fathers are working. It's too bad that everyone can't live near the manager. But their parents just weren't foresighted.

Take a lesson from the leadership of your adult leaders, boys. When your children are growing up, manage a team and your child can play. If you sponsor one, maybe even your daughter can play.

Aged Must Take Individual Responsibility for Needs

You have published in recent weeks a series entitled "These Lonely Rooms" describing the problems of the aged sick. These articles have been well written and most compassionate. Their "emotional" appeal is tremendous.

By the very intensity of their emotional appeal, however, they are dangerously deceptive. They are deceptive because they discuss the problem of the needy aged without reference to "how" these older persons come to be in need and without reference to "what" can best be done to solve the problem.

The great and growing danger to our way of life is the apparent assumption that society somehow is responsible for individual failures and follies and that the state is obligated to indemnify all persons against their own irresponsibility.

THIS ASSUMPTION is contrary to good sense, good government and the good of society itself. It makes charity a governmental responsibility and thereby debases charity by making it obligatory. The taxing power of the state is substituted for the moral conscience of the individual and by this substitution the moral conscience is necessarily weakened.

There are a few fundamental facts which stand out when the tears of emotionalism about the prolems of the aged are dried by a cool breath of reason.

FIRST, every person knows he will become older and may become ill. Second, he also knows that at some point he may become unable to work and therefore unable to provide for his maintenance out of income. Third, he knows that if he is to make provision for the exigencies of the future he must sacrifice some of the pleasures of the present.

These things all men know.

Therefore, in evaluating the plight of the aged sick it seems appropriate if not imperative to inquire to what extent those persons who now claim the help of society have attempted to help themselves; to ask how much they put into savings, insurance, and investment relative to their expenditures on entertainment, travel, liquor, tobacco, horses, cars and other pleasures of the "here and now."

We are so often called upon by the "sob sisters" of the government and the public media to commiserate with persons who have lived without regard to the inevitable risks and costs of living and to indemnify those persons when the inevitabilities become actualities. I submit, however, that this call must go unheeded.

On the same theory that society is now asked to indemnify those who have not assumed the responsibility of preparing for their old age, society could be called upon to indemnify any other form of thoughtless or irresponsible conduct. There must be some place short of heaven or hell where a man must account for the consequences of his own conduct.

TO LEAVE the care of the needy aged to private charity is not inhuman. To accept charity freely given when one has done his best and failed does not debase the recipient. But the whole concept of charity and the character of those who receive it is debased when contributions are the result of state coercion.

A high sense of individual responsibility is the cornerstone of any society. To the extent the individual and society are correspondingly weakened. Why should any individual provide for his old age if the state purports to do it for him? And if no individual makes such provision, then all individuals are dependents of the state. As it is true that no man can be free and dependent at the same time, so it is true that dependency on the state for our security enslaves us to the state. Throughout history the seed which has brought forth tyranny and demagoguery and ultimately slavery, has been economic dependency.

MAKE NO mistake, the costs of caring for the needy aged are the same whether paid for by the state or by individuals through private charity. But the consequences of "who" pays these costs are infinitely different. If the state is allowed to assume this individual responsibility, the individual is made a dependent of the state; he is deprived of the right to determine how he shall spend the rewards of his efforts; generations, yet unborn, are harnessed to the task of supporting those who would not support themselves; individual freedom is negated and moral conscience silenced.

The tragedy of those persons you have described in your series of articles is compounded if it induces the community to substitute economic dependency on the stat for individual r-e on the state for individual responsibility. If, on the other hand, their tragedy causes each citizen and householder to see more clearly his personal responsibility and to assume these responsibilities more willingly, then their tragedy will become an object lesson to us all.

Is a Fatality Only Answer?

Isn't it difficult to tell a high school junior she isn't allowed to attend a Junior-Senior Prom? Are we the only parents who refuse to allow their children (in the age bracket of 16, 17 and 18 years old) to drive to a school function which is being held in a Chicago hotel?

There are two large gymnasiums and other facilities right here in our own community. Why aren't these made available to our children for their school functions?

DRIVING TO Chicago is dangerous in itself, but is particularly hazardous for children to be driving this distance, at this time on a weekend night.

Who is the final voice of authority of where these school functions shall be held, and also the mode of transportation?

If Palatine feels it isn't capable of handling these school affairs, why, then, can't they at least provide safe transportation, such as trains or buses for all, to and from Chicago?

This situation is going to have to be corrected. Does a fatal accident have to be first?

Student Urges 'Fair' Policy

Your article on the absences of high school students from classes for religious instruction made me angry.

Angry is a mild word! I am a high school student myself. I feel the one hour which was given the Catholic students to go to church was enough.

If the Catholic churches would hold regular hour-long services or schedule them on non-school days, these long services would be all right. Your committee from the school board will investigate the church's end of the service all right, but let them ask the kids what goes on when a service like this is announced. I know what will happen if you ask the kids about the service. Some will say they really enjoyed and profited from it. Others will clam up.

THE DAY after these services many kids walked around school bragging how they got out of classes for five or six periods. How long can it take to get from St. Raymond's to Prospect? Others walked through school bragging how they weren't even Catholic!

Many of those who were Catholic and had gotten friends out of school for the day left the church during the brief intermission and "rode around" the rest of the time.

I think if they want to do something about this problem, they should expand the excused time to an hour-and-a-half and the church should shorten its services to one hour. This would give the students enough time to get to church and back, but yet they would not miss too much school work.

I THINK these privileges should also be given to other churches wishing to hold weekday services. I feel saying "no" to some churches and "yes" to others is violating the Constitutional right of freedom of worship. Either all follow the same rules or nobody gets special rights.

I am not against any one religion; I only feel what is fair for one is fair for all.

Township Road Official Hailed

In view of the recent widely publicized vilification and castigation of our Wheeling Township road commissioner, Oscar Everson, and his subordinates, I feel it is my duty as a public spirited citizen to refute, at least in part, the accusations leveled by his accusers.

Having recently purchased a house in Prospect Heights, I found myself confronted with a severe flooding problem. This problem, which affected both mine and the neighboring properties, had accrued from the apparent lack of concern for the public welfare of previous road commissioners over the past decade.

EVERSON GAVE this matter his personal attention. He supervised the excavation of a drainage ditch to alleviate the situation. This was done promptly and with dispatch.

If his treatment of other matters brought to his attention as a commissioner of public roads in Wheeling Township are handled only half as well, it is my considered opinion that the township can indeed consider itself lucky to have so conscientious and dedicated a public servant.

Urge Minority Report on Aid

When the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers convention was held in Springfield April 10-12, a resolution was passed as in past years supporting the principle of federal aid to education as expressed in the platform of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. When the National Congress meets in Portland, Oregon on May 20-23, this resolution could be presented as the consensus of Illinois PTA members on this issue.

In some cases members of local PTA groups were polled on the subject prior to the Illinois convention; in others the delegates represented only themselves.

WE BELIEVE that a substantial number of PTA members in this area, and perhaps even a majority, would—if asked—express their opposition to federal aid to education. As Republicans, we would do so.

While opinions vary somewhat among Republicans, we think most would agree substantially with us that: (1) education is primarily a local concern, and that school needs can better be determined by local school boards than by Washington bureaucrats; (2) that federal financial aid carries with it the dangers of federal control; and (3) that it may lead to the abdication of responsibility by local school boards and state governments for school affairs.

MAY WE suggest that those who do oppose federal aid file a "minority report" with their school boards, their state legislators, and their representatives in Congress, indicating that the ICPT does not represent them on this matter.

We would like to suggest, too, that before next year's state convention PTA members take the responsibility of determining the matters of public policy that will come up. They might then wish to inform their delegates of their views, either individually or by means of resolutions passed in PTA membership meetings.

Long Preparation

Tell Chain of Events Essential for Play

by MARGE BOWKER

Even before tryouts to choose the cast of "Solid Gold Cadillac," to be presented by Village Theatre May 31, June 1, and June 2, the beginnings of an inevitable chain of events necessary to the production had begun.

Set Designer Lynn Lobenhofer and assistant Chris Bauske, Production Manager Helen Bakas and assistant Carolyn Burkett, and production crew heads met with Director Richard Tyler and began their planning.

The problems inherent in community theatre differ considerably from those of professional theatre; to achieve a professional effect on a non-professional budget requires ingenuity and imagination that keep Village Theatre members constantly creating and brainstorming.

The set designers, after reading and re-reading the script and taking copious notes must design the set before the next logical step of production can be taken.

FOR "SOLID Gold Cadillac" there are five sets, two stationary, and three mobile. This involves the use of two curtains and three sets narrow enough to fit between the audience curtain and the second curtain, yet wide enough to be in proportion to the stationary sets behind.

When design is complete in scale model form, set construction, headed by Al Estrella, begins work on the three mobile sets. These must be moved on and off stage quickly and quietly, so are built on wagons, which look like rafts on wheels, in the garages of the construction crew, Bob Hawley, Pat O'Dea, Jack Andreani, Mel Freeman, Maurice Geye, Harry Rongner, and John Lobenhofer.

Following set construction in sequence, the set decorators, headed by Marcelle Wilcox, paint the set, adding necessities such as drapes, lamps, telephones, pictures, and anything that remains with the set throughout the play except furniture. Dee Brown, Lynn Kavanaugh, Joan Grisell, and Hazel Peck compose Marcelle's crew.

CREW HEAD Mary Estrella's search for furniture is complicated by the facts that it must be color-cued to the background, properly proportioned to the narrow mobile sets, and borrowed. With Stella Pevsner and Helen Aagard she will find it somewhere.

Surfeit with props, "Solid Gold Cadillac's" list includes an electric pen that lights up, one red golosh, a street-cleaner's broom, and a piggy bank.

These are among the easier to find items, but even the seemingly impossible ones will be located by crew heads Betty Brooks and Pat Breitenbacher, and their assistants Kay Hawley, Vivian Myers, Marquale, Lou Kuharich, Czaczyk, Charlotte Shaughnessy, Doris Paterson, Lois Drum, Marge Knott, Sue Jend, Lillian Zavison, Edna Rongner.

COSTUMES, WHICH must fit the personality of the character being portrayed (with no color-clashing) are being handled by Marge Bowker, Betty Grayson, Ruth Larson, Shirley Freeman, Sandy Ley, Jeanne Harycki, and Jeanne Novotny.

Stage-lighting, an involved process of shadowing, shading, and illumination, is being done by Marian Malcolmson and Anita Wilkins; sound effects by W. R. Pownall and Don Jennings.

Makeup, cued to complexions, costume color, and lighting must be applied and light-tested in advance by crew heads Randy Moses and Lee Suhr, assisted by Scotty Schinke, Dorothy Swoboda, Jane Miller, Carol Frederick, and Gladys Pownall.

THE PRODUCTION is assembled from set design to make-up until the production manager turns the successfully completed operation over to Stage Managers David Dove and Ann Hume opening night.

Tickets to "Solid Gold Cadillac" may be reserved by calling Village Theater's box office at CL 9-3200. (Bill

'Showboat' Brightened By Broadway Players

by JIM PHILLIPS

Let's put it this way: there are those comunity theatre organizations who wouldn't touch Jerome Kern's "Showboat" with a 10-foot ple. Best Off Broadway Players, Inc. not only touched it Sunday, they smoothed it over, clipped a little off here and there, and brightened the show considerably for their suburban audience.

This is not to say the musical didn't have its weak moments. There was a little careless upstaging at times; the shadow of a microphone hit one of the leads right smack in the vibrato; certain scenes suffered from a lack of quickened pace; and the orchestra ground its musical way through some out-of-tune moments during the overture.

But, nevertheless, it was an exceptional job of putting over the Kern - Hammerstein - Southland spectacular.

Jack Staley as Gaylord Ravenal, the gambler-lover, was a standout. He has the manner, the singing voice, and the stage presence needed for a role such as this one.

SUE COOK, although attractively suited to the part of Magnolia, somehow or other didn't show the power of voice I'm sure she must have. There were instances where her soprano delivery came through beautifully - but they were few and far between. At times she seemed plainly nervous during her musical numbers, but then turned right around and did a capable job of acting.

Rita Delroy (Julie) was strong of melody but weak in the acting department. She suffered from "line readingitis." Pat Lemker (Ellie) and Allan Shields (Frank) were perfect in the comedy - supporting role responsibilities. Pat has that sprightly energy needed for the character of the "want to be a serious actress" comedienne.

As for Allan, he was a happy-go-screwy ingredient for "Showboat." His face was so expressive, you'd have sworn it was made of silly-putty. These two are going to be worthy additions to future BOB shows, I'm sure.

VERA KARST was a scratchy Parthy Ann Hawks, and gave her all vocally and dramatically to a part that has nag-nag-nag written all over it. This kind of nagging you enjoy. As her hen-pecked, when-the -wife's -away -the -hubby - will-play worse half, Andy Hawks, George Bull did a rewarding job. Characterization again was the keynote. George Bull could have been George Bull - but he wasn't. He was the captain of a showboat. Success in the part was that simple.

Without trying to write a novel on the BOB "Showboat," it's important to consider Kern's music and the interpretation given it. "You Are Love" and "Old Man River" were handled with utmost care. George Henkel's voice was ideal for the "tote that barge" gusto, and thanks to a variance in tempo between "Old Man River's " chorus and bridge, he was able to soothe the audience, not bore it.

WHEN SUE Cook and Jack Staley entered into the waltz-tempo of Kern's love song, "You Are Love" became a vocal triumph. It was at this point that a real dramatic empathy was created between the audience and the characters. Incidentally, this was the finest moment for the orchestra.

And while we're on the subject, Director Remo J. Chiorgno, who by now must be nursing a few up-and-down-tempo ulcers, must take a deserved bow for keeping "Showboat" on an even keel during the many stormy key-change, retard-scattered passages which confront the singing cast. His musical - direction shortcomings (too slow an intro to "Make Believe" and some additional slow moments getting into "Old Man River") were buried by the excellent manner in which he glided the music in and out of the dialogue.

A few mezzo-fortes could have become piano and permitted more lyrics to be heard from the leading singers - but the orchestra was fairly large (including three trumpets) to be "batoned down" to the volume of an octet.

(THOSE inexperienced at conducting orchestras for musical comedy can't imagine what a trying job it is to fulfil the "beautiful-to-hear" responsibilities of the music as well as the timing of the numbers for blending into and underneath various pieces of dialogue.)

Directing, as I've hinted, was strictly a first-rate job by James Hughes. To begin with, he evidently saw a number of dangers with the script: "Showboat" has been done time and time again, and as the years go by, you run a danger of having it look comically "out-of-date."

Mr. Hughes accomplished some changes in dialogue, and a number of moments were completely cut from the original musical. This was probably the best thing he could have done in the case of "Showboat," which is a long, long, trail awinding when you compare it to today's musical-drama offerings. More stress could have been put on projection of voices, though.

BARRINGTON High School has an excellent theater, but despite the acoustical help, there's still a danger of playing everything too far from the audience. Much of the action could have been moved downstage as an aid in both singing and line-delivery.

The dancing in "Showboat" I would call delightful, with an emphasis on "light." The costumes were imaginatively colorful, the settings highly-skilled. Make-up was well-done, but lipstick on the Negroes could have been subdued quite a bit for more realism in facial appearance.

With due thought to the entire show, I must say that one scene stood out as a gem: the few minutes in which Ravenal meets his eight-year-old daughter at a convent where she is being schooled. Thanks to Jack Staley's underplaying of this particular portion of his role, and the dramatically-charming effort of a little girl named Kathy Collins this scene was a real stealer. The reprise of "Make Believe" at this point received its share of sobs from my section of the audience.

ALL THAT remains for BOB to cop the title of the finest musical production organization of its kind in the midwest is for the actors and actresses to stay backstage (and not mingle with the audience) during intermission, and the souvenir-happy camera bugs to take their shots during the final dress rehearsal and not glaze the daylights out of the performers during a time when they need every bit of their attention put toward accomplishment of the show itself.

Mount Prospect Bank Sponsoring Art Fair

The Mount Prospect State Bank is again extending an invitation to all artists in the Paddock area who would be interested in exhibiting their work at the Arts and Crafts Fair.

The fair will be held on the parking lot of the bank in Mount Prospect, on Sunday, July 15. There is no entry fee, only the usual request that original pieces of work be entered.

Beginning at noon, the exhibit will last until dusk. An alternate date will be given in case of rain, July 22.

MEASURED AND numbered spaces will be assigned to each artist of about 10' by 10'. Registration will be held at the west entrance of the bank. Entrants will bring the necessary props such as card tables, screens, easels, racks, etc., and will set up their own exhibits. All exhibits must meet with the approval of the committee in charge.

All media paintings may be shown, framed or unframed. As a matter of fact, painters are encouraged to bring unframed watercolors and oils as there seems to be a better market for them and because of the ease of handling.

Exhibitors shall be solely responsible for any loss, theft damage, or defacement of any property exhibited or used in the exhibit. All works displayed or exhibited are subject to this condition.

BECAUSE ALL space is limited, reservations must be in by June 15, and should be directed to Mrs. Kathaleen Walters, Mount Prospect State Bank, Mount Prospect.

The Mount Prospect Art Fair, along with the Elgin Art Fair, which was held on May 12, ushers in a season of fun and excitement for both those who love to paint and those who enjoy looking at paintings. It is probably one of the healthiest things that has happened to art in a long time.

The Street Fair was common in Europe for hundreds of years but was rarely seen in America until the last few years. It has done more to help Americans to like art than all the lectures, art educators, and schools put together. Naturally this annoys arty people who believe all art belongs behind museum walls and be only one particular brand of expression, theirs. I simply don't understand this.

I LOVE ART the way I love children. All children are not always perfect at all times. The best of them have their faults. They could do with a spanking now and again but usually they need a word of encouragement even more.

This is true of painters and paintings. One is not born a good painter. If enough time is given to a painter, he may become very good. In any case, he will become better than he was. He cannot go on forever painting away by himself. He needs to have his paintings seen, criticized, and praised, or he can't change and improve. He will simply quit painting. This happened for years to American painters and is one of the reasons America did not produce more artists.

The American public for years believed art was a fine thing and that someday they would go to an art gallery and look at it. If they ever did go, they were treated badly. They were given no understanding of what the artist was doing or trying to do. They could like it or lump it. Generally they lumped it.

IN THE PAST few years art has been brought to the public. They can see paintings of all types in their shopping centers. They can see some paintings they like and some they wouldn't have on a bet.

I have honestly known many people who had no interest in art at all become interested and become collectors because of art fairs. Some of them even took up painting themselves.

BUSILY STUDYING their scripts in a last-minute rehearsal of "October Festival" are Ginny Boyer, feminine lead in the Des Plaines Theatre Guild drama, and Tony Good, 89 Mohawk Trail, Buffalo Grove, leading man in the production continuing tomorrow, Saturday and May 25 and 26, 2026 Miner St., Des Plaines. The May 25 and 26 performances of "October Festival" have been added to the play's run as special benefits to raise funds for the widow and three small children of Des Plaines fireman, Robert Coombs, who died saving two construction workers trapped in a gas filled sewer April 26. One of the workers he rescued, Joseph Miller, resides in Palatine. Tickets for "October Festival" may be obtained by calling Mrs. John Clark, VA 4-8019. (Bill

'Moon Pilot' Open Friday At Golf Mill

A lot of hot air is generated by Tom Tryon, Brian Keith and Edmond O'Brien in the funny dialogue, but it is the audience laughing gas built in by the Walt Disney imagination that will rocket "Moon Pilot" into orbit as the years top feature length comedy.

Added to the general monkey shines is the performance of Charlie the Chimp, first earthling to the moon and back.

DISNEY DOESN'T miss a trick in this story, including a cutie by the name of Dany Saval, whom he found in Paris after a world wide search for the beauty most likely to come from the moon.

In color by Technicolor, "Moon Pilot" opens this Friday at the Golf Mill Theatre.

As an added treat for the children, the Golf Mill will present a Walt Disney cartoon festival on Saturday and Sunday at 1 p.m. (Bill

Vets' Chorus Singing on May 18, 19

In observance of its 15th anniversary, the Suburban Veterans' Chorus will present "Sketches in Song" at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19.

The program will be held in Proviso East High School auditorium, First and Madison, Maywood.

Proceeds from the concert will be available at the door for $1.

FOUR SEGMENTS of musical melodies will highlight the annual variety show including songs of "Our Spiritual Heritage," "The Four Corners of the U.S.A.," "Glee Club Favorites" and "Wizard of Oz Medley."

Returning to the guest soloist spotlight will be Miss Judy Allen of Maywood, who was featured last week on NBC-TV Artists' Showcase. Miss Allen is a senior at Northwestern University. Gene DiBlasi will also be a soloist.

The all male chorus is directed by Richard L. Daniels, English department chairman of Proviso East. Dick DuBourdieu, chorus arranger, will be master of ceremonies. (Bill

Hoffman Drama

'Whistle' Gets Critics Favor

By JOAN METTE

The Hoffman Estates Theatre Guild presentation last week of "The Silver Whistle" was headed for success before it ever started production. Apparently, the Guild has found the secret of successful village theater — choose a play that fits the capacities of the group.

This comedy of life in an old people's home by Robert E. McEnroe is no snap to cast. But the Guild was able to people the home with a merry group of believable oldsters.

Standout performances among the old people were Dorothy Sicher as caustic Mrs. Hanmer, Howard Risberg as the courtly and forever courting Mr. Beebe, and Allen Johnson as the cautious Mr. Cherry. Their timing and delivery of throw-away lines helped carry the play on its whimsical way.

DORIS KELLOND made the most of the part of the hell-fire preaching Mrs. Gross. And Betty Lou Funk milked her drunk scenes as Miss Hoadley for all they were worth. Lorraine Howe's performance as the flighty and feminine Mrs. Sampler was humorously sympathetic, but it was difficult at times to believe that she was really 75—even a young 75.

Basically, the problem of portraying age was the greatest challenge to a group of heteroaged actors. On the whole, the cast met the challenge, but they compounded the problem by a too broad range of make-up.

The heavily lined and shadowed Risberg jarred with Johnson, who merely suggested age in his make-up. It would have been better for all to have followed Johnson's lead and let the acting carry out the premature aging process.

THE PIVOTAL role of Oliver Erwenter, the carefree hobo who brought youth into the aged home was played by Dick Linnell. He carried off the role successfully, but he never quite reached the peak of flamboyance the character called for. Oliver is a character who comes on strong, never stops—and still remains charming and lovable. Linnell is to be congratulated that he gave the part a good run for the money.

Al Bollyn was a properly fastidious Rev. Watson. And the unfolding of his human side was well paced and believable.

Good casting aided Hank Netter as Emmet. His monotone voice gave a special charm to the role of the philosophical tramp.

CASTING WAS not so good in the choice of Phyllis Meier as the ingenue, Miss Tripp. She played all her scenes in the same key, failing to exhibit the fire that would prompt two men to fall in love with her.

Lesser roles were played by Ernie Wurm, Chuck May, Joan Holm, Sid Sicher, Al Vancel. And we mustn't forget Omar, one of the best behaved bantam roosters ever presented on any stage.

The wisdom of choosing "The Silver Whistle" doesn't stop with the matching of cast and actors. It is a one-set play, and it's important that a village theater doesn't tax its physical and financial faculties any more than its human ones.

THE SETTING of a walled garden outside the old people's home fitted the very small confines of Roselle's Parkside School's stage. However, Director Vic Simone was hampered by the lack of space. Fortunately, he got the maximum action out of the minimum of actual movement. For example, the scene of the passing of whiskey and "youth potion" among three seated men was one of the liveliest of the evening.

If they are faced with a confining stage again, however, the Guild might consider a less orthodox set of two or three levels. It would make for a grateful and less brain-wracked director.

But now we can cast all other measurements aside. The true test of the wisdom of the choice of "The Silver Whistle" was met Friday and Saturday nights. The audience loved it. (Bill

At Des Plaines

Is 'Professional' Prospect's Musical

by W. B. ROGERS

Last Saturday was the date, and even the weatherman cooperated with the music department of Prospect High School.

A near capacity audience filled the Prospect fieldhouse to hear a varied program of choral selections by the Combined Choral Groups and the Prospect Choir, directed by Sterling Mische, followed by the instrumental offerings of the Prospect Symphonic and Cadet Bands under the leadership of Edward Volz.

The professional manner in which the entire program was handled; the selection of the program which included the overature from "The King And I" by the Symphonic Band, and selections from the "West Side Story" by the Combined Choral Groups; and the obvious pleasure these young people showed in this presentation made this a most enjoyable evening.

THERE HAS been a rather considerable change in the approach to musical instruction in high schools in the last 30 years; for no longer is the entire emphasis placed on classical music but rather a varied program including our better contemporary show tunes are included which probably accounts for the growing and enthusiastic interest in the musical program at Prospect.

Our congratulations to Mssrs. Mische and Volz and to Michele Johns for a very fine program; and for imbuing our young people with an appreciation and enjoyment of good music. (Bill

High-Larious Greeting

ASTRONAUT RICHMOND TALBOT (TOM TRYON) takes Charlie the Chimp in his arms after the latter has completed an orbit of the moon in this scene from Walt Disney's Technicolor, comedy-romance, "Moon Pilot." The film stars Tryon, Brian Keith and Edmond O'Brien and introduces Dany Saval. Starting Friday at the ARLINGTON THEATRE.

At The Catlow Friday

ROMANTIC INTERLUDE — Doris Day persuades Rock Hudson to take time out from his busy schedule and relax with her at the beach. This scene is from "Lover Come Back," opening Friday for seven days at the Catlow Theatre in Barrington. The TechniColor comedy also stars Tony Randall. The picture is recommended for adults and mature young people.

Change for O'Hare Inn Play Fare

Two changes in its first season's schedule will bring "Heaven Can Wait," with John Gavin, and "Light Up the Sky" with Fred Clark to the stage of Chicago's new O'Hare Inn Theater this summer.

Plans to present these two dramas during the O'Hare Inn Theater's first summer were announced by James Monos, who will direct all productions at the new summer theater.

They will be part of a summer-long lineup of seven plays, all with leading Broadway and Hollywood stars, in the new theater which has been built in the exhibition hall of the motel at Higgins and Mannheim Roads near O'Hare International Airport.

THE SEASON will get under way June 4-17 with "Write Me a Murder," with Kim Huunter, and the rest of the New York cast, direct from Broadway — the first time a Broadway play has moved directly from New York to a summer theater stage. O'Hare Inn Theater has even purchased the $20,000 set for the mystery drama which just ended its successful New Yrok run.

"Heaven Can Wait" will be presented July 28 through August 12, replacing the originally scheduled "Taste of Honey." "Light Up the Sky" will be staged August 28 through September 3, replacing "Bus Stop."

Kroger Scholarship Program Serves 1500 in 25 Years

Sixty-four high school graduates will enter college this fall under the Kroger scholarship program for 1962, it was announced by L. R. Musselman, vice president of the Chicago division of the Kroger Co.

The $250 scholarships are offered to first-year students in agriculture and home economics at land-grant colleges in midwestern and southern states where there are Kroger stores, and in California and Florida where Kroger produce buying offices are located.

SELECTION OF winners will be made by the scholarship committee at each college on the basis of scholastic standing during high school and leadership qualities demonstrated in school, church or youth groups. Financial need may also be considered. Application should be made directly to the school.

"Education is our foremost weapon in the battle for freedom," Musselman said in announcing the program. "The young people who are preparing for the future by their studies today represent America's hope for tomorrow."

The 1962 program is a continuation of the Kroger Scholarship Program introduced more than 25 years ago. Through the years more than 1,500 young men and women have entered college through its aid. The Chicago Division of the Kroger Co. participates with the University of Illinois in this area. (BB

Navy Air Show Featured At Diamond Convention

A Navy air show and a free Navy sea power show will climax public events for the 60th anniversary (diamond) convention of the Navy League of the United States May 15-19 in the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

EDGAR H. Martin, 418 South St., Arlington Heights, a member of the general convention committee, announced that the air show features the Navy's Blue Angels precision flight demonstration team and the Chuting Stars, the Navy's new parachute unit which will appear here for the first time.

The first air show was held along the lake front off Grant Park Wednesday.

FREE TICKETS for the public performance Friday night, May 18, and Saturday morning, May 19, may be obtained at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Palmer House or the local Navy recruiting office.

An added attraction is a 19-minute stage show entitled "Hennesey Goes to Sea" and describes a fleet exercise "Operation Hotspot" designed to test a Navy Task Force in action. Jackie Cooper and Abby Dalton will appear in person in key roles. Through slides, colored film, sound, and stage personalities, the show takes the audience on a sea voyage that demonstrates all facets — underwater, surface and air — of Navy operations. The performance has been called not only informative and educational, but also highly entertaining. (BB

Shady Lane Farm Names Randy Lightbody Manager

Randy Lightbody has been appointed General Business Manager of Shady Lane Farm. The appointment was recently announced by Shady Lane President Raymond E. Curnow who said the appointment of a general business manager was necessitated by the rapidly expanding scope of Shady Lane's activities.

CURNOW said that Lightbody will aso be responsible for the advertising and promotion of the Farm's many enterprises including the playhouse, shops and mail order business.

Since the restaurant is now open the year round, Lightbody will concentrate on cultivating the increased interest shown by groups and organizations for parties, business meetings etc. at Shady Lane.

Randy Lightbody, formerly with a midwest utility corporation, and his wife Meta have resided in the Elgin area for the past 25 years.

Shady Lane Playhouse starts their "all comedy" Summer show season with "Everybody Loves Opal" on May 29, 1962.

Graduation Exercises Are Held

Fifty area members of round table study groups in basic economics recently held a commencement dinner at the Charcoal House. The graduation marked the completion of a 10-week series of two hour discussions which began last March under the guidance of the Institute for Economic Inquiry, Chicago.

SPONSORS of the program were Illinois Bell Telephone Co., American Steel & Wire, and the North Chicago-Waukegan Industrial Management Club.

The Round Table series was designed to enable the members to arrive at their own conclusions after discussions of economic principles. Questions brought up include: Is public welfare the answer? Does federal spending assure economic growth? Can we prevent recessions? What are the effects of the population explosion? Where are we now in the business cycle? (BB

A DREAM LIVING RETREAT

It will be hard to believe this . . .

The availability of one-acre luxury estates just 65 minutes north of Arlington Heights was announced this week by Edward Hamilton, owner of an 850-acre tract of beautifully wooded land near Delavan, Wis.

"The property will be divided into one-acre lots and sold on a first come, first served basis," Hamilton told Paddock Publications. He said the undeveloped property surrounds a 135-acre lake which is spring-fed and includes two islands.

Hamilton explained all roads in the residential area will be blacktopped and land will be set aside for bridle paths, an airstrip and a park. Stables for boarding and training horses are on the property now, he said.

"We intend to turn this area into an authentic executive retreat," Hamilton declared. "By purchasing a one-acre lot, buyers also become co-owners of all 700 acres including the lake."

Just one mile north of Hamilton's property, an 18-hole golf course will be built in 1963. It will be semi-private.

Hamilton promised "careful restrictions" designed to create a setting to compliment homes and protect investments for years to come.

The estate locale, situated in southern Wisconsin, features hunting, fishing, a private club, horseback riding, golf, private airplane facilities, nearby schools (including college) and churches, shopping three minutes away, two islands for sale, and five per cent financing.

A $500 deposit will hold lots, Hamilton said. After lots have been selected by buyers and surveying is completed, a $2,000 down payment is requested. Balance is payable over 10 years. A 10 per cent discount is available for cash payment.

"The entire down payment will be placed in escrow until lots are surveyed and roads are built," Hamilton pointed out. "Custom built homes are available at lot sites."

Photographs, brochures and color films are available to show the estate property. Further information may be obtained by writing to Box A-92, c/o Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Look Out For Poison Ivy Plant

Even with such weed killers as amitrole, "brush killer" and ammate to control it, poison ivy is still plentiful in Illinois. But residents who learn to identify the plant and stay away from it can avoid discomfort, this summer.

A set of identification slides is available for any interested group. The set may be loaned from the Cook County Agriculturan Extension Office, 201 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights.

Poison ivy is a perennial woody plant that varies in growing habits and appearance of leaves. It may spread along the ground, vine on walls, trees or fences, or appear as an erect shrub.

POISON IVY has compound leaves—each leaf having three leaflets. The edges of the leaves—even on the same plant—may vary from smooth, toothed or lobed. But they are always in groups of three.

Small greenish-white flowers appear in the area where stem and leaves join. Often these flowers develop into white, waxy berries about ½ inch in diameter.

Poison ivy spreads from seed or by creeping stems and roots. Stems of the plant are usually small. but they may grow to five inches in diameter.

Such plants as Virginia creeper are sometimes mistaken for poison ivy. But Virtinia creeper has five leaflets coming from one point and blue berries that distinguish it from poison ivy. Although the shape of poison ivy leaflets varies, there are always three to a leaf.

THE POISON is found in the sap of roots, stems, leaves and berries. Although people vary in degrees of immunity, few are completely immune. Sometimes persons who consider themselves immune become susceptible after sufficient exposure. The poison may be carried on tools, clothes or pets—and even in smoke from burning poison ivy.

So recognize poison ivy, stay away from it—or, better yet, control it with amitrol, 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T type "brush killer" or ammate. (BB

Boys and girls interested in becoming 4-H members will have to apply to our office before June 1. Members may be from rural or city homes. There are almost 50 projects of interest to all young people. Young people must be from 10 to 21 years of age to be eligible.

Some of the activities during this summer will include the 4-H Fair, Camping at Shaw-Wau-Nau-See and 4-H State Club Week at the University of Illinois.

Spring and fall merged together to create problems for local farmers this year. Farmers have planted oats, started plowing, planted early vegetables and at the same time harvested much of last year's soybean and corn crop. Now corn planting is under way. The busy spring schedule forces fast decisions. The corn that was harvested this spring is of fair quality showing less damage than might have been expected. On the other hand, farmers report the soybeans did not stand the winter weather as well as the corn.

With the planting rush that will continue for the next few weeks, farmers need to make final decisions. Varieties of seed must be selected soon if they have not already been chosen. The results of the 1961 corn tests are available from our office on most of the commercial seed corns. Soybean varieties recommended include the popular Harosoy and Hawkeye varieties. Other good yielding varieties are Chippewa and Lindarin.

The use of chemicals and fertilizers for the different crops must be planned soon. The control of soil insects on corn has paid for the use of the material in 9 out of 10 fields in the past few years. This is based on research under farm conditions.

The corn planter with all of the attachments is a far cry from the first planter I remember. Today in addition to planting the corn, farmers can fertilize, apply a soil insecticide, and apply a weed control chemical all at the same time. Aldrin and Heptachlor are recommended for this use.

Pre-emergence weed control methods for corn rests with Atrazine and Randox. Soybean pre-emergence chemicals that we recommended for this area are Amiben (cleared by the U.S.D.A. for this year) and Randox.

Farmers may wish to study some of the following circulars from the University this spring before planting. Chemical Weed Control, Underground Corn Insects, Corn Planter Calibration for Higher Yields, Calibration and Adjusting Granular Applicators, 1961 Performance of Commercial Corn Hybrids and Calibrating and Maintaining Spray Equipment. WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

CRITERION; judgment respecting it. (Pronounce cry-tee-ri-on, accent second syllable). "We cannot accept his words as a criterion of that man's character."

DIGNITARY; one holding a position of dignity, especially an ecclesiastical dignity. "The dignitaries of the church opposed the idea."

SIMULATE; to assume the appearance of, without reality. "He attempted to simulate illness, so that he might be excused from work."

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

ROSES in our area did not fare so well in the extreme winter just past. Many suffered from killing back of canes, and some succumbed outright.

Now that the plants have leafed out, pruning to remove damaged or dead canes is in order. If the plant was killed back to the ground but is making new growth, be sure the shoot is coming from above the graft, rather than from the rootstock.

Leaves on shoots from the rootstock will have seven or nine leaflets rather than the normal five. Plants killed back to the graft should be replaced.

IN OUR AREA it does not matter if roses are planted in the spring or fall. In fact, roses started in pots or cans can be planted anytime. Replace winter-killed roses now. Be sure to give them full sunlight and a well drained soil. And remember, it is much safer to put fertilizer on top of the soil and wash it in, than to mix it in the soil to fill the hole.

INSECTS AND diseases are ready and waiting to move into your rose plantings. But you can keep them in check by spraying or dusting weekly.

Diseases such as black spot, mildew, and anthracnose can be controlled with Phaltan or Captan.

Insects are controlled with Malathion or Methoxychlor. Kill spider mites with Aramite or Kelthane.

Make your own all purpose rose treatment or buy one at your neighborhood garden store. Just make sure it contains: Captan or Phaltan, Malathion or Methoxychlor, and a miticide such as Aramite of Kelthane. (BB

U.S. Air Force Offers Career Opportunities

College graduates this year are being offered career opportunities unparalleled in previous years. Outstanding among these opportunities is a career as an officer in the United States Air Force, according to Sgt. Frankie G. Akers, of the local Air Force recruiting office.

"A COLLEGE graduate today can earn a commission as a Second Lieutenant in only three short months," said Sgt. Akers. The officer training school at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas is one of the shortest routes to a commission in military history.

The Air Force will need many college graduates this year—both men and women. There are openings for degree-holding men and women in practically every career field, according to Sgt. Akers. "The Air Force offers young college graduates immediate, valuable executive experience in positions of leadership," he said.

TYPICAL OF the many career field now open to college graduates are, engineering, personnel management, nursing, electronics, finance and accounting, medical specialties and law.

"An Air Force career also offers college graduates continued educational advancement," said Sergeant Akers. The Air Force has many programs by which college graduates may increase their knowledge and skills in their fields, and earn advance degrees. "Opportunities for college graduates in the Air Force are practically unlimited," said Sgt. Akers.

For more detailed information regarding the opportunities for college graduates, both men and women, Sgt. Akers can be contacted at 8 W. Miner St., Arlington Heights, or by phone, 392-1424 for an appointment. The recruiting office is open Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Wednesday and Friday from 8:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. and Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Navy White Sox Company Being Formed During May

A special Navy recruit company, the "Navy 1962 White Sox Special Company" will be formed during the month of May, according to Chief Petty Officer Charles Spilker, Recruiter in Charge of the Des Plaines Navy Recruiting station. This special company which is being formed by the Navy in cooperation with the Chicago White Sox Baseball Club, will be composed of young men from the Chicago recruiting district. This district includes most of Illinois, and southeastern part of Wisconsin and the northwestern part of Indiana.

MEN WHO enlist as members of this special company will be sworn into the Navy at the Navy Recruiting station, Chicago, on May 21 from where they will be transferred to the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, for 9 weeks of recruit training.

During their eighth week of training, the White Sox Company will return to Chicago's Comiskey Park on July 17 as special guests of the White Sox Ball Club. Prior to the game between the White Sox and the Washington Senators, the White Sox Company will perform for White Sox fans on the playing field.

Chief Spilker explained that the special White Sox Company offers young men from this area the opportunity to enlist in the Navy, train and return home on recruit leave with their friends.

THIS SPECIAL company also offers high school graduates who qualify the opportunity to enlist in the Navy's High School Graduate Training Program and receive training in the occupational field of their choice.

The 1962 White Sox Company is the first of its kind from this area in recent years. Young men interested in learning more about the Navy 1962 White Sox Special Company should contact Chief Spilker at the U.S. Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office Bldg., Des Plaines. (WUS

O'Hare Armed Forces Day To Feature Special Events

The culmination of Armed Forces Week will be observed May 19 by an Open House hosted by the 64th Troop Carrier Squadron at O'Hare Air Force Base, just north of the commercial terminal on Mannheim Road.

Foremost in the exhibits will be one of the first airplanes to be licensed in the State of Illinois. It is a Bates monoplane built by the Bates Aircraft Co. in 1912. At that time they were located at 600 W. Division St. in Chicago. The plane was purchased in 1918 by Walter Kutz, 7600 N. Kostner, Skokie, where he has tenderly stored the plane which today is a collectors' item.

ORIGINALLY it was equipped with a 2-cylinder opposed engine also made by Bates, with a rating of 20 horsepower and top speed of 49 miles per hour. The Bates plane will be exhibited along with supersonic planes at O'Hare.

Another attraction will be the appearance of the 60-piece concert band from Nilehi West, Skokie. Charles Groeling, director of bands for the school, stated that they will give a concert of military tunes, patriotic, traditional, Dixieland and Sousa marches. The band concert is scheduled for 2 p.m. and 3 p.m.

One of the features of the day will be the departure of six C-119 "Flying Boxcars" of the 64th Troop Carrier Squadron to transport members of the Army Reserve's 12th Special Forces Group to be paradropped at Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul.

This Group is comprised of reservists from the Chicagoland area. They will take off from O'Hare at 1:30 p.m. for the drop at Chanute. The Hon. Eugene M. Zuckert, Secretary of the Ari Force will be in the reviewing stand at the drop zone. The planes will return in formation to O'Hare at approximately 3:30 in the afternoon.

On display will be the KC-135 Boeing Jet Tanker; B-47 medium bomber; F-89, F-101 and F-106 jet fighters; T-33 jet trainer; RF-84F reconnaissance fighter; KC-97 tanker; C-119 cargo carrier; Army L-20, L-23 and L-19 trainers; and the H-21 Army helicopter. Highlighting the aircraft display will be a Bomarc long range missile interceptor which is a part of the Chicagoland first line of air defense.

Open House at O'Hare will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Refreshments will be available and admission is free. (WUS

How many services rendered?
Many bereaved families are surprised to learn of the many thoughtful services (approximately 70) we render in relation to every funeral.
We stand ready to help in everything from selection of acknowledgement cards to securing duplicate death certificates — everything to relieve the family burden in time of sorrow.

"I REMEMBER" BY The Old Timers

From Mrs. Beatrice Oliver, Minneapolis, Minnesota: I remember the most precious of all Easter baskets.

My family had a very hard winter, eight children and a sick father had made the rare treat of candy unknown.

My brothers, then 8 and 9, and myself, at 10, would not let the great thrill of Easter baskets be left out of the life of the younger children. In school, with the help of our teacher, we made paper baskets.

Now, the problem of filling them came up. We started walking up and down the main road, looking for pop and beer bottles tossed out by motorists. After a week of such activity, we had enough bottles to sell at the country store for one dollar.

Oh, how proud we were when we marched into the dime store with our dollar. We needed treats for ten persons, as we wanted Mom and Dad to share our pleasure.

After much looking and thinking, we decided on a five cent bunny and five penny candies each.

Very carefully, we carried this treasure home. That evening, when the little ones were asleep, we got out the homemade baskets and put them on the table, placing inside the candy we had worked so hard to acquire.

No fancy Easter baskets will ever be as beautiful as those were in our eyes.

And, I am also sure, few baskets ever brought more joy to the hearts of youngsters on Easter morning.

Q. When approaching a revolving door with a woman, does the man enter first so as to push the door for the woman, or should he allow her to precede him?

A. He allows the woman to precede him and, in fact, he is better able to control the revolving door if she does go first.

Guidance

"Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it." Psalm 127:1

EVERY year the country observes a National Family Week, the purpose of which is to focus attention on the need to strengthen American family life.

We use the above quotation to illustrate our family unity and strength.

Without religious guidance in the family we can not have a Christian society and, without a Christian society, we have a gang of monsters roaming the streets.

Children learn and develop their pattern of behavior from parents and for this reason parents must show them the way.

Parents must take their children by the hand and walk into church with them. This Sunday attend the church of your choice; attend it with your entire family.
